DO THEY MISS ME AT HOME?

Do they miss me at home? Do they think of me? Do they have any news for me? These are the questions that are uppermost in the minds of the boys who are serving their country in the armed forces. They are thinking of home, of their families, of their friends, of their country, and they are longing to see them again.

When the boys return home, they will find that their families are waiting for them with open arms. They will find that their friends are glad to see them, and that their country is still the same. They will find that they are still loved and cherished, and that they are still the same boys that they were when they left home.

CANADIAN APPRECIATING PREMIUM BRITISH MALAYA

Canadian people are in demand in British Malaya, so much so that many people are prepared to pay a premium for the privilege of going to British Malaya. However, it is not only the money that is the attraction, but also the climate, the scenery, and the friendly people.

TOYS Games and Dolls for the Kiddies

For the little ones, there are many wonderful toys, games, and dolls. From the classic dolls to the modern electronic games, there is something for every child. These toys are not only fun, but they also help to develop the child's imagination and creativity.

OUR HOME MERCHANTS'

A law that has been hanging over our heads for some time is now being put into effect. It is the law that requires home merchants to have their goods inspected by the department of health. This law is intended to protect the public from buying inferior or unsafe goods.

MUST VOTE BY BALLOT

Municipal Clerks have been notified by the department in Toronto that in accordance with the 1936 legislative enactment, the forthcoming election of the rural public school trustees in Ontario will be held by ballot. This means that all voters who are entitled to vote at the same time and place as those for members of the Municipal Council and that registration and declaration of qualifications as set forth in the Municipal Act shall also apply for school trustee elections.

MOON'S FACE TO GET RED

According to astronomers, the moon will be able to adopt that earthy, sanguine appearance as its face reds on Sunday, December 27th, some time between 10 p.m. and midnight. In Canada, if the weather is fair, we will see its face as a copper color. The reason is an "apple" of the moon and an "apple" of the sun or other ring of the earth's shadow. From a table of astronomical data, it can be seen that the moon's shadow will be in a perfect position to attain the apple. In other words, it is a real feat of celestial sharpshootery.

MUST VOTE BY BALLOT

The actual method of the running of this new rural school trustee election machinery is to yet not quite clear and more regarding it will be learned before the time of nomination and voting. It is pointed out, however, that the new legislation will be applicable to Union School sections. This new ruling will effect Ontario, S. S. No. 7, Noval, and S. No. 11, Glen Williams.

HALTOM FLOWERS ELUOT OFFICES FOR 1937

At the annual meeting of the Haltom Flowers Association held on Saturday afternoon last, J. L. Chelmsford was elected President for a second term. It was the feeling of the meeting that the 1937 floral show should be held at the Newton Township, and already tentative plans are under way to duplicate or surpass if possible the record breaking match held on J. G. Hoyes farm near Hornby early last month. Price.

GRANDPAPA AGAINST DOO-HEAD GIFTS

"Something to be Remembered By" Old Man's Advice

He wasn't very old—not a day over ninety—but he seemed to have some definite opinions. He started in on pipes and after quite a sermon on the superiority of corn-cob over briars, he switched to Christmas.

"Why, god-damn-mighty man," he said, "they ain't a Christmas goes by I don't get some doo-heads 'n' other. I've sent only last Christmas, my daughter Elvira—the young'un, she'd be fifty-four now—gimmie a tricky bastard."

"Now them things 're alright for distant relatives. But when it comes to close kin, well, in my day, folks only give presents to 'em family. And they war for keeps, too. Year, none of your 'half-remembered' y' could give a quality 'something' y' could hold onto with a warm feelin' in yer heart. 'Samethin'' y' could remember in by."

"Nyar, I think 't modern gent's 'treats all wrong. Oh I ain't agin' in 'em knickknacks 'n' 'strangers' 'n' distant relatives, but they'd oughta cut down a bit and put what they'd save into somethin' y' well, what I mean, your feller, 'n', what's the next generation 'goin' to do for holidays? Answer me that!"

"We wouldn't answer him, but we were glad to see so many people doin' just what our young friend advised. Lavin' finer, sugar-lactin' gifts with the money they were saving an 'duty' gifts through the ads in 'The Herald'.

"Not that to be lactin' a gift must be big, 't's quality, not size, he really had in mind. Many a silver-plated mug given a baby has been kept for generations, or a cereal dish, or a toy. And grown-ups have a way of treasuring little things, too. Keep 'em in mind when you do your Christmas shopping and you can't go wrong!"

RECLINING CHEAPER

Suffolk, Pa., has an ordinance fusing a drink to who is on his feet and able to walk about. If he is too drunk to stand up, possibly "sleeping it off," the fine is only $5. This is a reason for differentiating between the stages of drunkenness, as expressed by Police Judge Clyde Jansen. The drunk who is still able to stagger about can cause plenty of trouble, the judge says, but if he is down, he cannot hurt anybody. One of the inherent results of this ordinance is that drunks who are still able to "navigate," will often be down on the approach of a policeman to save themselves, so when the firm is apprehended in court.

The policeman saw what looked to be a likely looking spot and turned to a man ploughing on the bank.

"Pushman—'s it a crime to catch fish here?"

Man—"Crime. If you catch any 'ill be a utractor."
