THIS AND THAT IN SPORT

By G. "Mac" McMillan

OF INTEREST to many local sport fans was the hockey play-off between Acton and Bolton last Thursday night. Bolton took a three-goal lead into the second game in the play-offs at Acton, and were eliminated in a weird hockey spectacle by the score of 8-7 on the round. Most everyone called the fast Bolton outfit to win the play-off, but Acton showed that never-say-die spirit, and started out in the second period to score six goals that they were down and did it.

THE PLAY-OFF was not a very friendly affair, as both teams were chastised with the referees. Up in Bolton, Acton players finished the game levelling some very uncomplimentary remarks at Referee Honey

Kuntz; and in Acton, Bolton claimed Johnny Jones gave Acton enough breaks to win any game. Referring of course to the penalty given Acton in the last three minutes of play. This penalty gave Acton the chance to shoot the puck the full length of the ice when hard pressed by the Boltonites. Regarding the game in Bolton the Enterprise has the following to say: "There was one very discordant note in the game when Referee Honey Kuntz, of Kitchener, was the target of some very uncomplimentary remarks on the part of Acton players, who accepted defeat in any way but sportsmanlike. This was entirely uncalled for and unwarranted and the indignities suffered by the official immediately following the game should have had a sequel in the courts of the O.H.A. when offending players would have been properly disciplined. Kuntz is one of the most capable of the younger arbiters of Ontario and his record this winter has been acceptable to the winning and losing clubs generally. This column agrees that Honey Kuntz is one of the best referees working in these parts for some years. His quick, clear-cut decisions, can not be very often refuted. As for Johnny Jones referring well we never did care for his brand.

BUT GOING back to the game in Acton. Bolton looked best for the first twenty minutes; they scored twice, while Acton seemed slow to start. But the second and third periods saw the Tanners at their best and Bolton faded into almost oblivion. The homesters were now six goals down and they set out to cut down an almost impossible lead. However, as the powerful team they are, they fought back and well and finally won. It was a great victory—a hard game to lose for Bolton. All going to show that a game in never over until the final bell.

THE BOLTON Enterprise last week was a case of ribbon. Acton for playing the Brush boys from Milton. But, this, coming from Bolton carries with it a good deal of humor. Oh, well, we suppose after all these games Bolton forget that Crocker, Harris, Nixon, Kohoe, Barrely, etc. and finally won. They and just take that they are hometown boys.

GEORGETOWN'S former coach, "Spats" McGinnis, was in town on Friday and also at the Acton-Bolton game the night before. He informed us that Acton arranged to have him there in case they should lose and there was any protesting to do. Well, Acton didn't need him in that regard, but he did plenty of portesting anyways.

MILTON JUNIOR C team has been showing the way in hockey circles this winter. Last week they disposed of Grimsby, tying the first game and winning handily the second. On Friday night they tied Simcoe 4-4 in Simcoe, and on Monday night eliminated the same team at Galt by a 7-2 score. Good luck Milton you are su' goin' places. They will now meet the winner of the New Hamburg-Walkerton series, and it looks like New Hamburg as they have taken the first game 5-2.

GEORGETOWN LIONS, go to Kitchener to-night for the return game with the Waterloo Slisken Clippers in the Midget N.H.L. southern Ontario play-downs. The winner to meet the winner of the Stratford-Preston game. The Southern Ontario winners will go to Copper Cliff during the Easter holidays to play-off with the Northern champions for the Ontario championship. Look out, Alcott, here we come! We hope, we hope, we hope!

MANY TIMES we have been asked what has become of Ken Doraty, the mite of Regina, who played hockey for awhile for the Toronto Maple Leafs and scored the winning goal for his team in that memorable game against Boston a few years ago. After much searching we have located Ken out in the Pacific Coast League, playing with the Seattle Lions, and he is still scoring goals. Ken, a 128 pounder, has been shifted around a lot during his hockey career, probably more than any other player in big time hockey. Just a few of his calling places are cited: Regina, Cleveland, Toronto, Pittsburgh, Detroit, New York, and now Seattle. Surely Ken has seen some of the country's scenery and met a lot of people.

BUT SOON our thoughts will turn to baseball, and in another column will be found the Toronto Maple Leaf roster for the 1939 season. Get acquainted with the players, here and you will enjoy the games better than ever this summer.

LAST MINUTE DESPATCH - Acton Tanners trounced the Simcoe Intermediate team 5-3 in Brantford last night. Keep it up Acton and Halton may have some championships again this year. Meaning of course: Acton Intermediates, Milton Juniors and Georgetown Midgets.

