

THE GEORGETOWN HERALD

Sixty-Seventh Year of Publication

The Georgetown Herald, Wednesday Evening, September 13th, 1933.

$1.50 per Annum in Advance; $2.00 to U.S.A.

The Georgetown Herald
J. H. McDONALD
Publisher and Proprietor
Member Canadian Weekly Newspaper Association

C.N.R. Time Table

(Standard Time)
Going East

Passenger and Mail	12:30 p.m.
Passenger and Mail	1:30 p.m.
Passenger for Toronto	2:45 p.m.
Passenger for Toronto	3:45 p.m.
Passenger for Toronto	4:45 p.m.
Passenger for Toronto	5:45 p.m.
Passenger for Toronto	6:45 p.m.
Passenger for Toronto	7:45 p.m.
Passenger for Toronto	8:45 p.m.
Passenger for Toronto	9:45 p.m.
Passenger for Toronto	10:45 p.m.
Passenger for Toronto	11:45 p.m.

Going West

Passenger and Mail	6:00 a.m.
Passenger and Mail	7:00 a.m.
Passenger and Mail	8:00 a.m.
Passenger and Mail	9:00 a.m.
Passenger and Mail	10:00 a.m.
Passenger and Mail	11:00 a.m.
Passenger and Mail	12:00 p.m.
Passenger and Mail	1:00 p.m.
Passenger and Mail	2:00 p.m.
Passenger and Mail	3:00 p.m.
Passenger and Mail	4:00 p.m.
Passenger and Mail	5:00 p.m.
Passenger and Mail	6:00 p.m.
Passenger and Mail	7:00 p.m.
Passenger and Mail	8:00 p.m.
Passenger and Mail	9:00 p.m.
Passenger and Mail	10:00 p.m.
Passenger and Mail	11:00 p.m.

TRAVEL BUS

Summer Schedule

EFFORTS JUNE 26, 1933

From	To
12:30 p.m.	6:15 p.m.
1:30 p.m.	7:15 p.m.
2:30 p.m.	8:15 p.m.
3:30 p.m.	9:15 p.m.
4:30 p.m.	10:15 p.m.
5:30 p.m.	11:15 p.m.
6:30 p.m.	12:15 p.m.
7:30 p.m.	1:15 p.m.
8:30 p.m.	2:15 p.m.
9:30 p.m.	3:15 p.m.
10:30 p.m.	4:15 p.m.
11:30 p.m.	5:15 p.m.

Sundays and Holidays only.
EASTERN STANDARD TIME

ARROW

DIRECTORY

LE ROY BAIN
Barber and Beautician
Georgetown, Ontario
Office—Gregory Theatre Bldg., 1211 St.

CLARENCE E. WIGGINS
Barber, Hairdresser, Beauty Public
Office: 14 Union St.
PHONE 5750 BRAMPTON, Ont.

GRAHAM, GRAHAM and BOWYEN
Barbers, Hairdressers, Beauty Public
Office: 14 Union St.
E. G. Graham, G. M. Graham, C. E. Bowyer

WENDY H. LANGDON
Barber, Hairdresser, Beauty Public
Office: 14 Union St.
Phone 5750

SWINBURNE & RICHARDSON
Barbers, Hairdressers, Beauty Public
Office: 14 Union St.
FRANK W. RICHARDSON, B.A.
Money to Loan

Telephone 544 Residence 546
Office—Andrews Bldg.,—Queen St.
BRAMPTON

F. E. WATSON, B.S., M.D.
Physician
Office Hours: 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.
Thursdays
Afternoons

A. M. NIELSEN
114 Year of Practice
Chiropractor
X-RAY
Drugs and Therapist
Easy Attendance
Office over Dominion Store
Georgetown, Ontario
Hours: 9 - 9 - 7:30 - 8:30 p.m.
Closed Thursday Phone 1560

FRANK PETCH
LICENSED AUCTIONEER
for the Province of Ontario and Ontario
Telephone
Office—Manhattan Bldg., Georgetown 617
Post Office—Georgetown

Monuments
POLLOCK & INGHAM
Successors to Carter & Worth
Calt, Ont.
Design on Request - Phone 5444
Repairs on Old and New
Monuments

THE
New Way
TO
Buy Coal
'Blue Coal'
and
WELSH ANTHRACITE
On Order For 1 Ton Or More
No Extra Delivery
Charges-to
STEWARTSON
GLENN WILLIAMS
STONE SCHOOL
Discount Allowed For Cash If
Not Owing A Past Account
John McDonald
PHONE 124 GEORGETOWN

Buy Quality

SALADA

"Will we take $250 for the red bull?"

