

EGGS GAVE HER INDIGESTION

When this woman of 73 years found a remedy for her indigestion, it proved to be one her 70-year-old brother was already twice to keep him a perfect picture of health. She writes:—

"For years I had suffered with indigestion, and simply could not eat any eggs or potatoes. I took an aperient regularly, but still I suffered. About this year (taking a small dose of Kruschen's) now I can eat eggs and potatoes and enjoy them—without any after-trouble."

"My brother is a perfect picture of health, and a splendid advertisement for Kruschen's. He is always bright and happy. He never forgets his morning dose—either do I, now that I know the value of it. My brother is 70 years of age, and I am 73 years. We have reason to thank those valuable pills. I recommend them to all my friends."—(Mrs. M. M. M.)

The six pills in Kruschen's stimulate and tune up the bodily functions from a number of different angles. Your stomach, liver and kidneys all find the immediate benefit. You forget indigestion, headache and depression in a new feeling of physical and mental exhilaration.

GLORY OF THE DYING DAY

O glory of the dying day
That has led darkness away!
O vision splendid! meeting down
By river bank o'er tower and town;
O glory of the dying day
That led darkness away!

O silversound of far off bells
Blowing through the air
O'er river, fields and hills,
Round the crimson and the gray;
Fading softly sweetened dark,
As the dewy dusk comes down,
And the great night folds about
River, woodslands, hills and town.

O majesty of dying light!
O splendor of the gates of night!
That all a purple glory glow,
Till purple shadows fade to row,
O glory of the fading hills,
Majesty of the river's breast!
O splendor that the whole world fills,
Majesty of peaceful rest!

O glory of the dying day,
When you have finished down away,
May I be permitted to say
Like you, my river hand and town
No into silence hand and mark,
No into water-swept dark,
No into the great night,
No into the great night,
No into the great night,
No into the great night.

—(Mrs. M. M. M.)

MALWYNWAYN HAVE THRILLS AND MANY NARROW ESCAPES

Malwynwayn have their share of thrills. Sometimes only a second chance between disaster and preventing an accident. Some time ago on a railway line not far from Leeds a heavy traction engine stopped in the middle of a level crossing. The engine was off for a few freight cars, and three men, the driver, and two rail trackmen, had a frantic and terrifying struggle and a half before the rail trackmen could get the engine clear of the crossing. Had the engine hit any of the cars, disaster would certainly have occurred.

On another occasion, when a train struck a motor vehicle of some kind, the train rumbled on carrying with it several miles of telephone wires which caused a slight delay in the running of the train. In a few seconds about a mile and a half of wire was cut and the train was brought safely to a stop and the damage extinguished without loss of life.

Another thrill which occurs in the railroad world happens at times in the case of a passenger train. The train is stopped at a station and the conductor is talking to a passenger who is in a state of excitement. The conductor says to the passenger, "What is the matter?" The passenger replies, "I am in a state of excitement."

"THE BIG TRAIN" WON FAME ABROAD

Canada has a claim to having developed the greatest all round athlete ever developed anywhere. This Canadian athlete was not made in Canada but by one of the recognized sport authorities of the United States, "Joe Vila," who writes daily a feature column in the New York Times. The writer was proud to write as he did, because of an episode "expressed" by Edward Conacher, known as "The Big Train" in Canadian sport, which was to the effect that no athlete should specialize in any one sport. This year round, and keep every muscle in the body in active working condition. The lay of the hand was in Conacher's opinion, a selector.

THE HORSE'S PULLING POWER

Many people who use horses seem to know very little about the animal's anatomical structure and muscular limitations. I have personally seen drivers who blame for failure to pull successfully, when the fact was that the horse was not heavy enough to pull that any two horses could pull.

The average person overestimates a horse's strength, assuming that weight and the greater traction of four feet on the ground as compared to a man's two feet, enable the horse to pull a weight of four times his own weight. The weight is a great aid, but having four legs does not add to the animal's pulling power, except to the extent commonly supposed. Practically all the weight is done with the hind quarters; the fore legs do little more than balance the horse while the hind legs do the work. The center of weight in a horse is immediately behind the shoulder.

Many mistaken beliefs exist regarding a horse's strength. Some men can outwalk a horse, in an endurance contest, even a horse which is more from exposure than a man does using the same conditions. ### MUNICIPALITIES MAY OBEY

An important judgment was handed down in a Hamilton division court the other day which may have a far-reaching effect. It was the effect that municipalities are not under legal obligation to take care of all who are in distress because of unemployment.

It appears that a Hamilton man was deprived of relief by the city because he was a member of an unemployed club. The city was held liable for his relief. The city was held liable for his relief. The city was held liable for his relief.

The Hamilton judgment shows that municipalities are not under legal obligation to take care of all who are in distress because of unemployment. The Hamilton judgment shows that municipalities are not under legal obligation to take care of all who are in distress because of unemployment.

GOOD PRINTING is a Good Salesman

Remember when you send out a circular, pamphlet, letterhead, business card or in fact anything of Printing, that it stands for YOU. You're excused for it. If it's in bad taste, if it's fine so to speak, because it is poorly printed, your interest will be a detriment rather than a help. Printing is a good salesman—see that it is good. It does here and you will get satisfaction, eye for eye—at a fair price.
