Hill-McNiven

A very quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized last Friday evening at the United Church parsonage, Barrie Hill, Rockwood, with Rev. G. I. Stephenson officiating, when Dorothy Mary McNiven, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. McNiven, Georgetown, became the bride of Elmer James Hill, only son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Hill, Glen Williams. The bride looked lovely in blue corded silk crepe with white accessories and corsage of lily-of-the-valley and rosebuds. She was attended by Miss Catharine McDonald, who wore pink crepe with white accessories and carried lily-of-the-valley and rosebuds. Mr. Alben North acted as best man. After the ceremony the happy couple left for a short motor trip to points west, stopping over at Woodstock where the groom's aunt, Mrs. E. Marsden, had arranged reception for them. On their return they will make their home in Glen Williams.

Cowton-Sargent

Strains of organ music played by Mrs. W. Bradley, greeted the guests as they found their seats in St. George's Anglican Church, Georgetown, Saturday afternoon, for the marriage of Dorothy Ellen Sargent and Bernard Cowton of Brampton. Tall standards of pink and white peonies made a fragrant setting in the church. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. G. O. Thompson. Miss Doris Bessey sang "O Perfect Love" during the signing of the register. Dorothy, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Sargent, was escorted to the altar on the arm of her father. Her long white silk lace dress over white tulle fell in graceful folds into a train. The fitted bodice with short sleeves had matching bolera and rhinestone ornaments. Her halo of orange blossoms and seed pearls held in place her long silk emerald tulle veil. She wore lace mittens and carried a shower bouquet of Johanna Hill roses and lily-of-the-valley. The bridesmaid was Miss Joy Polie, who wore a frock of saffron blue marquisette sheer over tulle, striped bodice and puffed sleeves, with tiny ruffle at the hem. Her matching turban hat was of the same material with shoulder length veil. Her bouquet was of tallman roses and sweet peas. The junior bridesmaid was little Margaret Sargent, the bride's youngest sister. Her frock was of brocade pale pink organdy, made on princess lines with white poked bonnet and shoes and mittens to match. She carried a basket of baby briarcliff roses and lily-of-the-valley. The best man was Mr. James Reid of Brampton. The ushers were Messrs. James Sargent, the bride's brother, and Leon Cowton, brother of the groom. A reception took place at the bride's home. Mr. and Mrs. Cowton, the groom's parents, received with Mr. and Mrs. Sargent. The latter in navy blue flowered georgette with white picture hat and white accessories. Her corsage was Richmond roses. Mrs. Cowton was charming in blue triple sheer trimmed with pink with large navy blue hat. Her corsage was of sweet peas. After the reception the bride donned a pink sharkskin suit with white flannel coat and white accessories. They left for a short motor trip, after which they will reside in Brampton.

POISON IVY MENACE TO CHILDREN, ADULTS

Spraying most practical, effective and safest method of eradication—Write Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto, for free booklet giving full details.

There is an innocent looking weed rustling happily in the June breeze in anticipation of the thousands of children and adults it is going to infect this summer—unless some person makes it his or her business to deal it a death-dealing blow—preferably by the chemical route.

Poison Ivy is the bane of summer resorts and woodland stretches and now is the time for a real clean-up. It is found along fence lines, waste places, in fact almost any place where there is no cultivation.

A menace to health, it has been the cause of a great deal of suffering, hospital and doctor's bills and has ruined many a vacation. Visitors who have suffered from Poison Ivy at a summer resort are not likely to return the following year.

How will you recognize Poison Ivy? Well! It is a low bushy perennial. The leaves are smooth and firm to leathery, coarse-toothed edges and ALWAYS IN GROUPS OF THREE. Leaves of the Virginia Creeper, for which the plant is sometimes mistaken, are in groups of five.

Chemical weed killers are easily applied and destroy all foliage and root system of poison ivy. Shallow rooted patches have been killed outright with a single application of sodium chlorate, one pound to a gallon of water. Care must be used, however, as there is a fire hazard with sodium chlorate.

Write the Crops, Seeds and Weeds Branch, Ont. Department of Agriculture, Parliament Buildings, Toronto, for valuable pamphlet on Poison Ivy, which describes how to use sodium chlorate.

This weed is labelled "noxious" under the Weed Control Act, and must be destroyed. If you know where a patch of Poison Ivy exists, notify your municipal authorities at once.
