NEWS AND INFORMATION FOR THE BUSY FARMER

Dry Bean Crop

Dry bean yields are substantially better than was anticipated earlier owing to the excellent growing weather during the Fall. In Huron county a period of wet weather caused discoloration and in some cases sprouting, but in other counties the quality is for the most part good. The average yield per acre is reported at 22.9 bushels, and total production of 1,366,000 bushels, as compared with 19.3 bushels per acre and a total crop of 1,105,700 bushels in 1937. The price being paid ranges from 95 cents to $1.00 per bushel at the farm for white pea beans.

The Apple Crop

The 1938 apple crop, harvested under most favourable conditions and earlier than usual, is estimated at 831,500 barrels, or 12% higher than the 745,500 barrels harvested in 1937. An increase of 40% in the Eastern Ontario crop more than offset a 23% decline in Western Ontario. Fall demand has been particularly good in all channels of trade—domestic and export—fresh markets, and processors—with average prices holding firm and not showing the draggy conditions experienced in the fall of 1937. Most of the cold storages in Western Ontario are now filled to capacity and seasonal packing for export is well advanced. In Eastern Ontario, notwithstanding an unusually heavy movement during October for both domestic markets and export, large quantities of Starks have been packed in shredded oil paper and shipped to Montreal cold storages ear-marked for export later, as the cold storages in Eastern Ontario are filled.

Next Season's Chicks

Now that most laying flocks are housed for the winter or are soon to be housed, the next important thing to consider is next season's chick flock. Too early? Not at all. It is good practice to plan out poultry operations for the entire year as far as possible; this permits starting the chicks at the proper times so that uniform income may be obtained throughout the year.

Now is a good time to begin thinking about this and getting information that will help decide when and where to buy chicks for the coming season. A definite decision in this matter cannot, of course, be made at the present time, but it is a good plan to write to different hatcheries and breeders asking for their catalogues, price lists, and any other information that is desired. This gives an opportunity to compare the offers of the various hatcheries and breeders, from which a selection may be made and orders placed at the proper time. It is none too early to start writing for information.

The Potato Crop

The 1938 crop of potatoes in Ontario is estimated at 7,432,700 cwt., as compared with 10,130,500 cwt. in 1937. This year's production is 26.7 per cent less than last year and one of the lowest per acre yielding crops on record. The quantity of marketable potatoes is lower than total production due to losses in storage from rot. The development of Late Blight Rot in the late crop was spotted, in that some districts suffered to a greater extent than others. The earlier maturing varieties, such as Cobbler, Warba, Chippewa and Katahdin, escaped damage from Late Blight Rot on account of the foliage being more mature or dead before the attack came, which was during the month of September, while some districts received a killing frost on Sept. 6th, which destroyed the green foliage and prevented Late Blight Rot becoming established. This reduced the yield in these areas, but potatoes of good keeping quality were harvested. Growers are discarding as well as possible the infected tubers and marketing the better portion of their crop. A further development often occurs, and much dissatisfaction is experienced by dealers and consumers. There are, however, large quantities of Ontario potatoes free from disease and of good keeping and cooking quality. To a great extent these potatoes are being held for marketing later when higher prices are expected. Potatoes of this quality are now bringing about 25 cents per bag premium over stock that has a percentage of disease. Reports from the provinces east of Ontario state that a considerable portion of the crop will be discarded on account of the Late Blight Rot. The yield in eastern provinces was reduced by unfavorable weather conditions. The market shows a strong tendency and higher prices are expected in the early part of 1939.

"Boy," said Bigfoot Sampson, "d'd you evah walk five miles to git some chicking meat, and when you got to de hencoop you fine de white folks is planted a bear trap, a spring gun, an' a bitin' dawg?"
"No, sah," replied the other. "Ah nevah has nothin' lak' dat happen to me. But Ahse had a heap wuss things happen."
"Whut?" demanded Bigfoot.
"Once in de ahmy Ah done talked back to a Pust Sarjint."

W. C. T. U.

The December meeting of the W.C.T.U. was held Fri., Dec. 9th at Ballinafad, when Mrs. Duncan Ferguson welcomed to her home the members of the Georgetown Union, as well as several Ballinafad friends of the temperance cause. Mrs. A. R. Vannatter, the president, occupied the chair. The devotional period, conducted by Mrs. A. Reeve, had for its keynote the Christmas message, "Behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy—for unto you is born this day a Saviour." Harmonizing with this Christmas meditation Mesdames Vannatter and Wrigglesworth added a beautiful message in song, entitled "No Room in the Inn," and Mrs. A. O. Forsman led in prayer.

The address of the afternoon, given by Mrs. J. F. Sutcliffe on the subject, "Slavery," presented in an interesting way many original thoughts.

The speaker pointed out that slavery is typical of all the evils which afflict mankind. Dr. Endicott (a former moderator of the United Church of Canada) travelling over the old slave routes of Africa in the steps of Livingstone, said: "Had any doubt existed in my mind of the power of Christianity to overcome every evil in the world, no matter how deep rooted, the reflection that human slavery has been outlawed, would banish the doubt." "It makes countless thousands mourn" but, as we look back through history we note the gradual loosening of the bondage of ignorance and evil from which our Saviour came to deliver men. There are two kinds of slavery that imposed from without, and that which we impose upon ourselves. We are apt to be enslaved by custom, habit, environment, etc. and recognition of and obedience to truth, alone can make us free. Slavery to the desire for wealth is the underlying cause of the trade in liquor and drugs, which profits through the self-imposed slavery of appetite and adherence to custom or fashion. The speaker closed with a stirring appeal to all Christians to unite in refusal to submit to the dictatorship of the liquor trade, reminding us of the saying "The liquor traffic would do away with the church if it could, and the church could banish the liquor evil if it would."

Upon request, the press secretary, Mrs. C. B. Dayfoot, reported the petition circulated in the community in protest against the establishment of a brewery warehouse in Georgetown. She stated that a well-signed petition was complete and that the committee were now awaiting word from Mr. Blaklock, M.L.A. for Halton, who had promised to notify the deputation as soon as he succeeded in obtaining for them an interview with the Liquor Commissioner, Mr. Odele. We have Mr. Blaklock's assurance that no action in the matter will, in the meantime, be taken in opposition to our protest. At the close of the pleasant social half-hour provided through the ness of our hostess in serving "the cup that cheers but not inebriates," Mrs. R. E. Wright expressed the thanks of the gathering to Mrs. Ferguson, Mrs. Sutcliffe and to all others through whose help and co-operation this pleasant and profitable gathering had been made possible. It is planned to hold the January meeting at the home of Mrs. A. Speight, Guelph St.
