Barber the beautifully decorated hall was illuminated with flood and spot lights operated by Mr. Jack Forster. This effective lighting added much to the appearance and enjoyment of the evening. The attendance was large, notwithstanding the wet weather. Excellent music was supplied by the "Sod Busters" 7-piece dance Orchestra while James Harris had charge of the floor. HISTORY OF PEEL

On a completion of a comprehensive history of Peel County covering a period of two hundred years and more, W. Perkins Bull, K.C., of Brampton, on Thursday entertained about 150 guests at his Toronto residence on Meredith Crescent. Unknown to the public, Mr. Bull, with a staff of thirty-five paid men and women, has, at an outlay said to be upward of $15,000 spent eighteen months in compiling this work, which is to be dedicated to the County of Peel.

Mr. Bull showed his guests several piles of dust-covered minute books of many organizations associated with the early days of Peel. Family Bibles, photograph albums, maps, newspaper files and photographs were included in the collection which helped to mass together much of the county's forgotten history. Dr. Geo. H. Locke, Chief Librarian, paid tribute to the work, and announced that he was arranging for a volume to be placed in every public library throughout Canada.

The thanks of all is tendered the committee, Mrs. T. Howson, Miss Prairie Maguire, Mr. J. Morgison and Mr. W. Paley for the splendid evening provided.

It was a mean thing to do hogs. Why did you break in the Parish Hall and steal the cake following the Improvement Society dance? You may get into trouble yet for the Committee have our names.

The annual meeting of Norval United Church was held on Thursday, Dec. 15th. At noon the congregation sat down to a fowl dinner in the S. S. room—a magnificent banquet—fit for the Royal York. After dinner all adjourned to the auditorium where the business of the congregation for the year was discussed with Rev. N. D. MacKinnon, minister, in the chair and Donald Hull, secretary.

The printed report of the year's work was placed in the hands of all which showed a credit balance of over $87.00 which has since been increased to over $134.00. The spirit of harmony manifested by all gives good promise for the year 1933. The meeting was closed with the Doxology.

News and Information for the Busy Farmer

Do Your Hens Lay?

A pretty reliable old formula for finding out whether or not a flock of hens is paying for the feed they eat is supplied by F. C. Elford, Dominion Poultry Husbandman. It is as simple as it is practical: Take the cost of feed per hundredweight, divide it by the cost of eggs per dozen and multiply this quotient by three. This gives you the number of eggs per day which a flock of 100 hens must lay to pay for the cost of their feed. For example: Feed is costing $1.50 per cwt. and eggs selling at 30 cents per dozen. Applying the formula the quotient is 4; this multiplied by three gives the result 12—or the number of eggs which a flock of 100 hens will have to average per day to pay for feed at that cost ratio.

Royal Essay Winners

As a follow-up to the trip of the Ontario Junior Farmers to the Royal Winter Fair, an essay contest was conducted. A prize was offered for the best essay written in each county and district, and in addition the writers of the ten best essays will receive, free of charge, a two weeks' short course at either the O.A.C. or Kemptville Agricultural School. The following were named winners: York, William Hodgson, R. R. 1 Lloydtown; Brant, Alton McAllister, Paris, R. R. 3; Middlesex, Cecil Leitch, Thorndale, R. R. 4; Oxford, Cecil Heal, Woodstock, R. R. 3; Port William, Eric Sideon, Stanley; Nipissing, Kenneth Adams, Eau Claire; Hastings, Kennath Mumby, Harold R. R. 1; Glengarry, Donald Munrob, Maxville, R. R. 1; Peterborough, Roy Dunford, Lakefield R. R. 3; Durham, Wm. S. Howson, Bailiboro R. R. 1.

Raise Your Own Living

Whether willing or not the majority of farmers are now obliged to supply more of their own needs. The following list may provide suggestions for further economy:

1. Milk a few good cows; feed recommended rations.
2. Fatten one pig for every two adult members of the family; cure the meat properly.
3. Keep at least 100 good hens, correctly housed and fed.
4. Raise a good garden; water from windmill if possible.
5. Plant only cash crops, which show little or no surplus.
6. Grow your own stock feed.
7. Butcher fat cows and steers; trade meat with neighbors.
8. Raise your own living; keep your roof tight.
9. Get down to earth and do the best you can today.
10. Drive a horse until you can afford to buy gasoline.

Demand is Growing

A recent report from the Empire Marketing Board indicates that the demand for canned vegetables in the British market is expanding rapidly. During the season just closed a number of full cargoes of canned products of field and orchard have moved directly from Canadian lake ports to the British market. The principal demand is for baked beans, peas and tomatoes while asparagus is becoming known. Other vegetables now appearing in British stores are sweet corn, green and butter beans, spinach carrots, celery, turnips, beets, onions, parsnips, potatoes, cabbage, brussels sprouts, cauliflower and artichokes.

