Georgetown Baseball Team Lose and Win

TO MILTON 3 - 1 - FROM ACTON 5 - 4 OVER WEEK END - MILTON HERE MONDAY NIGHT

The Georgetown nine broke even over the week end, losing to Milton on Saturday after a hard fought tussle by a score of 3 to 1, but finishing on the big end of a 5 to 4 count in Monday's tilt with Acton Tanners. Saturday's loss was by far the best exhibition of the pastime, with Casey and Clement, backed up by airtight support, waging a mound duel. The County Towners welded the willow which hits meant runs. However, when the local were limited to two singles, both coming in the final frame accounting for their lone tally. The Milton aggregation counted their first run in the fourth on successive singles by Toletza, J. Brush and Maylor. Two more crossed the plate in the seventh. Clement opened the session with a rousing double and scored when W. Clement clouted his second hit of the day. Clement went out at second on a fielder's choice. R. Brush holding down first, allowed Casey to count on Toletza's single. Georgetown threatened in the seventh, but couldn't come through with the necessary hits. They counted their lone tally in the ninth, when Beaumont drew a pass and counted on Casey's single.

Fielding features were supplied by A. Clement when he retired Chapman in the second with a beautiful pick-up. McMann duplicated the feat in the same session on R. Brush's bid for a hit. Benham handled six difficult chances in centre field without a slip.

 Milton— 0 0 0 1 0 0 2 0 x - 3 8

Monday evening the Acton Tanners to town with expectations of duplicating their win of last week when they swamped the locals 14 - 3, but the homesters had other ideas and proceeded to pull out their fourth win of the season.

Casey opposed Gordon on the mound and while he was touched for eight hits, pitched steady ball. Georgetown collected one more off Gordon's slants. The visiting twirler, however, tossed his own game away in the seventh when he threw one past Anderson in the last inning, allowing Ritchie to scamper across with the winning run.

The locals went into the seventh with the score tied—Acton counting twice in their half when Guthrie and Morton crossed the plate. The Georgetown boys are showing plenty of fight this season and know that a ball game isn't over until the last man is retired, so used this knowledge to salt the game away.

Harry Wood was back in the game for the first time this season and showed plenty of his old fight. Cripps made a sensational catch in the third to rob McMann of a hit and doubled Beaumont at second. Bayliss made a beautiful peg to third to retire Ritchie in the fourth.

The Georgetown Baseball team are playing a good brand of baseball this year, and are deserving of better support by the fans. Milton will be the opposition here on Monday night, and the locals are out to reverse last Saturday's score. So come along out to the park and pull for Georgetown's fighting team.

Georgetown got their postponed game with Acton on Tuesday night, so that they have no postponed affairs to date. Acton, Oakville and Acton and Hespeler have postponed game; also Milton and Hespeler. The standing of the Halton County League to date is:—

Milton	P	W	L	T
Oakville	5	3	2	0
Georgetown	8	4	4	0
Acton	7	3	4	0
Hespeler	5	1	4	0

A HOLIDAY TREAT!
 Kik, of the Daville Senior Softball League in Toronto, will play an exhibition game with an All-Star Georgetown team in the park on July 1st, at 10.30 a.m. The fans are assured of a snappy brand of mush-ball, as Kik are near the top in their league, and Georgetown are rounding up a team that packs plenty of power. There is no admission charge.

IN THE MUSHBALL LEAGUE
 Acton have finally crept to the top of the league to share the position with the Georgetown Pirates. The Glen have won two of their five starts while the Businessmen seem to be on the weaker side, losing all of their five games played. During the week the Glen trimmed the Pirates 2 - 1 last Friday night in one of the best games of the season, while on Tuesday evening Pirates trounced the lowly Businessmen 25 - 8. The softballers continue to draw their quota of fans, and some rip-roaring games are staged in Reservoir Park every Tuesday and Friday evenings. Following is the league standing to date:—

Pirates	P	W	L	T
Acton	4	3	1	0
Glen	5	2	3	0
Businessmen	5	0	5	0

"The Ottawa Spotlight"

By Spectator
 Session Coming to a Close
 Ottawa, June 28th.—Spurred to increased activity by the approach of the Conservative convention, which meets on July 2nd and by the sweating heat, parliament has been rounding out its legislative programme, pushing bills through their final stages and generally cleaning up its work. The indisposition of Mr. Dunning, finance minister, caused by overwork on the budget and the excessive heat, slight though the illness appears, to be, has given a further incentive to parliamentarians to get through with their business as soon as possible. In a very few days now, according to the recent prediction of the prime minister the session will come to a close.

