Can Georgetown Hockeyists Win From Brampton To-night?

A Win is Locals Only Chance for Play-off Berth — Bolton Now League Leaders.

BOLTON VICTORS ON MONDAY NIGHT

By G. "Mac" McGillivray
 Georgetown's Intermediate "B" hockey team has only one alternative in order to get into the group play-offs, and that is to defeat the Brampton Club when they tangle at the arena here tonight. It will be the game of games, even greater than the Monday night affair with Bolton, and that game drew the season's record crowd and gave the spectators the thrill of their life. It means to do or die for the Georgetown club, and you can bet they will be in there fighting every inch of the way, not giving up until the final gong is sounded. No gamer lot of hockeyists ever took the ice under Georgetown colors and every game this year has had its thrills. The Brampton team seem to have gained renewed strength since their last game with Georgetown, and defeated the league leading Boltonites twice in a row. In the first game the score was 7 - 3 and in the second 13 - 7. However, this is no barometer for the game tonight and it should see our Trotter squad easy winners and ready for a group play-off.

But don't take our word for it; come out and see just what can be done. If Brampton should win (and we don't think there is a chance) they will find themselves in second place in the league and will play-off with Bolton for group honors. If Georgetown wins, then Brampton and Georgetown will have to battle it out for second place all over again.

BOLTON 4 - GEORGETOWN 2
 Now let us get back to the game here on Monday night, when some 700 fans filled past the wicket and were treated by the hockey of two very evenly matched teams. Bolton however, had the edge on the night's play, and the score, no doubt, was about the right average. It was an off night for the Georgetown club, and they failed to look in shape after a week's lay-off without any games. On the other hand Bolton was smarting from the defeat given them by the Brampton crew, and were out to win at almost any cost. The win put the Boltonites in first place position in the league.

The ice proved to be rather sticky, due to the mild weather, and a rolling puck slowed down what might otherwise have been a fast game. While the game was exciting at times, only a fair brand of hockey was played, with very little combination play by either team. The smart team work displayed by the Georgetown Club up in Bolton a week ago was lacking, and even individual plays were easily broken up when the players seemed over-anxious to score.

The first period opened with both teams playing rather cautiously and making sure they got a break. However, the Bolton team finally got the edge and Crocker intercepted Harris' pass and bulged the trine for the first counter. This made the going tough for Georgetown, but it was not for long, as W. Richardson banged in the puck from a scramble to tie up the score. Penalties were meted out to Barney, Kohoe and Hall. Going into the second period with the score tied 1 - 1 play was more open, and each team was out to add goals for their side. Bolton were the first to score and break the tie, when Stubbs scored on a nice effort. Ward was serving a penalty when Barney added another counter for Bolton. When Ward again took the ice, it was not long before he secured Georgetown's second and final goal. Other players penalized in this period were

SAFETY FOR OUR SCHOOL CHILDREN

As was noted in these columns some weeks ago, the Georgetown Lions Club sponsored the formation of a Boys' Safety Patrol at the Public School. The boys of this patrol are on duty daily and are doing their bit toward making the school "Safety Conscious." The Lions Club have gone still further to promote safety, and on Tuesday afternoon brought a speaker from Toronto to address the school children.

Through the kind permission of General Draper, Toronto's Chief Constable, the Club secured the services of Inspector Dunne who commands the Traffic Squad of the Toronto Police, and who is directly responsible for the safety and smooth operation of traffic in the City. Inspector Dunne has been in this position for many years and is well qualified to warn the children of the dangers of the highways and to advise them how to avoid these dangers.

The Inspector brought with him a movie projector and showed two reels of film portraying safe driving, reckless driving and safe pedestrian traffic. With these pictures as a basis he then spoke to the children, drawing their attention to accidents and showing how they could have been avoided. After his talk, the Inspector asked the school two questions, one for the girls and one for the boys, regarding the best way to avoid accidents. The answers to the questions had already been embodied in his talk and he offered a prize to the first boy and girl who gave the correct answer. He gave a prize also to the boy who would volunteer to read a poem on Safety before the assembled school.

The great variety of answers given the questions proved that the children had paid close attention to the Inspector's talk and that they had absorbed the important points for Safety.

Inspector Dunne's talk was very entertaining and instructive and he thanks the parents whose children were fortunate enough to hear him. The Lions Club also are to be thanked for their efforts to promote safety for our children on our streets. They are to be congratulated on the work they have done so far and it is to be hoped they will keep up the good work.

Proclamation Sets March 8 For Opening of Legislature

Formal proclamation setting Wednesday, March 8, for the opening of the second session of Ontario's twentieth Legislature, has been signed by Chief Justice R. S. Robertson, administrator for the Province of Ontario.

Premier Hepburn, who is expected to return to Toronto from his Australian tour on Feb. 24th, will—health permitting—lead the House through the entire session. Col. George A. Drew, K.C., new leader of the Conservative opposition, and regarded as certain victor in the East Simcoe bye-election, through which he will enter the House, will be on hand for the opening ceremonies.

Because of the lateness this year of the seasonal start, adjournment over the Easter period of early April will be necessary. And if by some remote chance their Majesties should be prevailed upon to prorogue the session, a second adjournment from the date of the business is concluded until the date of the Royal visit to Toronto, will be taken.

Georgetown Man on Executive Berkshire Club

Other officers are: Vice-president, George Spence, Northwood; secretary-treasurer, L. E. O'Neill, Toronto; executive members, Ray Scott, Acton, and W. O. Brownridge, Georgetown.

Girl ditto (who has crossed into home entrance): "I always turn in here, stupid!"

HALTON PRESBYTERIAL OF THE W.M.S.

