R. Smith. Payment was later at the home of Mrs. Road in the morning, when they were welcomed by Mrs. Barber, assisted by Mrs. Hayes.

In the dining room, say with satsuma, Mrs. J. R. Smith, Mrs. Vannatter poured tea, and Mrs. Dan, Miss Mary Lawson, Mrs. P. J. Macdonald, Mrs. W. G. O. Bennett, and Mrs. J. R. Smith assisted in looking after the guests.

The Local Council takes this opportunity to thank to all the ladies who contributed to the success of this event, and particularly Mrs. Road Barber for having so graciously opened her home for the occasion.

Steve: "I hear you're singing in the choir now."

Charles: "Yes. The other day I sang 'May Not This Way Again' to the satisfaction of the audience."

Activities of Georgetown Young People's Societies

With over 150 young people taking part in various church organizations each week in Georgetown, we have been asked to chronicle the events at these meetings each week. Reports from the various churches should be in our office not later than Tuesday noon.

Knox Church Guild
The regular meeting of Knox Presbyterian Guild was held on Monday evening, Nov. 9th, with the President, Mrs. Gordon Martin in the chair. After the opening exercises and various items of business discussed the devotional part was then taken by the members. A special offering was given by Janet Henderson, followed by a vocal solo by Jack MacLaren. A very interesting address was given by Rev. Mr. Baxter, his topic being "Two Ways." An instrumental was then played by Jessie McDonald, after which the meeting closed with the singing of God Save the King and the Lord's prayer in unison.

St. George's A.Y.P.A.
St. George's branch of the A.Y.P.A. held a very instructive and entertaining meeting in the church basement last evening. The meeting opened with the reading of a letter from the President in the chair and nineteen members present. After prayer, the business reading, a letter from the West Deacons' Local Council, inviting the branch to attend the Council meeting at Port Credit, was read. During the business period it was decided that the society should repair the church prayer books at the next meeting set aside for work.

As the program for the evening was to be of a literary nature, the program consisted of a reading of "The Life of the poet Thompson." Impassioned readings of four poems, namely: Peggy Adams, Mrs. Walker, Horace Hurley and Bill Miller. The subject being: "Resolved" that moving pictures are more injurious than helpful. After being allowed ten minutes to private letters the debate was opened. Both sides gave some very good points, but the decision of the judges was in favor of the affirmative team which was composed of Peggy Adams and Horace Hurley.

The meeting closed with the singing of a hymn and the benediction.
