RUSHES INTO BLAZE BOY HIT BY TIMBER

While George Brown, farmer, R. R. 2, Hornby, was sitting in Harry Roberson's general store at Hornby, Monday afternoon, his barns were blazing. The smoke was pointed out to him, but he thought it came from a train and paid little attention. When it persisted he hurried home and found his stables enveloped in flames. David Brown, 14, advanced into the blaze to rescue a pig and save a few of his father's implements. A falling timber struck him on the head and the boy found it difficult to save himself. The horses and cattle were in the fields. One barn, a cow stable, a horse stable and pig pen were razed. The loss is estimated at $3,000.—Toronto Star.

NORVAL

Considerable interest was centered in the unveiling and dedication at Camp Norval Sunday afternoon of a replica of the famous sundial erected at Lasswade, Scotland in 1797 by Sir Walter Scott, and which is still preserved after 137 years of faithful service. It bears in Greek the inscription from Holy Writ, "For the Night Cometh."

Dr. R. Sidney Woollatt officiated on behalf of the trustees of the Aura Lee Club, with Magistrate J. Edmund Jones, Robert Parker and James A. Butterworth also taking part. The prayer of dedication was offered by Rev. Leonard A. Dixon and the gift was accepted on behalf of the West End Y.M.C.A. by Walter T. Sutton, the President. Following the brief service, Wilfrid R. Hutson sang a composition by Magistrate J. Edmund Jones entitled, "In the Heart of the Wildwood," the words for which were written by Rev. Thomas Tiplady. The well-known Canadian hymn, "Work, for the Night is Coming," was also sung, and several members, including Theodore Blockley, James T. Stewart, John C. Coventry, Arthur Jenkins and William K. Ralph, gave brief accounts of famous sundials.

LIMEHOUSE

Our young men's baseball team is getting into harness again, and although they are not winning all the games, they are bagging a few of the laurels. One game was played here last Tuesday evening with St. Alban's of Acton, the return game on Wednesday night in Acton, each team winning one game away from home. Thursday night Ballinafad visited Limehouse team and won by a small margin. The return game was played at Ballinafad on Monday evening of this week.

The postponed garden party of the Presbyterian Church was held on the lawn of Mrs. Marshall on Thursday night, June 21st. Although the night was exceptionally cool there was a good crowd to enjoy the program, which consisted of the Acton Quartette, Miss Evans of Georgetown, contralto soloist; Miss Willa Price, soprano soloist; Miss C. McCullough, elocutionist; Rev. Boso (S. Gisby) tenor, and Mr. Hepburn of Glen Williams contributed several numbers on the bagpipes. Rev. G. I. Stephenson brought greeting from the United Church. Unfortunately Mr. Kelly of Hamilton was unable to be present. S. S. No. 9 won the cord of wood donated for the school receiving the largest number of votes, and also the oranges. Messrs. Wilson and Wrigglesworth of Hornby won the prize in the crokinole contest.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Lane leave this week on a two week's trip through Muskoka and Northern Ontario, where they will visit their nephew, Mr. Frank Miller, near Matheson.

Mr. James McDowell of Millarney, Man., is visiting his mother, Mrs. Jas. McDowell, sr. It is eighteen years since Mr. McDowell went West, and his many friends are glad to see him again.

Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Holmes and sons of Toronto visited Mr. and Mrs. Hill on Saturday; and Mr. and Mrs. Spicer and babe, Miss M. Hill and Raymond, and Mr. and Mrs. S. Lou and family of Toronto spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Hill.

We are sorry to learn that Mrs. Swackhamer is confined to bed again. We trust she will soon be about again.

Mrs. Hassett just recently moved into our community, was taken suddenly ill on Monday. We sincerely trust she will soon be well again.

Misses Wm. and Ralph and Miss Edwena Marshall of Toronto visited their home here Sunday.

The Women's Institute held their monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Fred Brown on Friday afternoon last. After the opening exercises Misses Gladys Packer and Jean Olven gave very complete reports on their three day visit to Macdonald Institute, Guelph, in April. Mrs. Mitchell gave the report on the district meeting of the Institute held at Ashgrove. At the close of the meeting a picnic was held in the orchard for the school children. Old and young entered and thoroughly enjoyed the races, after which the Institute ladies served lunch.

The annual meeting of the lotholders of the cemetery was held at the Presbyterian church on Wednesday evening last. Mr. James Lindsay was re-elected to the Board of Trustees. After the regular business had been transacted a committee form the Women's Institute waited upon the Board to discuss ways and means of improving the cemetery. Although nothing definite was arranged, it is hoped that in the near future these two bodies may get together and start the ball rolling to carry out some of the long looked for improvements. The work needed is a large order, but if a start is made perhaps the final outcome may be much beyond our most sanguine expectations. Surley if we all work together a great deal can be accomplished.

"The Ottawa Spotlight"

A WEEKLY REVIEW OF NATIONAL AFFAIRS

By Wilfrid Eggleston

Ottawa, June 26—Here's another of those periods so hectically filled with momentous happenings that about the best a weekly reviewer can do is to point an excited finger at some of the more sensational developments, and let it go at that.

