Capital of the Dominion Has Returned to Normal

With War Clouds Removed Bren Gun Enquiry Now Proceeding—Trade Treaty with United States Holds Primary Place of Interest.

Ottawa, Oct. 11th.—With the war clouds removed from the sky, the capital of the Dominion has returned to normal. The pressing anxiety has vanished and the people, official or otherwise, can now avail themselves of the mildly stimulating diversion of the Bren gun enquiry. At the moment this investigation is the subject of greatest public interest in the capital. It relates to a contract made by the government with a firm in Toronto, the John Inglis Company, for the manufacture of 7,000 Bren light machine guns. The British war office also placed an order with the company for 5,000 guns. The contract was subjected to an attack in a magazine article written by Colonel Drew of Toronto. The government in view of the allegations in the article, appointed a royal commission to make a thorough probe into all phases of the contract. Its inception, its negotiation, etc. Mr. Justice Davis of the Supreme Court is the royal commissioner and the varied interests involved are represented by distinguished counsel.

A number of departmental officials have appeared before the commission and explained the course of negotiation for the manufacture of the Czechoslovakian gun in Canada from the time the department first began to be interested in the weapon. General Lafche, deputy minister of defence, gave a detailed history of the negotiations with Major Hahn of the Inglis Company and with the war office ending with the granting of an "educational" order for 5,000 guns from the British Government and the Canadian Government contract for 7,000 guns signed with the Inglis Company on March 31, 1938. The proceedings of the commission have been hampered by the difficulty in obtaining the consent from the war office of the introduction of certain documents into the inquiry, which the war office considered confidential. There has been an exchange of telegrams. The war office agreed to the production of the papers if the hearings when the documents were used were held in camera. As the object of the inquiry is to give the public full information in relation to the contract, the commission could not agree to this stipulation. However, the trouble is likely to be arranged satisfactorily very soon.

The importance of this investigation is great, as the people of Canada must be assured in these times when mankind's nerves are raw and defence means are efficiently handled by government officials. Public opinion will want to be assured that everything about contracts of munition supply are clean and above board, that the government is keeping a close check on profits if private companies are given contracts with these and other questions under investigation the people will above all want to receive assurance, even though this contract concerns only one type of weapon that is using its best efforts to secure the most effective kind of defence armament and securing it as expeditiously as possible. It is only fair to say that General Lafche's testimony affords considerable comfort in this regard. It is also to be hoped that the situation that has arisen in regard to the Bren gun contract will not have any curbing effect on future orders for munitions and armaments to be placed in Canada by the authorities in Great Britain.

Domestic political questions do not arouse much interest here just now. The public mind has not had time to adjust itself to domestic affairs with the shadow of the international crisis removed such a short time ago. Probably when the by-election time comes closer interest will revive. From an economic point of view the coming trade treaty with the United States holds a primary place of interest in the capital.

The exact terms of this treaty and those of the pact between the United States and Great Britain are still matters of pure speculation. Freer markets in the United States, however, are expected on Canadian cattle, lumber and fish. In the British market Canada through the imperial agreements enjoys a fixed preferential margin. There is a six cent margin on wheat, ten per cent on lard, $1.40 a barrel on apples, 15 per cent on cheese. There is a quota of 2,500,000 cwt. per annum on Canadian bacon and hams, and specified preferences on copper, lead, zinc, processed milk, honey, fish, timber, asbestos and other commodities. The question is the extent to which United States producers may be granted a part of these concessions. These matters will be known only when the treaties are concluded and made public. In the present stage of European crisis it is of value to consider the underlying meaning of the proposed Anglo-American pact. It has no political significance, but it is an agreement which will remove barriers to trade and point the way to closer trade cooperation among the nations of the world. It is an effort to remove economic barriers which are at least one of the potent causes of international misunderstanding and friction. For this reason Canadians are waiting the terms of the new

Thanksgiving

THANKSGIVING was generally observed throughout Ontario by all those to whom the festival particularly belongs, the farmers, the gardeners and the thousands of others in village, town and city who look to agriculture for their prosperity. All have counted their blessings and found them plentiful. Well-filled barns and silos tell of good harvests. Root and fruit crops have been excellent. Summer's bounty has not failed.

