Streets Need Grader

King street and the road to the Glen as far as the cut hill Church and Charles streets and Maple Ave. are in very bad condition at the present time and need the grader to level out the many dimples. We know our Council mind prestige economy within reason, but owing to the fact that farmers and others who do their shopping in Georgetown, are strenuously complaining regarding driving cars over these streets, can't we at least have the grader run over them occasionally and make them reasonably passable? One man who does a lot of business in Georgetown said it was hell to ride over them and we almost believe he is right. We don't believe any ratepayer will kick about a little expenditure to make these main approaches to our town a little smoother for our patrons.

OBITUARY

MRS. EDWARD FINLAY

In the passing away of Margaret Rule Mossman, widow of Edward Finlay, which occurred on Saturday afternoon, May 20th, this town loses one of its well-known and highly esteemed residents. The deceased, who was in her 81st year, had been in her usual good health until Friday morning and her demise came as a great shock to a large circle of friends. Born in Edinburgh, Scotland, daughter of the late John and Christina Mossman, coming to this continent when a child. She was married in 1873 and came to Canada and lived settling in Georgetown. She was a member of Knox Presbyterian church. Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. John Allen and Mrs. George Arnold, Georgetown; Mrs. Donald Harrison, Toronto; four sons, Richard of Georgetown, John and Wallace, Toronto; Edward of Buffalo; another son Frank, predeceased her in November, 1932. Also six grandchildren and one brother, John Mossman of Holyoke, Mass. survive. The funeral was conducted on Tuesday afternoon by her pastor, Dr. Howard. Pall-bearers were two nephews, Richard and Harold Finlay, Dr. Williams, Dr. McAndrew, Mr. R. W. Cole and Mr. J. M. Moore. There were many beautiful floral tributes from relatives and friends.

LIMEHOUSE

Mr. Will Meston visited friends in Toronto over the week end.

A number of relatives and friends of Miss Kida Tarswell, attended a miscellaneous shower in Georgetown on Saturday night, given in honor of her approaching marriage which takes place early in June.

In accordance with an arrangement made by the Toronto Presbytery of the Presbyterian Church, the ministers of the different rural congregations exchanged pulpits. Rev. Mr. McPaul of Milton spoke here, while Rev. Dr. Howard took his charge in Hornby.

Mr. Geo. Adams of Toronto spent the week end at the home of Mrs. Beackhammer.

The fruit trees are in full bloom now and give promise of an abundant harvest.

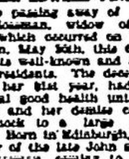
Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Ross and Mrs. A. L. Marshall and Misses of Toronto, visited Mrs. Jas. McDowell over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Law and children of Toronto spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. A. Hill.

Quite a number of members of the Women's Institute here attended the District meeting held in Acton on Monday of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Mulder and family, who moved into the little house in the 'hollow' quite recently, have gone back to their home on the Sixth Line.

We are pleased to learn that Mr. McGowan who has been quite ill, is recovering and we trust he will soon be quite well again.



SCOUT NEWS

Rev. J. W. Pedley Dies in 78th Year

NOTED UNITED CHURCH MINISTER, FORMERLY OF GEORGETOWN AND WELL-KNOWN CURLER AND BOWLER

Following several months' illness the death occurred May 24th at his residence, 43 Harbord Street, Toronto, of James W. Pedley, a minister of the United Church, who served for many years in the Congregational Church. Rev. Mr. Pedley was well-known in curling and bowling circles. He was in his 78th year.

Born in Durham, England, he came to Canada when a small boy, his father, Rev. Charles Pedley, a Congregational minister, having a charge at Cold Springs, Ont. Rev. Mr. Pedley was a graduate of McGill University and Emmanuel Congregational College, Montreal. During his ministry he served various Canadian pastorates, including Georgetown Congregational, the First Congregational Church, Vancouver, which he organized; the First Congregational Church, London, Ont., and Western Congregational Church, Maitland Avenue, Toronto, which charge he held for sixteen years.

Although Rev. Mr. Pedley retired from the active ministry in 1918, he continued to preach frequently, and in 1928 was honored in being elected President of the Toronto Conference of the United Church. At the time of his death he was a member of Simpson Avenue United Church.

Until last September, when he suffered a heart seizure, he had taken an active interest in bowling and curling. He was ever a welcome guest speaker at banquets and dinners. He was a member of the Toronto Curling Club and the Toronto Victoria Bowling Club. For many years he held the position of Skip of the Victoria Club. At the time of his death he was Chaplain of the Ontario Curling Association. Both in 1913 and 1924 he accompanied the Canadian bowling teams to England.

He was the last of seven brothers four of these rendering distinguished service in the Congregational ministry. Another brother, Frank Pedley, served as Superintendent of Indian Affairs at Ottawa, under the regime of Laurier.

Surviving are his widow, Charlotte Ellen Reed; one son, Lieut.-Col. J. H. Pedley, M.C., of Humberside, Ont., and two grandchildren, Diana and James.