The executive of the Halton Presbyterial of the W.M.S. of the United Church met at St. Paul's Church, Milton on Thursday, Feb. 2nd, and the president, Mrs. Earl Wilson, presiding.

The devotions were conducted by Mrs. H. Caldwell, who spoke on "The Vine and the Branches," and Mrs. H. Inglehart, who reviewed the 3rd and 4th chapters of the study book, "The Living God."

Reports for the year 1938 were presented by the officers and departmental secretaries. Total monies received amounted to $5,620.23, an increase of $172.23. Forty-three cartons of clothing and quilts were sent to File Hills, Alta. The value of the new clothing amounted to $356.56 and consisted of 40 quilts, stockings, mitts, underwear, men's shirts, and layettes. Used clothing was also sent to File Hills and the Indian-Reserve, Thamesville, Ont. An emergency bale was sent to the West in the amount of $100.00. Supplies sent away have doubled in weight since the Presbyterial was organized in 1929. More interest is being taken in temperance by the churches and Sunday schools. The reports from junior organizations, Church Stewardship, and other departments were encouraging.

The corresponding secretary gave a condensed report of the work of the different organizations throughout the Presbyterial.

As an executive, it was moved that letters of protest against the commercial entertainment of the young people on the Sabbath Day, which may be imminent, be sent to the local Provincial member and the Attorney General. Every woman's church organization throughout the Presbyterial is to be asked to send similar protests.

Announcement was made of the forthcoming Presbyterial Annual which is to be held in Georgetown about March 8th.

Georgetown Lions Win Three Straight

Georgetown Lions journeyed to Acton Saturday afternoon and returned with a 9 - 3 victory under their belts. The Acton team was short of reserve strength, tiring badly in the last period, when the Lions ran in six goals.

Play was fairly even in the first period with the Lions enjoying a slight advantage in territorial play. Wilcox opened the scoring for Georgetown at the twelve minute mark, but the Tanners came back strong to tie it up on a goal by H. Lambert. With just two minutes to go Schenk rifled one past Masters to give the Lions a 2 - 1 advantage.

Play was centred mostly in Acton territory in the second stanza, with the Lions adding another to their quota. With the clock at the fifteen minute mark, Beaumont flashed the red light for the locals.

The tired Tanners couldn't match the speed of the Lions in the last period, when goals by Wilcox, Schenk, Murphy, Lane and Golden put the game on ice. Acton retaliated with goals by Masales and L. Lambert. This victory boosted Georgetown into a first place tie with Milton.

Acton—Goal, Masters; defense, Masale, H. Lambert; centre, Masales; L.W. Cooney; r.w. L. Lambert; subs, D. H. Holm.

Georgetown—Goal, Kemebede; defense, Schenk, Schertel; centre, Beaumont; L.W. Wilcox; r.w. Murphy; subs, Boyle, Golden, Marchmont, Lane.

How Far?

Two poorly dressed children, a little girl and her youngest brother, were walking down the street on the way to a store one frosty day, when a bitter wind was blowing. The little girl had a makeshift cloak thrown over her. They struggled on as fast as they were able. Her brother shivering, the girl drew him closer to herself and said, "Come under my cloak, Johnny." The little fellow looked up and said, "It isn't big enough for both." "Then I will stretch it a little," said the little girl and she did so, and her brother was shivering but she completed their journey. How far would you stretch your cloak of comfort and luxury that it might afford some comfort and warmth to some poor soul chilled by the cold blast of want?

Reading the Advertising

THE people who fail to read the advertising miss one of the most important features that the newspaper offers them. Here is the means by which people can reduce the cost of living, supply their needs at the smallest possible expense, and find out what kinds of things are being offered, and what styles and fashions are the most popular. . . They learn the progress of modern improvements, they find out what other people are doing to make work easier, and life more comfortable and pleasant. The information obtained from newspaper advertising alone is worth many times more than the subscription price.

The Return of Craftmanship to Education

(An article prepared for the 1939 Education Week Committee of the Ontario Teachers' Council by Dr. T. Martin, Brock Public School, Toronto.)

All across Canada there has flowed a wave of educational reform, extending to the revision of curricula. The engineers of these programmes have had a singularly difficult task, that of devising means of production to fill the needs of ten or fifteen years hence. Imagine, if you can, production beginning this fall on a motor car to be put into service in 1950 or later, each unit being built upon a different chassis, some as different as those of an armoured tank and a motor cycle. Is it any wonder that, faced with such future uncertainty, changes have been made re-estimating and up to the best few have considered chiefly of the addition of gadgets? Nor is it any wonder that the mere addition of gadgets to the assembly-line system of fitting identical curricula to the multitudinous types of mankind to produce satisfactory results, failed to thrill the good hope that the products would emerge successfully in lives as varied as those of a mine and a research expert, a violinist and a designer, a lumberjack and a dress designer.

Now the "new" education has gone back to the day of individual craftmanship, where, freed from an imposed and impossible burden of factual knowledge to be drilled, the schoolmaster may once more, as he did in our pioneer days, put in place of this ill-digested mass of facts something of himself—perseverance in the face of difficulties, thoroughness in workmanship, adaptability to the needs and circumstances of the task in hand, honesty of effort, willingness to co-operate, self-reliance to walk alone, and the beginnings of critical judgment—broad principles to be engendered in each young mind. The materials and methods are to be chosen by the teacher as those most suited to their development in the locality, and tuned into harmony with the environment of the pupils, rather than the haphazard or over-estimating their capacity, and with due regard to the fact that the education of the individual is being conducted at the public expense, and in the public as well as in the private interest.

To train young people to embody these principles in their daily life, they are brought into actual contact with real problems in real situations—real to them NOW, not problems (Continued on Page 3)