To the Giver of all blessings,
Let our voices rise in praise,
For the joys and countless mercies
He hath sent to crown our days;
For the homes of peace and plenty,
And the comfort which they bring,
For Thy love, so great, eternal,
We would thank Thee, our King.

CENTENARY SERVICES AT INGLEWOOD

PASTER AGED 85 IN PULPIT

An unusual feature of the Centenary services held at the Ingewood United Church on Oct. 9th, was the return of Rev. A. E. Baker, of Belleville, a pastor of sixty-five years ago. The eighty-five-year-old Minister conducted the special services commemorating the 100th anniversary of the founding of the church. Ancient records tell of the early Methodists of the district coming great distances through "dense gloomy forest," to attend the services in the tiny log school house, which then served as a church. The building was in use until 1840, when a rough-hewn church was constructed on the lot line east for many years known as Sitzer's Church. In 1872, a brick structure was built.

Halton Teachers' Institute Convention

The annual convention of the Halton Teachers' Institute was held in St. Luke's Memorial Hall, Burlington, on Thursday and Friday of last week. On Friday a luncheon was held at the Estabrook, when J. M. Denyes, recently retired public school inspector for Halton county, was the honored guest.

Miss C. Tanner, of Oakville, was appointed this year's president. E. W. Foster, Milton, was elected vice-president. Other officers were retained with a representative from each township and the principals of the urban schools forming the executive. Honorary presidents are J. M. Denyes and Inspector L. L. Skuce, Milton.

The institute voted $10 to the League of Nations society. During the day music appreciation was discussed by Miss Marion Fox, Milton, and reports of the O.E.A. given by Miss Marion Cullingham, S.S. No. 11, Trafalgar, and Miss Margaret B. Young, Acton.

The entire staff of Georgetown Public School attended the convention.

Current Crop Report

Halton county reports livestock in excellent condition though many farmers state that pasture conditions are below normal. There will be considerable red clover seed for sale in the Halton area. Huron County reports new seeding a promising stand both clovers and grasses. Both McIntosh and Spys are producing an above average yield in Huron, with excellent size and colour. Roots are an exceptionally good crop in Perth. A carload of Southdown rams was shipped from Brant county to the United States. Haldimand farmers have completed sowing of fall wheat and harvesting of the corn crop. Lambton reports the land dry and hard for plowing, but fall work is being rapidly completed. The winter wheat has purchased a large share of the grain crop in the Lambton area. Carloads of grapes have been shipped from Lincoln to other points in Ontario, the Maritimes and the West. There has been an excellent demand for grapes by the basket. A number of loads of finished cattle have been moving from Midland, the best price being $5.50 per cwt. Silo-filling operations have been general in Wentworth and other counties.

treaty with goodwill accompanied by a certain latitude is referred to, but "any day" is indefinite. The negotiations are, however, nearing an end.

J. M. DENYES HONORED

TEACHERS OF HALTON COUNTY LAUD VETERAN WHEN "GOOD-BY" SAID

J. M. Denyes, teacher for 40 years and public school inspector for 26, has said good-by to the inspectorate of Halton county. Department of education officials, principals and teachers meeting at Burlington last week paid tribute to the retiring inspector and his record at a banquet held there.

His personal qualities and achievements had won for Mr. Denyes the kindly feelings of everyone in the department. V. K. Greer, chief inspector of elementary schools in Ontario, told the gathering. The inspector's sense of humor and common sense were qualities which Mr. Greer hoped would be found in other inspectors in the province.

A. G. East of Burlington read an address on behalf of the teachers of Halton and a silver tray tea service and coffee table was presented to Mr. Denyes and his wife. The presentation was made by Miss Harrison of Georgetown, and Miss Bennett of Acton. Sanders, of Oakville, presented a "book of remembrance" containing the signatures of teachers who had been under Mr. Denyes. They came from many parts of Canada and as far south as Texas.

