

RESTRICTIONS ON SECURITY SALES

New regulations have recently been introduced under the Ontario Securities Act. One of the most important restrictions has to do with the restrictions placed on how to issue securities by security salesman, except when selling government or municipal bonds.

The Investment Bankers' Association of Canada (Ontario District), after carefully considering these regulations, have heartily approved of their adoption and believe that if rigidly enforced they will go a long way toward protecting the investing public.

ASSESSMENT APPEALS

probably have saved the public many millions of dollars. The Act is in the interests of the Province as a whole, and if given a fair trial and properly enforced it should go a long way toward stamping out the "by-ways" and "high-pressure" salesmen. The activities of such salesmen must be curtailed regardless of whether they are working for their own account or for others. The Securities Act is good legislation and the Department responsible for its enforcement is entitled to the support not only of the investing public but of all security dealers in Ontario.

HISTORICAL SKETCH OF UNION PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

It was during his ministry, in the year 1814, that the individual Communion Cup was introduced into the church. For a time in all congregations this innovation was looked upon with suspicion and consternation. Because people were under the wrong impression that the unity of the cup was broken. But when people realized that the unity was not in the material cup but in its contents, their opposition naturally ceased. It was a good thing in advance that the congregation look upon it introduced the individual Communion Cup and this step was taken in the ministry of Mr. Ferguson.

In November of the year 1829 Mr. Ferguson was succeeded by Rev. Walter Patterson, from Front Street, who was inducted as Normal. Mr. Patterson remained pastor until he was called to Niagara by the Niagara Presbytery in the autumn of 1831. It was during his pastorate that the Church Union Vote was introduced. Each member voted as his or her judgment and conscience dictated, but as the majority decided to remain as they were, the congregation remained Presbyterian.

Mr. Patterson was a good preacher and fearless debater. Like every Irishman he was warm in his sympathies and his pastorate ended in October, 1832. He was followed as pastor by Rev. M. Macdonald, who was inducted as Pastor on the 18th day of February, 1832, and in the Providence of God continued until he was called to the congregation. It was in the second year of this pastorate that the church was first divided into two classes, the following year that the members were installed, both as a sign of times and as a testimony to the work of God. The people had a mind to work and to grow, and the church as a result advanced in the way of the Spirit in which that work was done, and continued to do so.

This is necessarily a short and imperfect sketch of the history of the Union Church. It is what marks its honorable history, by the grace of God it has attained to what it is and what it has achieved, and by the same grace of God it shall continue to prosper. The God of our fathers shall bless our God if we serve him as faithfully as we have served him in the past, and shall continue to do so. Let us go into the future with our hearts full of the love of God, and the peace of the church of the future will be greater than that of the present.

THE MEMBERS The Session consists of the minister and the elders of the congregation. It is the distinctive feature of the Presbyterian church. It is what marks it off from every other denomination. The church cannot afford to dispense with it, and so does the propriety of the individual members of the congregation speaking, depends to a large extent upon it. It is duty to watch over and control the spiritual interests of the congregation; to care for the religious instruction of the young, including the oversight of Sabbath Schools; to determine the order of public worship, including the service of praise; to arrange for the discipline of the members; to examine and judge of the qualifications of persons seeking to be admitted; and to exercise within its district, especially when they are ill.

Widow of elders who have served in Union congregation for some time during its existence: James St. Francis, John Leslie, George Campbell, Thomas Taylor, James Blair, David Henderson, George Leslie, William Smith, William Fraser, Thomas Phillips, Alex. Stewart, R. F. Reid, William Sloan, Thos. Phillips, Jr., James Carroll, John Macdonald, Hamilton Lyons, Thos. Anderson, R. F. Leslie, Jas. F. Taylor, James Reid, Thomas Anderson, Herbert Taylor, Andrew Macdonald, Fred C. Thompson, Edward Townsend, Thomas E. Leslie, M. Y. Barreclough, Robert Field, James McKane.

BOARD OF MANAGEMENT At one time in the Union Church there was no Board of Management as we have it to-day. An account of its origin can be found in the 6th chapter of Acts. We read that the twelve called the multitude of the disciples unto them and said, it is not reason that we should leave the word of God and serve tables. Wherefore, brethren, look ye out among you seven men of honest report, full of the Holy Spirit and wisdom whom we may appoint over this business. But we will give ourselves continually to prayer and the ministry of the word. The Board of Management ceases its origin to necessity and it continues till now because of necessity.

The duties of the Board of Management have special regard to the temporal and financial interests of the congregation, more particularly it is their duty to obtain from the people contributions for the maintenance of the local church and the schemes of the church as a whole. The present Board are:—George Leslie, Jas. McKane, Frank Peitch, Walter Budge, Ben Young, J. O. Cook, Wm. H. Leslie, Geo. Leslie, P. Macdonald, Verne Thompson, K. Y. Barreclough.

THE CHORUS In the early days there was no choir and no organ. The service of praise was led by a predecessor who took up his position in front of the pulpit. The moment he started the organ to play, those were days of good congregational singing according to some of the older members by the younger members are not in a position to dispute their claim for they were not there so far as can be known. Donald McTavish was the first predecessor. Jas. Young was the next. Geo. Fraser was the third, Geo. Walker was the fourth, and Henry Mullin the fifth.

In the year 1879 the congregation decided to install an organ, and before the end of the year it functioned, and a choir was organized. The duty of the predecessor had passed. Looking back from this late day those of the early days will have been witness to the faithfulness and enthusiasm in their work that characterized these good men. Since the introduction of the organ and the organization of the choir, 18 ladies have worked as organists and 8 as choir leaders. Their names follow: Organists—Jane Fraser, Emma Townsend, Leah Williams (Holroyd), Kelly McKane (Gibson), Maggie Wilkinson (Craydon), Maude Leslie, Annie Leslie (Gibson), May McMaster, Molly Cuthbert, Gertrude Anderson, Ida McKane (Anderson), Margaret Townsend (Huntley), Margaret McKee. Choir leaders—Benjamin Walkin, Henry Mullin, Robert Mullin, Oliver McPherson, May McKane (Gibson), Leslie (Gibson), Ruth Anderson, Agnes Leslie Thompson.

THE W. M. S. This Society in its early days was called the Women's Bible and Prayer Society. As such it was organized in the year 1881 or 1882 with Mrs. Geo. Leslie as President, Miss Geo. Leslie as Secretary, and Miss E. Clewitt as Secretary.
