SHORT COURSES OPEN AT ACTON

The Three Months Short Course in Axriculture and Home Economics opened at Acton on Tuesday of last week with 60 young men and women on the roll. According to reports, quite a number of others intend to enrol which would indicate two excellent classes for these annual courses. At the class in Agriculture, which is being held in the Knox Sunday school room, lectures on various subjects were initiated under the direction of J. A. Berry of Rutherglen and H. V. Binkley of Hamilton. On three afternoons during the week the members of the class under the direction of Agricultural Representative J. K. Whitelock, visited the farms of J. E.