Young Tom Wilson had a string of cattle at the fair. A buyer took a fancy to the red bull, but Tom was afraid to take the responsibility.

"Why not telephone your father?" the buyer suggested, and in a few moments Tom was speaking with his father at the farm.

"Will we take $250? You bet!" the old man decided, and thanked his son again for the convenience and value of the Long Distance telephone.

For 50 cents you can telephone 160 miles by means of a "Long Distance" call (minimum charge $1.50 plus the cost of long distance).

Advertise in the "Herald" It Pays

A Good Program

must be well advertised or the crowd will be no larger than if the program were poor.

GET THE Advertising Posters Tickets for your Garden Party Anniversary Sports Tournament Play

THE Georgetown Herald
"Your Local Newspaper and Print Shop"

ALL'S FOR THE HEAVY

All's for the best! That's what you want. All your feet and your face in the water. And in the midst of your dangers or fears. Trust into a child, while you strive this is meant. All's for the best! Unbiased, unfounded. Providence helps, from the east to the west. And, by both wisdom and heavy surroundings. Heaps and happy, that's all for the best.

Snookie Brought Them Together

By GENEVA COOK

"OH, WAIT! Please wait for me!" As the guard, the heavy chain in his hand, walked, Fay lit on the military down the street, the ferry. "Thank you," she said, smiling, and walked swiftly on the deck, not pausing to see the official face of the young man in uniform, who was still holding the chain, looking after her.

Historic Cape Breton

Looking Backward to the Dominion of Nova Scotia

Along the banks of the Miramichi, less than a score of miles from Sydney, Nova Scotia, the remains of a settlement which lived in Lunenburg before they came to the British, who lived in the district 100 years before the English came to settle.

WORLD'S POPULATION

Increases Yearly Although Some Countries Show Decline

There are 2,012,000,000 human beings now living in the world, according to the latest figures of the League of Nations year book.

Camel That Carried Napoleon

The camel which became famous for having carried Napoleon Bonaparte during his campaign in Italy, will go to the new Napoleonic museum, which the Baron Gouraud is completing on the island of Ain. The camel was brought back to France and when it died it was stuffed and put away in the museum of the Rue Geoffroy-Saint-Hilaire, in Paris.

WHERE HEROES SLEEP

Burial-grounds throughout the world in which are graves of saviors and soldiers, are being visited by thousands of people during the war number 15,705. According to the twentieth annual report of the International Red Cross, 1,044,000 dead, the mortality loss of the Empire during the war, including the 1,044,000, 587,119 are buried in identified graves, while 517,771 men are commemorated whose graves are unknown. The country where the largest number of British dead is thus commemorated is France, with 330,000 of whom 213,717 are identified. In Belgium there are 184,712 of whom 103,474 are unidentified. In the United States, 100,000 decreased men and women are commemorated.

SUPERSTITIOUS FISHER-FOLK

Fishermen are notoriously superstitious. The local governing council of Croner, an agreeable little township on the Norwegian coast, is respecting the superstitions of the local fishermen in regard to a weather van, depicting a large crowd, which was erected recently by the council. The fishermen say the weather has been consistently bad since the van was put up, and they have not been able to catch so many crabs and lobsters. The van, they assert, is a bird of ill omen, and they have taken it down. The van is to be taken down and a new one, depicting a fish, is to be put up. The council is, however, enough Croner's coat-of-arms has three crowns on it.

BOOKS FOR LONELY

University of Alberta Supplies Reading Matter to Men and Women in Faraway Places

Miss Jean P. Montgomery, librarian of the new branch of the University of Alberta, has a stranger library and conducts a fascinating information bureau that is most of her professional colleagues.

INDIANS COUNTED MOONS

Daughter of Missions Mohawk Tribe

Perhaps the "dark ages" were not always quite dark. At least, the Indians of the continent had their own manner of counting time.

LEATHER FROM WOOL

Remarkable Results From Experiments of Research Workers of Many New Fields

Automobile bodies, fishing boats, ladies' golfing, coats and wallpaper can now be made of wool. This is the latest achievement of scientists working for the British Wool Industries Research Association.

