CATTLE ON HIGHWAYS

Driving down the highway one day last week cattle were observed at a distance ahead dribbling across the road. The source of the road was obscure to the view and one of the drivers of the car, who was driving at a slow pace, was told that the animals were on the road. The driver of the car, who was driving at a slow pace, was told that the animals were on the road. The driver of the car, who was driving at a slow pace, was told that the animals were on the road.

GETTING OUT A PAPER

Getting out a weekly newspaper is no picnic. If you print jokes, folks say we are silly; if we say we are too serious, if we say we lack variety; if we publish things from other papers, they say we are too much like the rest; if we do not print anything, they say we are too much like the rest; if we do not print anything, they say we are too much like the rest.

CORRESPONDENCE

Dear Sirs:—
On the front page of your issue of October 7th, there appeared an article entitled "What Makes Brinkley". It closed with a question addressed to intelligent citizens which is worthy of the consideration of all.

May we be permitted to pass on, as a suggestive answer, the method of the young men in an Ontario community who decided to face this "social tyranny" of the Brinkley. They decided to face it by one, and appears to us, largely for one reason: viz. the wearing upon the label of the road is, happily, the badge of an outward and visible sign of a well-thought-out decision based upon scientific knowledge, intelligent thinking, and self-respect. This badge signifies that the wearer is prepared to refrain from "putting into his mouth anything which he does not first make away his brain."

It is not to be applied to the person who is not prepared to make adequate knowledge of the facts involved in the exercise of intelligent thinking. The liquor problem is still with us. WHY?

W.C.C.U.
Mrs. C. H. Catherine Dayoff,
Press Secretary.

THE EDUCATION THAT IS NEEDED

Humane education is as wide as the horizon of the human mind. It is not a matter of mere knowledge, but of the application of that knowledge to the betterment of the human race. It is the education that is needed in the world today. It is the education that is needed in the world today. It is the education that is needed in the world today.

HOW TO VIEW CONVENTION PROCESSION

Enquiries are reported by many agents of the Canadian National Railway System with regard to travel facilities across the country, resulting in the coronation procession of His Majesty King Edward VIII, according to C. W. Johnston, Passenger Traffic Manager of the National System. Advance bookings for rail and steamship accommodations are already being made at Canadian National offices.

CANADA INCREASING TOURIST BUSINESS

"An interesting example of the importance of the tourist and convention business to Canada is shown by the fact that in nine of the principal cities across the country, resulting in all a total of 629 conventions, the total revenue accruing to business in the cities concerned is estimated at approximately $21,000,000 during last year," stated C. K. Howard, manager of the Tourist and Convention Bureau of the Canadian National Railway.