Recollections of Ballinacud "Historical Research" was the topic of an address by Mrs. Gamble at the meeting last week of the Acton Women's Institute, and dealt in particular with Ballinacud. Mrs. Gamble is a descendant of the early settlers of that district and gave this talk on the subject from hearing her parents tell of the conditions in the days of the early settlers. She told of her father drawing ship timber to Oakville over the old roads. Thomas Pyfe was the first tax collector in Halton County and was appointed at a Council meeting, held at the home of Joseph Standish, Esq., on January 1st, 1821. Henry Pyfe was the first L.O.L. Past Master in Halton, and that was just below Ashgrove. Thomas Pyfe was the father of Henry Pyfe and they are the great-grandfather and grandfather of Mrs. J. E. Gamble, Acton, who is now holding an office in Halton County L.O.L. She also spoke of the Whiteside murder at Ballinacud in 1876, which was across the road from where she was born.

Long-Tailed Fowl Once Popular The Yokohama long-tailed fowl has a fascinating history. Long ago the inhabitants of Tsou, Japan, carried its feathers as pennons on their spears, carefully breeding the birds to get long feathers, says Pearson's London Weekly. These fowls are bred in Japan, where their cages are lighted only at the top, lest the birds descend from their perches and spoil their fantastic tails. But the fowls must have exercise so they are taken for walks—during which an attendant acts as "train bearer," solemnly holding the fowl's tail.

Famous French Fortuneteller Catherine Monvoisin, known as La Voisin, was the wife of a jeweler. She practiced chiromancy, face-reading, midwifery and provided love powders and poisons. Her chief accomplice was one of her lovers, the magician, Lesage. The women of Paris flocked to La Voisin and she accumulated great wealth. She was one of the chief personages in the famous affaire des poisons which disgraced the reign of Louis XVI and was executed at an early stage of the proceedings on February 20, 1680.

Weapons of the Zulus A Zulu chief named Moselikatse became famous a century ago and was the ruler of thousands of square miles. He carried a shield made from an ox hide. Spears were the chief weapons of old-time Zulus, and each soldier carried two or three of them.

Mazers, Bowls of Wood.

Were Made From Maple Before glass and pottery for table use became common plates and drinking cups were made of wood. Mazers or bowls of wood were first used in the Thirteenth century and were made of the bole of the maple tree, cut across the part where the branches grew. This showed the beauty of the grain and was greatly prized.

The name may have come from the Dutch word "maeser," meaning a knot in the wood. As this section of a tree has the closest grain, it is possible this part of the wood was selected for its good wearing qualities, for the mazer was often subjected to hard usage and was in constant use, writes Alice R. Rollins in the Los Angeles Times.

The early mazers were often rimmed with silver which not only protected the brittle edges of the wood but also provided a place for the curious and quaint inscriptions to be found on many of them. The inscriptions on the very early mazers are in black letter or Lombardic and some of them have flowers, animals and fruits in between the words. The date of these old mazers can be told by the spelling and style of lettering and the silver work.

The medallion which is found in the bottom of every mazer is a distinctive mark. No two are alike and they are of great variety. Some of the designs are a knight, king and falcon, rose, bear, shield and helmet. In addition many carried initials and monograms.

Perpetual June Enjoyed

In the Famous Bahamas The Bahamas lie across the Tropic of Cancer, a short distance to the east of the Gulf stream, and this location gives them the climate of perpetual June.

Although not the largest island, New Providence, about the size of Staten island, is the most important, as it contains the capital, Nassau. The islands number approximately 700. The group is one of Great Britain's three self-governing colonies, sharing this distinction with Bermuda and Barbados. San Salvador or Watling island, is generally accepted as the landfall of Columbus. It is 12 miles long and seven miles wide and much of its area is covered by a lake.

The island of New Providence is about 21 miles in length from east to west and seven miles from north to south. It is mostly flat, though a range of rocky hills makes its appearance.

The Bahamas have a population of about 60,000. The city of Nassau represents 20,000, of which two-thirds are colored. Next to New Providence the island of Eleuthera is the largest in population, having about 7,500 natives.

The lowest recorded temperature in the annals of the weather bureau is 53 degrees.

General Jackson's Horse

According to the Louisiana State Museum, Old Duke was Gen. Andrew Jackson's favorite mount. An article in the New Orleans Daily Crescent on the subject says in part: "I was often reminded of this praiseworthy remembrance of fidelity and merit, cherished by my old friend General Jackson toward his famous Old Duke, the horse he rode during the Southern campaigns of the late war. Though Duke grew feeble, was greatly affected, withered and almost helpless in his latter days, he was not forgotten nor suffered to be neglected. On one occasion to try the general on a tender point, the writer says in an article suggested the idea of putting an end to the sufferings of Duke. 'No,' said his generous master, 'never, never! Let him live, and while there is anything to go upon this farm, Duke shall have a part.'"
