

Try Care and Courtesy on Highway Over Holiday Week-End

Care, courtesy and common sense should be the watchword of every car driver over the holiday week-end. Every long holiday week-end usually brings its toll of accidents for the papers to report the following day. Car drivers must use extra care in driving on these week-ends in order to make our highways safe. No matter whether you are at home or away from home, if you practice care and courtesy there will be less accidents. Let it be said that Georgetown and district motorists are careful drivers and have no serious accidents to report. Here are a few DON'TS for the motorist that will help cut down on traffic accidents:— Don't pass a car at the top of the hill. You may be exasperated, following a slow truck or car up an incline, but the danger of a car coming from the opposite direction is enormous. Don't speed around a curve—centrifugal force tends to pull the car on the outside of a curve off the road and the car on the inside of the curve into the centre. Don't coast around a curve. Keep the car in gear; it gives you better control. Don't drink when you drive. You may believe that a few drinks don't make any difference to you, but here's how alcohol fools you. It makes you take chances; it slows your mental reactions; it befuddles your judgment of distances. Don't neglect your brakes. Don't out in. You may misjudge the distance of the approaching car. You may cause the other driver to crash into your car. Don't fall to signal when you are slowing down or making a turn on the road. Don't exceed the speed limit, but drive safely at all times. Don't forget the other driver deserves courtesy as well as you. HELP MAKE OUR HIGHWAYS SAFE!

News and Information For the Busy Farmer

Sugar Beet Crop Blocking and thinning the commercial crop of sugar beets proceeded rapidly throughout June, and was completed early in July. Field labour was abundant in all districts, and no crop was lost because of labour shortage. The quality of thinning was good, and the stands of beets are excellent. Eastfall was plentiful during the first 10 days of June, but was followed by two weeks of dry weather, very favourable to the planted crop. Present reports state that the crop never looked better at this time of the year. Preliminary estimates of planting indicate a crop of approximately 27,000 acres. Insect losses have been slight, and seedling diseases were responsible for only a minor acreage of loss and replanting. The crop is developing fast, with early-planted beets filling the rows with leaves. Present indications are for an exceptionally fine crop in all districts from Leamington and Windsor to London and Exeter. Insect Damage June beetle flights have attracted attention in many parts of the province, thus indicating that next year more damage than usual may be expected from their larvae, white grubs. Potato flea beetles have been very abundant on potatoes, tobacco, and to a lesser extent on tomatoes. The striped or turnip beetle caused some loss to cabbage, turnips, and radishes in many areas, although it was not nearly so abundant as the potato flea beetle. Cut-worms have been less numerous than for several years. Some damage, however, has taken place in tobacco fields in one locality in Essex and in corn fields in one locality in Middlesex. Wireworms, like cut-worms, have been scarce practically all over the province. The seed corn maggot, by attacking the seed of corn and bean, did more damage than usual and in several instances necessitated re-planting. The European corn borer moths have begun to emerge earlier than usual. Onion maggots have been much less troublesome than in 1937. The meadow leaf bug, (Miris dolabratus), a slender, brownish sucking insect nearly one-half inch long, is abundant in pastures and meadows in all the central counties. The cigar case bearer injured severely the foliage of apples in some orchards in Norfolk county in which poison was omitted in the early sprays. Aphids on fruit trees, especially on apples, have so far, been scarce in most orchards. The raspberry sawfly has been remarkably abundant, much more so than at any time during the last twenty years. Many unsprayed plantations have been almost totally defoliated by their green spiny larvae.

BALLINAFAD

There was a special service in the church Sunday evening, when Mrs. H. Caldwell, temperance secretary for Halton Presbytery, was present and gave a most interesting and instructive address. The mission Circle held their annual social evening in the community hall. The attendance was small due to the very stormy weather. A good program was given by talent from Erin and Ospringe, and others. The sympathy of the community was sincerely expressed at the funeral of the late Blake Fantatter, which took place from his home, lot 3, 7th Line Erin, on Tuesday afternoon. The deceased, who had been in poor health for some time, entered the Guelph General Hospital some weeks ago where after a battle for life, fought with patience and courage, he gradually grew weaker, passing away on Sunday, July 24th. The funeral service was conducted by his pastor, Rev. A. O. W. Foreman, assisted by a former pastor, Rev. Geo. Aitken of Guelph, and Rev. Charles Joffile of Glen Williams. The beautifully rendered duet of the hymn "Jesus Knows Thy Sorrow," by Mrs. Caldwell and Mrs. Buck, added to the solemnity of the service. The pallbearers were D. Campbell, E. Shortill, A. McHenry, R. McHenry, J. McHenry and C. Essex. Many beautiful floral tributes accompanied the remains to their last resting place in Georgetown cemetery.

SIX ONTARIO CENTRES GET BASEBALL SCHOOLS

Toronto Club Officials Will Assist Amateur Clubs Throughout Province. Continuing the effort made last year to assist in the instruction and development of young baseball players in Ontario, the Toronto Baseball Club has announced that it will conduct baseball schools this year at St. Catharines, London, Kitchener, Owen Sound, Barrie and Peterborough. Last year, the Club held a school at Maple Leaf Stadium in Toronto, but owing to the fact that a great many players were unable to make the trip to the Queen City, it was deemed advisable to go out into the Province this summer and reach as many points as possible. The places selected are regarded as central points embracing the Ontario Baseball Association. It is planned to spend two days in each place. The dates selected are: St. Catharines, August 15-16; London, August 17-18; Kitchener, August 19-20; Owen Sound, August 21-22; Barrie, August 24-25 and Peterborough, August 26-27. Clyde Engle, Dan Howley and Bert Perry of the Toronto Club will assist the amateur club officials in the instruction of the players and the operation of the school. The various amateur clubs in Ontario are co-operating in every way to make the tour a success, and it is expected that a large number of amateur players will take advantage of the opportunity to improve their knowledge of the game. There will be no tuition fee and players of all classes are eligible to attend. Preference will be given, of course, to players already registered with the O.B.A. It is planned to hold the school sessions from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. each day. Still within striking distance of a play-off berth in the International League campaign, the Maple Leafs are making great efforts to improve their position in the standing and launch a winning streak that will carry them out of the second division. They have a large number of important dates at home during the month of August, starting with the doubleheader on Civic Holiday, August 1, against Syracuse. The club in the southern end of the circuit all have to make another visit to Maple Leaf Stadium and many doubleheaders will be played. The Leafs make their final swing around the southern end starting August 4 and will be away from home until Monday, August 15th, when they play hosts to the Newark Bears. They will remain home until the end of the month with the exception of August 25, which is an open date in the schedule, and Sunday engagements in Syracuse and Montreal on August 21 and 23, respectively.

Arrangements have been perfecting arrangements among themselves to work in some sort of cooperative pool so that the work of producing and delivering the orders will be done in the most efficient way possible. Trade Pact with the United States The present word is that in September the long awaited pact with the United States will be signed. The department officials who have the negotiation with the Washington government in hand have been working diligently for months, settling points in dispute and generally arranging the details of the reciprocal bargain. It is said that lumber duties into the United States and cattle quotas were points of serious discussion but that while likely enough does not bear the stamp of absolute authenticity. It is probable that the correlated pact between the United Kingdom and the United States will be ready for signature at the same time.