The funeral service will be held tomorrow afternoon from the late residence. Interment will be at Georgetown.—Globe.

Summer Series Meeting of Women's Institute

A capacity audience was in attendance at the Library on Tuesday afternoon for the summer series meeting of the Institutes of this district. Meeting with the Georgetown branch were the branches from Ashgrove, Stewartown and Norval. In welcoming the other branches, Mrs. Hayes, President of the Georgetown branch, stressed the great advantages that could be received from such gatherings.

Mrs. Hamm of Bath, Ontario, was the speaker and divided her talk into two parts, the first being "Do's and Don'ts for Institute Workers." The splendid advice given was of value not only to Institute workers but to workers in any organization which was for the promotion of public welfare. At this time Mrs. Hamm delivered greetings from Mr. George Putman and also spoke for a few minutes on thrift. She mentioned many worth while labor saving devices, such as dish drainer, door stops, tinfoil beater, rubber kneading pads, bamboo rake and waterless cooker. Mention was also made of a course in England where the address of an English Institute could be obtained, and of the fine results of corresponding with a Branch in the Mother Country.

There was a very fine musical program which included the following: vocal solo by Mrs. Brown, Norval; duet by Mrs. Bird and Mrs. Guy Wilson of Ashgrove, accompanied by Mrs. Wright of Ashgrove; a quartettes by Mrs. T. Anderson, Mrs. A. Duncan, Mrs. A. H. Miller and Mrs. Frank Allan of Georgetown, with Mrs. Cecil Webster at the piano. The Public School pupils under Miss H. Harrison with Miss M. Gibson at the piano, rendered some very fine chorus numbers. Kale Rumsley and Marion Williamson sang the duet which won them the gold medals at the recent Musical Festival at Milton, after which Kate sang "Second Minuet," which was also a Festival test piece, and the rendering of which made Kate the proud possessor of another gold medal. At the close of the program by the school Mrs. Hayes expressed the thanks of the gathering to Miss Harrison and Miss Gibson for bringing the pupils together to give the ladies such a treat.

A number of little dancers from Miss Weyms class delighted with a Irish Jig.

At the conclusion of the musical program, Mrs. Hamm continued her talk, speaking this time on "Japanese Women." This was a most instructive address from one who has spent some time in Japan and has had the opportunity of studying these people first hand.

This talk the meeting closed by singing of "God Save the ..." the ladies spent a social ... which refreshments ... by the Georgetown ... served. Sooner or later you'll ... very ... not the kind for you, she ... much mistaken in him or you."

It was not romantic, this second proposal of hers, but it was so comfortable and safe and good.

"I'm through," she answered meakly a moment later. "I've found out, but I would have had to have that first experience to be able to appreciate you. I know now there's a big difference between love and romance. There's some love that's romance, but there's a whole lot of romance that isn't love."

"Right you are, but ours shall be both," he promised happily.

INCREASE SHOWN IN STEAMSHIP LOADINGS

The season which recently closed at Halifax has shown a considerable increase in cargoes handled by Canadian National Steamships in the Bermuda-British West Indies, Australia and New Zealand trade, according to H. A. Scott, Assistant Marine Superintendent of the Company.

"There have been notable increases in the amount of tomatoes, vegetables and citrus fruits arriving from Bermuda and the West Indies, while outward bound cargoes for Australia and New Zealand have also shown a decided upturn.

HIGH SCHOOL BOARD

SALARIES AGAIN REDUCED—INSPECTOR'S REPORT

The regular meeting of the Georgetown High School Board was held May 18th. All members being present with Mr. Grant in the chair. Minutes of last regular meeting were read and confirmed.

On motion of Mr. Markham, seconded by Mr. Barraclough the following accounts were paid:—

Wm. Huggins, rolling the school grounds	$ 1.50
Ryerson Press, books	3.80

The Board confirmed a further substantial reduction in salaries that all the teachers agreed to accept, dating from the first of May, 1932. This is the third reduction that the teachers of the Georgetown High School staff have accepted within the last year.

Following are the general remarks from Inspector A. J. Husband's report on Georgetown High School, as presented to the Board:—

The accommodations except for gymnasium and assembly hall are generally speaking, in a state of good repair, and the caretaker is keeping them in a satisfactory condition.

The basement of the Anglican Church is used during the winter for girls' physical training.

Satisfactory additions have been made to the equipment.

Ratio of pupils to teachers: 156 to 6; 25 to 1.

Division of duties among teachers—satisfactory.

Provision for teaching the courses. The organization has been planned carefully and makes for the most part, satisfactory provision for teaching the subjects selected in this school.

Discipline: Good.

Text-Books: All authorized.

Fire-drill: Practised three or four times a year.

Much of the teaching that was observed was either good or excellent.

The records in Bookkeeping are satisfactory.

