SECOND SUMMER MEETING OF HAMILTON JOCKEY CLUB

The second summer meeting of the Hamilton Jockey Club will run from Wednesday, August 2nd to the following Wednesday, August 9th, and includes Civic Holiday, Monday, August 7th. The racing at this meeting will undoubtedly be of a high order as there is an abundance of high class performers quartered at the Hamilton Course awaiting the tingle call. Every available stall on the grounds has been allotted. In fact the demand for stabling has been so great that it has been necessary for several horsemen to secure accommodation outside. This over-crowding is due to Hamilton being the only track in Ontario running from Aug. 2nd to 9th. Each and every event should bring forth large and well matched fields and some thrilling sport will be provided.

The meeting will be under the jurisdiction of the Inc. Canadian Racing Associations and that body's officials will be in charge.

Post time for the first race each day has been set for 2.30 daylight saving time.

"The Ottawa Spotlight"

By Wilfrid Eggleston

Ottawa, August 2nd—Amos 'n' Andy, the famous negro comedians of the air, ran foul of the Canadians authorities by some remarks they made during a broadcast on July 4th in which they cast reflection on the British Empire, according to the views of many Canadians who were listening in, and protested to the Canadian Radio Commission.

Before the program was sent out over Canadian stations, an apology was asked from the company which sponsors the nightly program, and the threat was made that unless it was forthcoming they would be denied Canadian broadcasting facilities beginning July 10th.

At the last minute the sponsor company came to terms with Thomas Maher, radio commissioner, who was in New York at the time. It was agreed that when the pair of entertainers made a personal appearance in Toronto, which would be broadcast, they would make suitable amends. Hector Charlesworth, commission chairman, personally looked over the script of the proposed apology to make sure it was all right.

The Real Thing

So much "return of prosperity" ballyhoo has been broadcast that critical readers have come to examine closely all reports of a rosy nature which come out from time to time. Reports of increased employment this spring did not mean much to those in the know, because they were seasonal gains and were less than normal; in fact the employment curve in Canada, corrected for seasonal change, fell steadily from Jan. 1st to June 1st.

But at last we have an upturn "as is an upturn." The July employment returns, which became available in Ottawa last week-end, showed the best real gain, with one possible exception, since the depression began. In fact, in Quebec, Ontario and British Columbia, the advance in employment on July 1st was greater than on the same date in any previous year since the record began to be kept.

The employment gains of the past three months gave nearly 60,000 Canadian jobs, as reported by the 8,132 large employers of labor who report to the federal government every month.

This is a substantial improvement. Just the same, to keep level-headed about it, we shall have to add another 300,000 to the army of returning employees before their levels are approached. If the gains of the last three months could be projected another twelve months forward, without any loss this fall from seasonal hostility, then, but not till then, would conditions approaching a prosperity normal be attained.

Forty New Canadian Plants

In the first half of the current year, 25 U. S. branch plants were established in Canada, four British branches and 40 new factories of Canadian origin started. Eight of the Canadian plants were for food products, eight for wood and paper, five for iron and steel goods, four for shoes and slippers, five for chemicals, three for oils, and the others for varied productions.

The cost of living continues to fall and has now reached the lowest point in many years. With basic food commodities rising, the food index is going up, but declining rents so far have offset the gains in food prices.

British exporters are becoming critical of the Canadian Tariff Board. They are commenting on its slowness and some of them are charging that Canada hasn't lived up to Imperial Conference agreements. At that time Canada undertook to give British manufacturers every opportunity to appeal against tariffs on goods which in their opinion were prohibitive and gave British exporters no opportunity in the Canadian market. The Canadian tariff board has replied, blaming British industrial firms for the delays. Some critics in Britain are saying that the Dominions so far have been getting all the benefits from the Ottawa pacts. Recent figures published here certainly show that exports of Canadian produce to Britain have certainly gained very much more than British exports to Canada.

October 19th is reported as the date for the by-election at Haldimand-Madawaska, Mackenzie and Yamaska. Lively fights are expected in the last two, with three candidates in Yamaska and four in the Saskatchewan riding.

MILTON

Hiram Tuck left on Monday morning last for Chicago, Ill., where he will spend the next two weeks visiting relatives and friends. While there he will attend the World's Fair.

Henry Whincup of Brantford, a former resident of Milton, called on Mayor Dyer and other friends here last Saturday afternoon. Mr. Whincup is ninety-one years old and is still enjoying good health and can read ordinary print without glasses. He still has a warm spot in his heart for Milton.