Replying, Inspector Denyes declared Halton had been first in many things relating to education. The first county meeting of trustees in Ontario was held in Halton, the first auxiliary class unit in rural one-room schools was instituted and Halton claimed the first county music festival, he said. He paid tribute to Miss Helen Pattison, Burlington, for her length of service in the teaching profession. Flowers were presented to Miss Ryan of Georgetown and Miss Currie of Oakville, who have retired.

RUGBY TEAM DEFEATED BY MIMICO 11-2

Last Tuesday, Oct. 4th, the Junior Rugby team of Georgetown High School played Mimico Junior in that town. The score was Mimico 11, G. H. 2.

Both teams being fairly evenly matched, the game was fast and clean. Mimico opened the scoring in the second quarter with a touchdown. This score came after several brilliant plunges by the Mimico team. In the third quarter, Georgetown repeatedly threw the Mimico players for losses of 10 and 20 yards. Bob Early was breaking up play after play. Henry Lorrman, big half-back for G.H.S. smeared plungers left and right. Georgetown were in a scoring position several times, but were thrown back.

Mimico scored again in the last quarter with a touchdown. Their convert was successful and the score stood 11 to 0. Bob McMenemy got the two points for town when he sneared a Mimico player behind their own goal line. This made the Blue and Red open up and the ball was kept pretty well in Mimico territory for the remainder of the game.

The team at High School this year is made up of mostly rookies, and these boys and the whole team made a very splendid showing.

Because of the cleanliness of the game, Georgetown received an invitation to return to Mimico for a game at a later date. Coaches of Mimico's junior and senior teams remarked on the cleanliness of the game.

George Gilmer suffered a fractured finger and this was the only injury. It is ironic that Gord Webster, former Georgetown boy, is one of the stars of the Mimico junior squad.

SCOTTISH HEATHER AND GLADLIOLI MARK GUEST FEWS FOR STEWART-WHITMEE WEDDING

The Baptist Church, Georgetown, was the scene of a pretty wedding on Tuesday, Oct. 4th, when Winifred Daisy Whitmee, Reg. N., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Whitmee, became the bride of William Scott Stewart, Whitby, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Stewart, Glasgow, Scotland. Rev. E. G. Baxter officiated the dual ring ceremony. Mrs. Vernon Rowe, Onawa, played the wedding music. During the signing of the register Miss Kay Ward, also of Onawa, sang "O Promise Me" by her father, who was lovely in a redingote of gold brocade silk net over satin. Her shoulder length veil of pearl sewn net fell from a caplet of baby mums and gardenia, and her bouquet by old Scottish custom contained "midst the Sweetheart roses and marguerites, a spray of Scottish heather and Grouse's claw."

Attending the bride were her sisters, Miss Constance Whitmee as maid of honor, in a gown of ice blue silk net over taffeta, and Miss Muriel Whitmee, bridesmaid, in orchid silk net over taffeta. They wore floral headresses and carried gladioli and roses. The groom was attended by Mr. Frank Whitmee, brother of the bride and usher were Mr. Clarence and Mr. Bruce Kennedy, cousin of the bride.

Tebbs of Burlington, familiarly known to radio fans as "Old Man Sunshine," was the guest speaker. Rev. Mr. Tebbs chose as his text the 25th verse of the 26th chapter of Genesis. The speaker enumerated many blessings in our religion, home life, and material goods for which we should thank God. For the many blessings bestowed upon us we should not forget the Giver of every good and perfect gift and show our gratitude to God by service for Him in home and business.

Revs. D. D. Davidson, W. G. O. Thompson and F. C. Overend, assisted in the service. Rev. G. W. Baxter was unavoidably absent. Assisting in presenting the bright program of sacred music was the Home Scots Regimental Band under the leadership of A. H. Perrott.