Debate on The Budget
 The debate on the budget always gives an opportunity for a general attack on the economic and financial policy of the government, and for those who have special theories on the solution of present day difficulties to expound their theories to the house. The speeches in the short time debate this year have criticized many features of the budget but the attacks have not been bitter. These speeches followed an amendment and a subamendment from the C.C.F. party which claimed that the government had not lived up to its pledges made in 1919 to reduce the tariff and so lower the cost of living and the cost of instruments of production. Many speeches have expressed approval of the clarity and comprehensiveness of the budget's description of Canada's financial and economic affairs, of the favorable showing of the Dominion exchequer in the past year with a deficit of only from 13 to 14 million dollars, and of the Dominion's avoidance of "pump priming" experiments such as those tried with such questionable success in the United States. But shafts of criticism, bearing in many cases the imprint of the particular economic and financial policies of the party to which the various speakers belonged, have been directed at the need of more effective protection of home markets, at the results of the trade agreement with the United States, at the (at unemployment measures) the need of monetary reform, at the huge debt structure in Canada and a number of other questions. Members in many cases have placed before their constituents the special problems of their constituencies, and others have dealt with the general economic questions facing the Dominion. The house has heard of the benefits of trade unencumbered by tariffs, while apostles of monetary reform have hammered home the need of more generous use of the country's credit to reduce our resources or the issuance of credit and currency according to the people's needs. The budget was finally approved by house by a vote of 135 to 52.

The Bank of Canada
 Going through the house and soon to become law is the bill to invest the ownership of the central bank entirely in the hands of the government. The bank was created in 1935 when the stock of the bank aggregating 100,000 shares was sold to the public at fifty dollars a share. In 1936 when the present government was in power 102,000 additional shares were issued and these were to be owned by the government establishing majority ownership in the government. Now the shares which have been owned by private individuals will be bought at $59.20 a share by the Dominion. The change has been made, as explained by the minister of finance, to put an end to continued controversy over the constitution of the bank. There would be no political complexion he stated to the bank or its policies. It would be an arm, not a department of the government. Manned as it must always be by experts in finance, the bank would build up a tradition of "high minded independence." Its officials, with independence of judgment, would be able to talk at all times on equal terms to the government and to the public. The Administration of Penitentiaries
 A commission, under the ministry of justice, will be appointed by the government to administer, control and manage the penitentiaries of Canada. The royal commission under the chairmanship of Judge Archibald, which investigated prison conditions and administration throughout the country, and which brought in a pretty scathing report, recommended the appointment of a commission of administration. The commission was to consist of three men. Their duties were to include certain other branches of administration such as remissions and tickets of leave, not under the control of the present superintendent and his three inspectors, which according to the recommendations are to be superseded. The whole prison system is in for a thorough overhauling, although it will probably take some time to put into force the general plan of reform suggested by the report.

The Railway Problem
 Whatever may be the result of investigation of the railway question by the senate committee, this inquiry has helped to make the public more fully aware of this vital question. When C.P.R. officials have supported unification as the solution, and C.N.R. officials have opposed unification and suggested compulsory cooperation, the suggestion of organized labor has been to amend the B.N.A. Act to give the federal government control of the whole transportation system as in the United Kingdom. This would of course be most difficult under our system of government. The President of the C.P.R. has recommended the appointment of a committee of independent experts to check up on the estimates of prospective savings under unification. The report of the senate committee will soon be presented to that body.