Mr. and Mrs. James Brown, of Toronto, Miss Ada Lucas, Dundas, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Mapes and daughter Joyce of Milton, have returned from an enjoyable motor trip to Montreal, Albany and Buffalo, N. Y.

Melville Robinson, late of the Milton public school teaching staff, has been appointed teacher of the school in S. S. No. 1, Nassagaweya Township.

Struck by an eastbound Canadian Pacific freight train on the First Line crossing just west of Milton a delivery truck owned by S. D. Perrin Biscuit Co., of Hamilton and driven by Geo. Stonehouse, was hit around 12.30 on Monday last. The engine struck the rear of the truck and almost demolished it. The driver escaped serious injury but is suffering from shock. Stonehouse states he did not hear the train whistle and because of the high bank did not see it until he was on the tracks. This is considered a dangerous crossing, and there have been several fatal accidents at that point.—Champion.

LORNE RIFLES WILL GO TO NIAGARA

The Lorne Rifles (Scottish) will be going to the Niagara-on-the-Lake camp for the civic holiday week-end. The regimental band from Georgetown will go with them.

We believe the plans are to embark at Oakville harbor and go direct by boat. That will be on Friday evening and the return will be on Monday evening, returning by the harbor. The regiment is made up of companies at Oakville, Burlington, Milton and Georgetown.—Star, Oakville.

BASEBALL

GEORGETOWN TAKE MILTON BY A 14 to 11 SCORE

Georgetown won their fifth straight game on Saturday last when they defeated Milton by the score of 14 to 11. There was a large crowd on hand and they were certainly joyful to see the boys break the "jinx" that Milton had over them for the last few years. It wasn't the best game of the season by any means, but it was a win and that's really what pleases the home-town fans, especially when these two teams meet and so near the play-off.

This win for Georgetown eliminates Acton completely from a play-off position, because if they won their two remaining games from Oakville, and Georgetown dropped two to Milton, Acton and Georgetown would have been tied for second place. However, the locals upset Acton's hopes by beating the County town boys last Saturday, and it will be Milton and Georgetown for the play-off, which in turn probably start the middle of next week.

The game provided plenty of thrills for the spectators, there being plenty of hits and runs, and some daring base-running. Hepburn led the attack for Georgetown, smashing out a triple and three singles during the afternoon, in fact the whole team had a field day with the bat, collecting a total of 20 hits. Milton were a close second though, having 19 hits, three being for extra bases.

Two runs were scored in the first inning on a walk to Middleton and hits by Beamish and Hepburn, while the visitors had to wait until the third for their first tally. In the fourth the locals added 4 more runs on 3 singles, 2 doubles and a triple, and at this stage the Milton pitcher had enough and was replaced by Telfer who was touched for 4 more runs in the fifth, one in the sixth and three in the seventh; making a total of 14. "Pat" Wallace took up the pitching duties for Georgetown and got along fine until the seventh, allowing but 4 runs up till then. He injured his side some way in the inning and had to call on McNally to finish the game, but Milton soon got to him and by the time the ninth inning rolled around they had moved their total up to 11 runs.

There is only one more league game to be scheduled for these teams and it will be played in Milton this Saturday. So watch for the play-off dates and come out and see if we can't bring the championship to Georgetown this year.

Following is the summary:—

Georgetown—

	R.	H.	E.
	2 0 0 4 4 1 3 0 x	14	20	2
Milton —	0 0 1 1 2 1 3 0 3	11	19	3

Three base hits—M. Clement, Hepburn.

Two base hits—McMann, Beamiont, Telfer 2.

Struck-out by Wallace 8, by McNally 2, by Clement 4, by Telfer 1.

First base on balls—Georgetown 4, Milton 8.

Left on bases—Georgetown 9, Milton 9.

NOTES

On coming through Acton on Sunday last we noticed a smoke in the direction of the Park and thought maybe the boys were burning their uniforms.

• • •

Well Oakville had to take the cellar position in the league.

• • •

We wonder who will be champions this year? Georgetown we hope.

• • •

Milton didn't look like last year's champs on Saturday. But we admit they can play better ball. So can Georgetown.

• • •

Georgetown seemed to be Acton's only draw-back from getting into the play-offs. But they didn't need to take it out on Oakville. Did someone say the score in that game was 36 to 7

• • •

Go into the play-offs boys and play the game—"For it matters not whether you win or lose, it's how you have played the game."

KENNETH M. LANGDON,
Solicitor for S. J. McMaster, Dominion Building, Toronto, Administrator.