The completed work in Art is satisfactory in amount and good in quality. The records in Science are, as a rule, neatly made, and satisfactory in content.

The results of the test given in Spelling and Writing indicate that the pupils are well prepared in these subjects when they enter the High School.

The attendance at this school does not vary much from year to year, and the accommodations are adequate for all its needs with the exception of the work in Physical Education. The Board has wisely made provision elsewhere for carrying on the work of the girls' classes in this subject during the winter months.

The Board has been fortunate in being able to retain the services of the Principal and Miss Fenson for quite a number of years. Their scholarship and ability as teachers have helped to keep the standard of work and achievement reasonably high for a considerable length of time. The other members of the staff are giving painstaking service both in the classrooms and in connection with activities that are incidental to the life of the school.

The boys and girls are a likable body of young people and appear, for the most part, to be interested in their studies and desirous of making progress. However, if they are to achieve the best results, their attendance at school should be as regular as possible.

The Principal is handicapped in maintaining regularity of attendance by not having a telephone in the school. For this reason, as well as for others, it seems to me that it would be wise for the Board to install one as soon as its finances will permit it.

LIONS BOYS' BAND DREW PACKED HOUSE SUNDAY NIGHT

It was a delightful program the Lions Boys' Band rendered at the Gregory Theatre last Sunday night. The advancement of the boys under the very able leadership of Mr. A. H. Perrott has been quite marked and this band is now a musical organization of which we are all proud.

Mr. H. C. McGuire was chairman of the evening and after a few well chosen and appropriate remarks, announced the program which was rendered as follows:—

Hymn—"Oh God our help in ages past"—Band.

March—"Headway"—Band.

Cornet solo—"When the moon comes over the mountain"—L. Clark.

Vocal solo—"Slumber Song," "Strawberry Fair"—Joan Hale, accompanied by Miss Gibson, Miss Harrison, tutor.

Saxaphone solo—"In the valley of the moon"—R. Weston.

Hymn—"Fight the good fight"—Band.

Cornet solo—"Silver threads among the gold"—F. Armstrong.

Waltz—Immortelles—Band.

Boy Choristers of St. George's Church under Jack Thompson—"Molet" by Thilman. "Whitney" by J. Thompson—Mrs. W. P. Bradley, accompanist.

Cornet solo—"The old refrain"—C. Carney.

Clarinet solo—"Scallin' ... Danne.

Hymn—"Oh God of ... Band.

TRAGEDY AT ACTON

BLACKSMITH TAKES OWN LIFE AFTER SERIOUSLY WOUNDING HIS WIFE

John Collins, Acton blacksmith, living on Church street, attempted to murder his wife shortly before noon on Wednesday last, then killed himself with a double-edged butcher knife. The woman is in Guelph Hospital in a critical condition from knife wounds about the body, arms and face.

According to the story pieced together by neighbors after Mrs. Collins was found, the husband had gone to work as usual that morning. Between 9 and 10 o'clock after the children had gone to school, he returned home, and a heated quarrel ensued which was heard by neighbors.

During the height of the quarrel, screams were heard and Mrs. Collins appeared at the back door, blood streaming from wounds on her breast and arms. Help came at once, she was placed in a car and taken to the Guelph General Hospital. In the meantime, Collins had dragged himself to the back door, where he died before medical aid could be brought. He had cut his throat, apparently with the same knife blade he had used on his wife.

The Collins family moved to Acton about five years ago from Guelph. Dr. McIlwain, of Acton, rendered medical assistance to Mrs. Collins, and accompanied her to Guelph.

We are told that a local hotel-wife has painted the following suggestive lines to a conspicuous place in her husband's bathroom: "He is blest who takes his daily scrub, twice blest is he who scours out the tub."

That afternoon, I put Sonny ... bed, tucked him in, and, kissing him, told him I would leave the bedroom door open. A moment later, I heard a scream. Sharp, frightened cries took me to him in a hurry. I found him with his head buried under the covers, crying terribly, and I could not comfort him.

At the same instant, I heard a loud barking and scratching, the front door flew open, and Duke came bounding up the stairs! How he ever broke away from the doctor's office we never knew! But there he was, and in a frenzy of anxiety over the safety of his little chum. Suddenly I understood! For like the soldier that he was, Duke took his stand in front of Sonny, and with his neck bristling as only a police's dog's neck can bristle, he began to growl savagely at the picture of the dark-skinned pirate, and with bared teeth and hatred in his eyes, threatened to tear the evil-looking buccaneer to pieces.

"Well, my fine fellow, if that's the way you feel about it, we'll put that brigand in chains and send him on an art gallery!" I laughed, as with Duke close at my side, I took the picture down. "We will own the pictures, but it is where Duke would rather have to look at it again. Many times as I watched Duke's golden eyes upon me, I thought, 'Do you know more about me than I know myself? Did you see something in that picture which escaped the eyes of mere men, Our Dumb Animals?'"
