Miss Buck and her sister, Miss Margaret Buck, sailed for England via the S.S. Empress of Australia on April 23rd, 1937, to attend the coronation. Although London took up many months of her time she found time to visit the continent and tells of many interesting scenes in Paris, Italy, Austria, Hungary, Czechoslovakia, Germany, and Holland. Leaving England last October just before the heavy weather set in, Miss Buck took a boat for New Zealand via the Suez Canal, stopping at many interesting points, such as Malta, Gibraltar, Port Said, Port Oden, Ceylon, and many cities in Australia. After six months stay in the sheep station country of New Zealand she started for home by the Pacific, stopping at the Fiji Islands and visiting Honolulu for a month, thence to Vancouver, where a very enjoyable time was spent with her aunt, Mrs. Thos. Brownridge, a sister of her father's. Miss Buck reports having had a very interesting trip and would like to spend another summer in England before Miss Margaret Buck returns from there.—Champion.

THE STREAMLINED POTATO
The work of the professional plant breeder is not designed to aid the farmer alone. "Streamlining" of cars has been followed by the idea of the streamlined potato. Such a variety one of the chief goals of potato specialists everywhere.
This streamlining is the elimination of deep eyes that cause such waste during peeling. Besides being more economical, the newer shallower-eyed varieties may be peeled with greater speed.

Earliest Peach Crop in Ten Years
Consumers Advised to Purchase Before Two Late

The 1938 crop of Ontario grown peaches is now on the market in plentiful supply, the Ontario Department of Agriculture reports this week. Exceptionally warm weather of recent weeks has brought the crop on at least two weeks earlier than normal. The famous "V" varieties, Vallant, Vidette and Veteran will practically be finished next week. So early is the season, Department officials are advised that there is every reason to believe the whole crop will be marketed in approximately one week's time after the Canadian National Exhibition—a ten-year record date. Housewives normally expecting to do their preserving early in September will be disappointed this year unless supplies are arranged for immediately.
The new varieties succeeding the famous Crawford together with the Rochester variety peaches have started to move and will be in full flow over the August 20th week-end.
Supply is generally plentiful and prices are expected to go no higher. In fact prices may stiffen when the canning factory movement starts next week and diverts its usual large annual movement of approximately 6000 tons that way. This will relieve the fresh fruit market of substantial supplies that would otherwise have to be distributed to the public.
All facts considered and with quality, size and colour good, the next week is the time to enjoy Ontario grown peaches unexcelled in flavour and freshness and at reasonable prices.

Georgetown Eliminated from Group Play-offs by Oakville
Lose both Games by 7 - 4 and 7 - 2 Scores—Errors Costly to Local Team—Oakville Strong on the Bat—Milton and Oakville in Finals.

Intermediate baseball terminated for another season at the park here on Monday night, when the visiting Oakville team won the second game of the Halton County League semi-final play-off and eliminated the local club from the running.
There was a good crowd on hand for the game, and although Oakville went into the lead in the first innings, the fans never gave up hope, and thought the Georgetown team might stage a rally in any innings. However, this failed to happen and the Georgetown team are through for the season, while Oakville go into the final to meet Milton.
Following is a full and very fair account of the first game played in Oakville last Wednesday night, and which is taken from the Oakville paper:—
"Hard hitting by the local ball team, coupled with some bad errors on the part of the visitors, won for Oakville the first of the Halton county league play-offs with Georgetown, last evening. The score was 7 to 4. The game was nine innings, and moved along with sufficient swiftness to finish before darkness had a chance to intervene.
Osborne pitched a nice game for Oakville, allowing only six hits, and the other players were on their toes from start to finish. Casey pitched well for Georgetown, but the team made several bad errors, of which their opponents took full advantage. The game was Oakville's from the beginning, and from the first inning, when the local team scored three runs there was little if any uncertainty as to the outcome. The first three batters for Georgetown went out in succession. George Galbraith, first man up for Oakville, got a single, and Wilson, who followed him, got to first on an error. Lewis went to first on a fielder's choice, and Galbraith was put out running to third. Then with two men on bases, Carter stepped to the plate and sent the ball over the fence in right field for a homer, and Oakville was away to a good lead with three runs.
In the second innings Georgetown managed to score two, McManis and Ward being the ones to get to the plate. The innings was a blank for Oakville. Georgetown went out without making a run in the third, and Oakville repeated its performance of the first inning, making another three.

The fourth was a blank for the visitors, while Oakville increased its lead by a run by Wilson.
"Neither team scored in the next four innings. The visitors made some attempt to stage a last-minute rally in the ninth, and succeeded in scoring two runs, making a total of four to Oakville's seven. The teams: Georgetown—Walters, 1f; Woods, 3b; Bryden, cf; Ward, ss; Beaumont, 1b; McManis, 2b; Chaplin, rf; Casey, p; Ritchie, c.
Oakville—G. Galbraith, 3b; Wilson, 1f; Lewis, 2b; Carter, 1b; Markey, rf; Lyon, c; Hillier, ss; Ridley, cf; Osborne, p.
The second game here on Monday night shaped up much the same as the previous affair, with the score 7 - 2, and Georgetown taking the hard way of trying to win a ball game—that of coming from behind a three run lead in the first four innings. Although they managed to stage a couple of rallies that enlivened the fans and threw scare into the visiting squad, they failed to cross the plate the necessary number of times.
In the first innings, G. Galbraith struck out, Wilson singled, but went out on a fielder's choice. Lewis singled and scored on an error, and Carter also went out at second. The next innings a half saw both teams tighten up and all batters went out in order. In the first half of the third innings Oakville added another run when McDermott scored. Georgetown went out in order.
Markey for Oakville started the fireworks with a two base hit in the fourth, and scored on McDermott's hit to make the score 3 - 0. The home team's only runs came in this innings when Bryden, Ward and Beaumont made hits in a row; Chaplin struckout; Woods singled and Benham walked. Casey and Ritchie went out, but not before Bryden and Ward scored.
Oakville then finished the scoring with one run in the 7th and 8th innings and two in the ninth. Georgetown started a rally in the ninth, but it was short-lived.
Casey did the hurling for the local team, and pitched well, although he was touched for 11 hits. Don Galbraith was on the mound for the winners and only allowed the Georgetown team 4 hits.
It was a good series and although Oakville won, we wish them every success in the finals.