CORRESPONDENCE

Dear Mr. Editor:—

This letter is an appeal to the citizens of Georgetown for their co-operation in cutting Public School costs.

For the past few years it has been necessary for the School Board to engage nine teachers for our Public School; we used to get along with eight teachers. The additional teacher was necessary mainly because of the increase in the number of children under six years of age commencing school. In our opinion, and in the opinion of our teaching staff, five years is too early an age at which to send a child to school. Nothing is gained by starting a child that young. The records of our school, and of other schools, show that practically all who start at that age have to repeat the work in the following year. They may be moved to a different classroom but they still are repeating the work of the previous year.

We respectfully ask parents of five year old children not to send these children to school until they have reached six years of age. If the parents will co-operate with us in this matter, we will be able to save real money for the tax-payers.

One of our teachers—who taught one of our primary classes—has resigned to complete her Normal course. It is not our intention to replace her until general conditions improve. The remaining eight teachers can carry on, provided children are kept at home until they are six years old. This will mean a direct cash saving of about nine hundred dollars from this teacher's salary in addition to the general reduction in the salaries of the remaining teachers.

Again we ask the parents of Georgetown not to ask admission to the Public School for any child under six years of age.

Yours respectfully,
Georgetown Public School Board
John D. Kelly, Chairman.

TO FORM C.C.F. CLUB IN TOWN

Enthusiasts of Georgetown C.C.F. held a meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Maclaren last Thursday evening, to arrange organization work for the town. About 30 persons were present.

After the C.C.F. manifesto had been read by Mr. Maclaren and discussed by the gathering, it was decided to hold another meeting in three weeks to organize the club, and temporarily a committee of six was appointed to do the groundwork for the organization. Those forming the committee are: James Masterson, Norman Brown, J. Harlow, W. Hughes, C. Fulton and A. Maclaren, chairman.

"During the winter the club would meet and take the points of the C.C.F. platform one by one for a thorough study of their meaning and significance," said Mr. Maclaren.

It is expected to have Mr. Woodsworth to speak at a meeting early in September.

Used Her Married Title

The motor-bus was proceeding, in a rather jerky manner when a young woman passenger said: "What's wrong with the car?"

"The engine misses," replied the chauffeur.

The young woman smiled. "How did you know I was married," she asked.

"How are things goin' on the old place?" asked the neighbor.

"Better," answered Farmer Cornstassel. "My boy Josh is goin' to be a great help."

"Does he know anything about farming?"

"No, but he is in line for a government job and will be able to pay board."

—Wall over $1,136,500 is expended annually in the operation of the Canadian National Exhibition at Toronto. Dates this year August 26th to Sept. 9th.

NEWS FIRM GUILTY

A decision of significance to all news dealers, was given in England recently, when the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada was awarded damages of $1,500 pounds, against Smith's & Son, well known news agents of London. The case was based on the distribution of a periodical containing material which was considered libellous by the Sun Life. The dealers distributed an issue of the "Only Midweek," a financial paper, which contained an article attacking the Sun Life. The Smith & Son Agency is one of the largest in the world, and it was in vain that it attempted to claim ignorance of the articles appearing in the periodicals which it circulated. It was held responsible for libel through circulation. Judgment has already been given against the publishers of "Midweek."

This lightens still further the English libel laws and throws a heavy responsibility on newsdealers. In this country also there are very strict laws against libel, and any publication walks in fear of laying itself open to such accusation. The fact that a damaging statement may be true, does not necessarily free a publication from responsibility. But the law seems to go rather far in holding agents liable for any or every article which may appear in the thousand periodicals which pass through their hands.

The public quite frequently fails to realize that the "moderate" tone of the majority of newspapers, is the outcome of the desire to avoid the ruinous expense and unpleasantness of law courts. The law damning and governing libel, may on occasion result in the suppressing of facts which should be brought into the open, but on the other hand, they also prevent the printing of much rash and irresponsible material. They put a brake on rumors and unproved or unprovable assertions and prejudices.

It would perhaps be a good thing if people generally walked in greater caution regarding libellous remarks. If everyone asked himself "Would I make that statement about so and so if I knew it would appear in print and have to be proved," he would be much more cautious and a large proportion of the world's troubles would never come into being.—Brampton Banner.

THE MANY WOES OF AN EDITOR

The following correction recently appeared in a small town paper:

"Our paper carried the notice last week that Mr. John Doe is a detective in the police force. This was a typographical error. Mr. Doe is really a detective in the police force."