Ontario Horticulturists Meeting in February

At a meeting of the Directors of the Ontario Horticultural Association arrangements were made for holding the annual convention of the Association in the King Edward Hotel, Toronto, on February 9th and 10th. A comprehensive program for discussion is being prepared and it is expected that a new impetus will be given horticultural activities as a result of the meetings.

A lot of good work has already been done by the Association in support of the More Beautiful Canada Campaign sponsored by the Canadian Horticultural Council. Special attention will be given during the coming year to this phase of the Association's activities.

Principles of Grading

The grading of farm products is based on the principle that it is sound business to classify live stock in such a way that the consumer will be able to recognize and purchase quality products, and that the price premiums which the consumer will pay for the better grades should be returned to the producer of them. Practice has proven the value of the theory involved in the grading principle. Grading activities have been a tremendous incentive to quality production, with resultant price benefit to producers.

Good Honey Export Market

"The volume of honey shipped through the new Ontario Honey Export Association is increasing, and last week saw the consignment of another 50,000 pounds to the overseas Money Commercial Representative," stated F. W. Hodgetts, Secretary.

The demand for Ontario honey in Great Britain is steady, and quite considerable supplies can still be disposed of, providing producers care to ship at the present time. To date some 650,000 pounds have been exported.

Canadian Cranberry Demand

For Maritime Product Supply

Reports reaching the Department to the effect that 125 carloads of cranberries are imported annually from the United States, would indicate a very definite market for home-grown berries.

The Maritimes, at present Canada's largest producer of cranberries have some ninety acres of cultivated cranberry bogs, and this year have shipped between fifteen carloads to Quebec Ontario and Manitoba.

With certain sections of this Province ideally suited to cranberry-growing, and with present demand far exceeding supply, an opportunity for increasing their revenue is open to Ontario growers.

Disease Points Cost

The average potato crop in the County of Simcoe, Ontario's leading potato growing county, is 90 bags to the acre this year.

A large number of the smaller growers who did not spray their potatoes, lost a upwards of 50 per cent. of their crop through late blight. While a loss of 30 per cent. would represent the average of those who did not spray.

Marketing of potatoes has slowed up considerably on account of the importation of Maritime potatoes, always competitors of the Ontario-grown varieties. The chief reason for the slump in potato prices this fall in face of a limited supply, is the fact that truckers dumped a large quantity of poor quality potatoes on the market when the market could least stand them.

Departmental Changes

John A. Carroll, head of the Crops Branch, will be promoted to the position of Superintendent of Fall Fairs of Ontario, succeeding J. Lockie Wilson who held the office for 38 years and is now being superannuated at the age of 70 years. Mr. Carroll has been with the Department in various capacities for the past twenty years and during the last year or so, in addition to administering the Crops Branch, has been Secretary of the Ontario Marketing Board and acting on the Agricultural Development Board. In taking over direction of Ontario's fairs, he will continue to handle the crops end of his present duties, but the marketing activities will be under direct control of W. H. Somerset, chairman of the Ontario Marketing Board.

GENERAL NEWS

Retirement of J. Lockie Wilson, as head of the Fair and Horticultural Branch of the Ontario Department was last week announced. Mr. Wilson has been a visitor to Milton on several occasions and friends here will wish many years of enjoyment in his relaxation from the strenuous duties of his department.

Although the price of wheat in Canada remains at a tragically low figure, there are certain indications that there may be an improvement in the not too distant future. It is interesting to note, for instance, that in the present crop year, so far, Canada has exported 35,000,000 bushels of wheat more than in the same period of last year.

The storehouse of J. C. Henry & Son, tanners, of Markdale, caught fire when a lantern being used by Milson Henry upset and fell in a pile of rye straw, which is used for filling horse collars. The fact that the building was of metal was instrumental in saving it.

John Scrivens, Orangeville leader of unemployed, appeared before Magistrate Falconer on a charge of obtaining money by false pretence. Found guilty he was sentenced to seven months at Burwash. A recommendation that Scrivens be deported will also be sent to the Department of Justice.

A sneak thief broke into a small shack near the Canadian National Railway station at Elora, used as an express office, and stole a number of Christmas parcels which had arrived on the evening train and were awaiting delivery. It is thought that the thief gained entrance with an axe.

At a meeting of the Master Barbers of Oakville on Thursday evening it was unanimously agreed to cut hair for persons who are in receipt of relief. This also applies to members of their immediate family. All that is necessary is to present a voucher from the welfare office. This is a generous offer on the part of the barbers and should be appreciated. The barbers also decided that they should reduce hair cutting after the new year.

At the November session of the Victoria county council opinion was divided as to the advisability of printing the list of old age pensions, says an exchange. It cost the county $138.00 to have the list printed in four papers, but several of the councillors were of the opinion that it saved the county $1,000, as it prevented people from imposing on the commission.

Bruce West and H. Hall, of Huntsville, ventured out on Hunter's Bay to rescue a loon, marooned in a small open space. They captured the bird and later liberated it in the open water on the river, where it remained a few days and finally disappeared.
