CHRISTMAS BABIES

A child born during Christmas tide, lasting from Christmas Day until New Year's Day, will always be lucky, but it muss always be pricked with a holly leaf on the right leg. If it be a boy, and on the left leg if it be a girl. Should anow be on the ground at the time of its birth, the infant should be rolled in it before it is aix hours old, according to any it is six hours old, according to ancient aupentition. This custom of rolling a newly-born child in the anow was carried out by the old midwives until quite recently. In many places it is said this staky practice is indulged in surreptitiously to-day.

A lover on Christmas morning should walk to the house of his betrothed and, if the snow is on the ground, throw a snowball at her window. If there be no snow, a small pebble also ensure happiness and possibly marriage during the year.

Those who breved the incisment weather were well repaid by the belp and impiration of a very fine program. The address given by Mrs. A. O. W. Foreman of Hallingfad was full of encouragement, information and helpful suggestion. The speaker reminded us of the upnill work which every reform movement in history had met citing Jeremiah and Wuberforce as examples of steadfast adherence to their God-given conscience of the people of their time to existing evil. Avarice appetite, apathy stand in the way of temperance reform, and the greatest of these is apathy. To live in the midst of conditions demanding reform, and to do nothing about it is to bring upon ourselves the condemnation pronounced upon the cne-talent man pronounced upon the cne-talent man who "played safe" by doing simply in which every individual can help to overthrow the liquor traffic: (1) lie a total abstainer and use vote and influence against the evil. (1) Train the children, with the aim of producing a generation of dry voters. (3) he instructed, so as to be able to give a reason for the faith that is in you. (4) Pray for tact, courage, enthusiasm, remembering that that thusiasm, remembering that "luke warmness" is very definitely con-demned by Him Whom as christians

We sarve. The speaker reviewed briefly a most enlightening article in the November Tidings entitled "The Bible and the use of the Word Wins," advising every W.C.T.U. member to read, mark and inwardly digost, the information contained therein. A very pleasing feature of the afternoon was the presentation to our society by two representatives of the LTL. Misses Marjorie Evans and Theims Cripps, of twenty White Ribbon song books in token of appreciation of the herp the W.C.T.U. had rendered their Legion since its
