The Spirit of the Centennial

We celebrate this year a century of progress. We pause to com-memorate the lives and the sacrifices of the men and women of earlier days who laid the foundations of this community, and to whose courage fortitude, and vision we are indebted for the many ble-sings we enjoy in these days. We commend their loyalty to the Empire, and their sturdy patriotism, for many were United Empire Loyalists.

It is expected that this spirit of gratitude, and of remembrance will find tangible expression during the summer, and that a memorial of some kind will be erected to commemorate our recognition of the debt we owe the men and women of other days.

On Coronation Day we re-affirm our allegiance to the King and Connire, and as the celebrations follow through the summer, It is hoped that this spirit of remembrance, of gratitude, and of reverence will run through them all like a golden cord and that the real objective of the Centennial celebrations will not escape the mind of any.

We extend the heartiest of welcomes to all the old boys and girls no matter when they lived in the town, and we ask them to confimunicate with the Secretary of the Committee or the Herald, and that they spread the news of the Celebrations, and especially of the Home Week beginning on the 3rd of September. Centennial Year is a year of Auld Acquaintance, and we want it brought to mind.

The Spirit of the Centennial is the spirit of remembrance, of gratitude, of good fellowship and welcome, and of renewed faith in the old Town and Township, and in the destiny of the great Dominion and Empire of which we are so proud.

JAS. M. BALLANTINE, Chairman Centennial Committee.

MILTON

Robert Mitchell Pasken died suddenly at his home here on Monday, in his 50th year. He was born near Elora. Coming to Milton eleven years ago Mr. Fasken conducted a shoe business until recently when he retired on account of ill health. In 1912 he married Edna Jane Patmore and they celebrated their 25th anniversary last week.

John T. Hannant, who underwent a serious operation in Hamilton General Hospital on January 25th, was brought to his home here on Priday last. Mr. Hannant, we are pleased to say, is making good progress towards complete recovery. Perhaps the war preparation in Europe has something to do with it.
