Body Telescopes?

Up to the invention of the NuBack Telescopic Foundation Garments all designing has been without consideration of the very obvious fact that the body expands and telescopes when sitting, stooping and in a lesser degree with every step you take.

This telescoping and expanding movement of the body has been taken into consideration at last: the NuBack Telescopic clings firmly to the upper and lower parts of the body independently, telescoping and expanding in perfect unison with any position assumed by the Wearer.
