Dual Track and Field Meet

BRITISH OXFORD-CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITIES vs. HAMILTON OLYMPIC CLUB

Wednesday, July 19, at 3.15 p.m. D.S.T. at Hamilton Civic Stadium

The Hamilton Olympic Club for the second time is to have the pleasure of welcoming and entertaining the Oxford and Cambridge track and field teams—this time on Wednesday, July 19th, at 3.15 p.m. daylight saving time. The previous visit was in 1929, and many of the members of that team were also participants in the British Empire Games which were held in Hamilton in 1930.

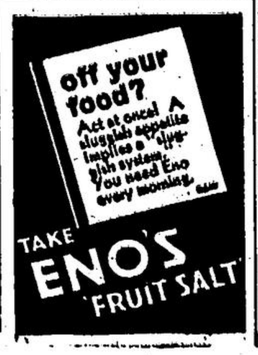
The club was formed in 1926, and since that time its athletes have competed in every important set of games held in Canada, besides a liberal representation in American games, and being exceptionally prominent as representing Canada in the Olympic Games of 1928 and 1932, and the British Empire Games in 1930. The Olympic trials in 1928 and 1932 were both held in Hamilton, under the management of the Hamilton Olympic Club, and those together with the competition with Oxford and Cambridge have been considered as most outstanding events.

The Club is proud of its achievements, in the success of its athletes and it particularly appreciates the whole-hearted support of the people of Hamilton and district.

For the meet on July 19th the admission is 25c to $1.50. Tickets may be purchased at Club headquarters, 94 King St. East, Hamilton.

The Hamilton Civic Stadium has seating for 5000, and a record crowd is expected at the low prices. The grounds will be equipped with the best loud speaking system procurable.

The dual meet events will include 100 yds., 220, 440, 880, 1 mile, 2 mile high and low hurdles, pole vault, broad jump, shot put and relay. Points are given for wins only. There will also be eight open events for men and women.



"The Ottawa Spotlight"

By Wilfrid Eggleston

Ottawa, July 11th—There hasn't been much about it in the papers, but events of the past two or three months have worked wonders behind the scenes at Ottawa and other parts of the country. For a couple of years the growing tensions and anxiety at Ottawa as the depression grew worse developed into a regular nightmare. The government never knew where the next blow would fall, nor what the next crisis would be. But now the tension is lifting.

For instance:—

1. A few months ago provincial governments in the west were at their wits end to know where to raise money for unemployment relief. They had exhausted all other possibilities and could only come to Ottawa for help. The federal government was falling away behind and rapidly reaching the end of their tether. National bankruptcy didn't seem so far away.

Now the financial district has so far improved that last week Manitoba, one of the worst stricken, was able to go out and offer $1,000,000 in debentures to pay for relief.

2. The rise in value of the Canadian dollar in U. S. funds has tremendously simplified the problem of the Canadian debtor in the United States. With adverse exchange at one time as much as 30% it was rapidly ruining certain individuals and municipalities with heavy obligations abroad, and it added to the debts of several provinces. In the current year Canada's obligations in New York funds run to about $300,000,000, counting principal and interest. With U. S. money at 20% premium this meant an extra fifty million or so added to the bill. Now there is even the possibility that before the year is out our debts in the U. S. may be settled in Canadian money at less than dollar for dollar. Already the relief in this direction has been important.

Can Use It Elsewhere

3. The federal government, urged to help out the farm exporter to the United States, who was losing heavily from adverse exchange, voted last session some $18,000,000 to pay the difference between $4.80 per pound and what the shipper got. Now it looks as though the government will be able to use that sum elsewhere, and heaven knows there are plenty of other places where it will be useful.

4. There was a time, not so long ago, when the value of securities had tumbled so badly that insurance companies, especially those with heavy investments in common stocks, were in difficulty showing assets equal to liabilities. Not that there was any real bankruptcy, but balance sheets looked bad, and the public was losing confidence. The recent rise in the value of securities has cured all that. The Government is relieved, because it would probably have had to come to the rescue of any company in trouble.

The same was true to some extent of Canadian banks. As the depression developed, some of their assets got frozen in. Now they are getting thawed out again, and the possibility of a dangerous 'run' is apparently over.

EFFECTS OF AGRICULTURAL METHODS ON GENERAL PROSPERITY

On the 4th of July, Mr. A. O. M. Bruyns delivered the third address of his lecture course before the Farmers' Study and Debating Society.

Every social law, every raise in wages and salaries beyond the natural level, means that the farmer will have to pay more and more bushels of wheat for his necessities of life.

The result are the simplifying of farm operations. When one farmer simplifies his operations, it does not matter very much, but when all the farmers of the world, 180% of the total world population, are forced to do this, it means a crisis. Speakers explain the enormous but unrecognized difference in purchasing power per acre of land under the system of extensive and the one of extensive farming. Also the land value is of the greatest importance. Canadian land from Atlantic to Pacific at present has no economic value, where it could have a value of ten thousand million dollars as a conservative estimate.

In a harmonious economic system a farm is as current as a bank note. Land value, therefore, may be of greater importance than the whole gold question. According to Canadian statistics the loss in Canadian land values from 1921 - 1931 was 160 million dollars annually, and, where the Canadian soil fertility valued at 25 cents per bushel of wheat, is given away to foreign countries, it seems very doubtful, whether Canada with her enormous grain export really ever had a favourable trade balance at all.

The word of this system of agriculture, forced on the farmers, is that Canada's soil fertility is actually stolen from unborn Canadians. If economic conditions in Canada would be such, that the farmers, instead of being forced to simplify farm operations, could step up only a little bit on the ladder of intensity it would mean vacant jobs for about 500,000 men.

It would be a national calamity when farmers earned too much, as compared with industry. Our present calamity, caused by farmers earning too little, also breaks the equilibrium But the happy medium is reached when the economic circumstances are such that they parallel and force the farmer to slowly improve his land. When this happy medium is reached unemployment and depression are an impossibility.

It is remarkable that in an agricultural country, like ours, nothing is known about this subject. It seems, concluded Mr. Bruyns, urgent and vital for Canada's future to study this question in every agricultural college in the country.

The following meeting of the society will be held after the harvest is over.