Without any assistance from Ontario or Saskatchewan, the capital itself was quite capable last week of providing more 'copy' than a thoughtful reader could hope to digest before Dominion Day. We had the 'inflation' step, the public works program, a lot more sickening disclosures of starvation wages from Hon. Mr. Stevens and associates, further attempts to make the Central Bank a government-owned body, proposed amalgamation of the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific telegraph and express companies, and a score of other items.

Then, an echo of the tornadoes which raged in Ontario and Saskatchewan, toppling Meighen and Anderson from their thrones, invaded the House of Commons and gave it the perfervid atmosphere of a revival meeting. The Liberals have started to get 'tough,' as a result of their overwhelming victories, and they are beginning to make more trouble in the House than Mr. Speaker Black knows how to handle. They want a general election right away, they don't think Mr. Bennett has the right to introduce any more legislation—and so on. The government took these provincial things right on the chin, and at the end of last week they were still wondering what happened. The C.C.F. groups were pretty mum, too, although J. S. Woodsworth recovered sufficiently to make the bright observation that it looked as though in Canada the Conservative party was going to disappear, as the Liberal party had done in England.

That Inflation Move

To me one of the most interesting items in a most interesting week was Mr. Bennett's proposal to add another $53,000,000 to the note issue of the country without adding to the stocks of gold. It's a bit ironic, too. I remember so well how resolutely Mr. Bennett stood out against exactly the same proposal. In the fall of 1930 'Bill' Irvine, of the C.C.F., arose to suggest that the government finance its $30,000,000 public works program by printing bills. I remember so well how Premier Bennett (just elected) arose and held up hands in holy horror against the very thought. Four years pass, and Mr. Bennett himself is financing a $40,000,000 public works program in exactly the same way—by printing bills.

Of course no one needs to be alarmed about uncontrolled inflation—not yet, anyway. The fact is that on account of the rising price of gold our present 'gold coverage' is away and above what most countries consider adequate. We have, in the government vaults, about 70 millions in the yellow metal, at the old price, or $130,000,000 at the current price. Against that we have only $110,000,000 out in notes. In other words, our real gold coverage is about 90% these days, whereas the monetary committee of the World Economic Conference considered that 35% would be adequate. The issue of another $53,000,000 in notes will still leave the coverage over 50%. We are still going to have "sound money"—never fear of that.

More and Worse

The revelations of starvation wages in Quebec are sufficient to make blood boil. And to some observers at least it begins to get irritating to be warned against British or Czechoslovakian shoes, or Japanese textiles, on the ground that they have been made by sweated labor. If we are going to rail against low standards of living, let us do something about the exploitation at our own doorstep. My own impression is that all the kudos obtained by the government for its fearless exposure of these conditions is cancelled by the fact that such conditions have been permitted to exist—to some extent at least have grown up—during the present government's regime.

Most people, I think, will welcome the proposal to run the telegraph and express companies of the two railway systems under one management, in such a way as to avoid overlapping and duplication. To others it may look like the thin edge of the wedge of amalgamation of the two railway systems. The express telegraph, cooperation was urged by the Duff royal commission, which in turn stood out against joint operation of the two railway systems.

Some day the Central Bank may become a government institution: but it will not be in the life of this parliament. Hon. Ian Mackenzie made an attempt to convert it from a privately-owned to a publicly-owned institution, as the C.C.F. members had previously done, but it wouldn't go. The government refused to accept it.

STEWARTTOWN

Miss Ruby Tennant, who has been undergoing treatment at the Toronto General Hospital for the past seven months, has returned home much improved in health.

ASHGROVE

In the mid-summer Toronto Conservatory of Music examinations, Miss Elsie Neill, pupil of Mrs. R. H. Wright, passed the Junior Piano.

BALLINAFAD

Mr. Soper of Guelph is visiting his brother Mr. A. Soper, who is seriously ill.

The many friends of Mrs. H. Shortill will be pleased to learn that she is making a very satisfactory recovery from here recent accident.

Those who attended the annual Sunday School picnic at Riverside Park, Guelph, on Saturday report a very pleasant time. The weather was ideal and the surroundings were all that could be desired. Quite a number of Guelph friends joining the party and enjoyed a visit with their former acquaintances. About eighty sat down to a bountiful lunch, after which a programme of sports was heartily enjoyed.

The Young People's Society of the "White Church" Caledon paid a return visit on Monday evening to the Y.P.S. of the United Church. Both societies were well represented, as there were about a hundred present. After the opening exercises with the president, Miss Pearl McEnery in charge, the meeting was handed over to the visiting young people, who entertained the audience with an excellent programme of music and readings. Every number was heartily applauded and many encores were insisted upon. The closing number which was a musical contest in which every one took part, was a happy finish to an exceedingly well arranged programme. Refreshments were served and all are looking forward to a similar event in the near future.

CARD OF THANKS

Mr. William Connely and family desire to thank their many kind friends and neighbors for their expressions of sympathy and kindness extended to them in their recent sad bereavement of a loving wife and mother.
