solution of the American railway problem following the report he has just received from a transport investigating commission. There is so much in common in the railway situation in the two countries, that the action to be taken by the United States government may offer a valuable lead. Dr. Manion, the new leader of the National Conservative party will be introduced to the speaker of the house of commons. His speeches in the house and his attitude on Canada's problems will be followed with interest, as he will lead his party in the next general election. The trenchant voice, balanced judgment of Mr. Bennett, former conservative leader will be missed from the debates this session.