OPPER MINING

Cape Oro Is Planned, as Shows by Government Report

Oyster farming is now being promoted in Prince Edward Island with a view to increasing the production of shellfish in that province.

WORLD'S POPULATION

Increases Yearly Although Some Countries Show Decline

There are 2,012,000,000 human beings now living in the world, according to the latest figures of the League of Nations year book.

Camel That Carried Napoleon

The camel which became famous for having carried Napoleon Bonaparte during his campaign in Italy, will go to the new Napoleonic museum, which the Baron Gouraud is completing on the island of Ain. The camel was brought back to France and when it died it was stuffed and put away in the museum of the Rue Geoffroy-Saint-Hilaire, in Paris.

WHERE HEROES SLEEP

Burial-grounds throughout the world in which are graves of saviors and soldiers, are being visited by thousands of people during the war number 15,705. According to the twentieth annual report of the International Red Cross, 1,044,000 dead, the mortality loss of the Empire during the war, including the 1,044,000, 587,119 are buried in identified graves, while 517,771 men are commemorated whose graves are unknown. The country where the largest number of British dead is thus commemorated is France, with 330,000 of whom 213,717 are identified. In Belgium there are 184,712 of whom 103,474 are unidentified. In the United States, 100,000 decreased men and women are commemorated.

SUPERSTITIOUS FISHER-FOLK

Fishermen are notoriously superstitious. The local governing council of Croner, an agreeable little township on the Norwegian coast, is respecting the superstitions of the local fishermen in regard to a weather van, depicting a large crowd, which was erected recently by the council. The fishermen say the weather has been consistently bad since the van was put up, and they have not been able to catch so many crabs and lobsters. The van, they assert, is a bird of ill omen, and they have taken it down. The van is to be taken down and a new one, depicting a fish, is to be put up. The council is, however, enough Croner's coat-of-arms has three crowns on it.

INDIANS COUNTED MOONS

Daughter of Missions Mohawk Tribe

Perhaps the "dark ages" were not always quite dark. At least, the Indians of the continent had their own manner of counting time.

LEATHER FROM WOOL

Remarkable Results From Experiments of Research Workers of Many New Fields

Automobile bodies, fishing boats, ladies' golfing, coats and wallpaper can now be made of wool. This is the latest achievement of scientists working for the British Wool Industries Research Association.

OPPER MINING

Cape Oro Is Planned, as Shows by Government Report

Oyster farming is now being promoted in Prince Edward Island with a view to increasing the production of shellfish in that province.

WORLD'S POPULATION

Increases Yearly Although Some Countries Show Decline

There are 2,012,000,000 human beings now living in the world, according to the latest figures of the League of Nations year book.

Camel That Carried Napoleon

The camel which became famous for having carried Napoleon Bonaparte during his campaign in Italy, will go to the new Napoleonic museum, which the Baron Gouraud is completing on the island of Ain. The camel was brought back to France and when it died it was stuffed and put away in the museum of the Rue Geoffroy-Saint-Hilaire, in Paris.

WHERE HEROES SLEEP

Burial-grounds throughout the world in which are graves of saviors and soldiers, are being visited by thousands of people during the war number 15,705. According to the twentieth annual report of the International Red Cross, 1,044,000 dead, the mortality loss of the Empire during the war, including the 1,044,000, 587,119 are buried in identified graves, while 517,771 men are commemorated whose graves are unknown. The country where the largest number of British dead is thus commemorated is France, with 330,000 of whom 213,717 are identified. In Belgium there are 184,712 of whom 103,474 are unidentified. In the United States, 100,000 decreased men and women are commemorated.

SUPERSTITIOUS FISHER-FOLK

Fishermen are notoriously superstitious. The local governing council of Croner, an agreeable little township on the Norwegian coast, is respecting the superstitions of the local fishermen in regard to a weather van, depicting a large crowd, which was erected recently by the council. The fishermen say the weather has been consistently bad since the van was put up, and they have not been able to catch so many crabs and lobsters. The van, they assert, is a bird of ill omen, and they have taken it down. The van is to be taken down and a new one, depicting a fish, is to be put up. The council is, however, enough Croner's coat-of-arms has three crowns on it.

INDIANS COUNTED MOONS

Daughter of Missions Mohawk Tribe

Perhaps the "dark ages" were not always quite dark. At least, the Indians of the continent had their own manner of counting time.

LEATHER FROM WOOL

Remarkable Results From Experiments of Research Workers of Many New Fields

Automobile bodies, fishing boats, ladies' golfing, coats and wallpaper can now be made of wool. This is the latest achievement of scientists working for the British Wool Industries Research Association.

OPPER MINING

Cape Oro Is Planned, as Shows by Government Report

Oyster farming is now being promoted in Prince Edward Island with a view to increasing the production of shellfish in that province.

WORLD'S POPULATION

Increases Yearly Although Some Countries Show Decline

There are 2,012,000,000 human beings now living in the world, according to the latest figures of the League of Nations year book.

Camel That Carried Napoleon

The camel which became famous for having carried Napoleon Bonaparte during his campaign in Italy, will go to the new Napoleonic museum, which the Baron Gouraud is completing on the island of Ain. The camel was brought back to France and when it died it was stuffed and put away in the museum of the Rue Geoffroy-Saint-Hilaire, in Paris.

WHERE HEROES SLEEP

Burial-grounds throughout the world in which are graves of saviors and soldiers, are being visited by thousands of people during the war number 15,705. According to the twentieth annual report of the International Red Cross, 1,044,000 dead, the mortality loss of the Empire during the war, including the 1,044,000, 587,119 are buried in identified graves, while 517,771 men are commemorated whose graves are unknown. The country where the largest number of British dead is thus commemorated is France, with 330,000 of whom 213,717 are identified. In Belgium there are 184,712 of whom 103,474 are unidentified. In the United States, 100,000 decreased men and women are commemorated.

SUPERSTITIOUS FISHER-FOLK

Fishermen are notoriously superstitious. The local governing council of Croner, an agreeable little township on the Norwegian coast, is respecting the superstitions of the local fishermen in regard to a weather van, depicting a large crowd, which was erected recently by the council. The fishermen say the weather has been consistently bad since the van was put up, and they have not been able to catch so many crabs and lobsters. The van, they assert, is a bird of ill omen, and they have taken it down. The van is to be taken down and a new one, depicting a fish, is to be put up. The council is, however, enough Croner's coat-of-arms has three crowns on it.

INDIANS COUNTED MOONS

Daughter of Missions Mohawk Tribe

Perhaps the "dark ages" were not always quite dark. At least, the Indians of the continent had their own manner of counting time.

HOW ABIE VOTED

By AINA SILVANUAE

"All there is in the papers these days to learn to make a choice and vote," remarked Tom Brown to his wife.

"My house isn't registered; is it, Tom?" she inquired.

"I should say not, and I'm glad you don't get such ideas in your head."

"Mrs. Cartline has invited me to go to the city with the members of her club next Monday," she went on.

"Upah," grunted Tom, remembering that that was the day the woman of Woodville registered, and he sprang out to the barn.

"Poor Tom!" smiled Mrs. Brown to herself. "He's the best husband in the world, but oh, so awfully selfish!"

"Why, did you mean to go?" he asked innocently. "I wish I knew. I thought you'd give up. I've gone and let Bill Hanson take Kitty and the baby."

Mrs. Brown regarded her husband with an odd little smile.

"Oh, well," she returned suddenly, "that's all right. I thought you might be two or three days away from the city. You'll be back in time to see the election, won't you?"

"The pantry door stood partly open, the key in the lock.

"He might be in there. He listened, too—he could hear her moving about. His eye glowed with sudden realization.

"If that woman don't beat all," he muttered. "I'll bet she knows all the time what I was about. I believe I'll go right in and ferret her out."

"The woman looked startled. "The pantry," she echoed. "Why, what do you mean?" He stared at her a moment in silence.

"Somebody," he began, then stopped. "Well, I locked the pantry," he finished, rather lamely. Without stopping to say any more they entered the house together. Tom sat down in the chair by the fire, and Mrs. Brown, who was sitting in the chair by the window, threw a pair of new slippers upon his lap.

"Happy birthday," she exclaimed, "and I forgot all about it. Is that why you went to town?"

"Of course it was," laughed Abbie. "Just see what she's got with her. She started toward the pantry, and with a sudden recollection Tom rose and followed her. He drew the key from his pocket and the two stared at each other.