Completing the Picture of a GOLDEN WEDDING

Mrs. Allen Quickfall, of Bridgeport, Ont., had just arranged a huge bouquet of Chrysanthemums, their Golden Wedding Remembrance from assembled children and grandchildren, when the telephone rang. It was a call from Kindersley, Sask., and the voice of a Roy, her son, greeted her. What a surprise on such a day! Mrs. Quickfall writes: "We like to pass on to other sons and mothers the value and satisfaction to be obtained through the medium of telephone contacts, particularly so when the dear ones are scattered over the country."

Why wait for a Golden Wedding? Next time there is a family celebration call up by Long Distance. Make it a real occasion. And remember this, it costs no little, you too, will be surprised!

GOSSIPS

In writing this poem I'm sure do my best To give you my version Of life's biggest post. Of all things injurious To our universe, I still think the gossip Is humanity's curse.

No one escapes them, They strike in the back, At the rich in his mansion, At the poor in his shack.

No home is safe From this treacherous pest, They cannot stand happiness, They enjoy unrest.

No, they cannot stand pleasure Unless it's their own, They enjoy their gossip Like a dog loves a bone.

It needn't be something Colossal or great, Just anything harmful, Is meat for their plate.

A young girl out walking Should stroll thru the park, She at once becomes prey To this gossiping shark.

Dates of marriages And blessed events Are often the cause Of some nasty comments.

Inventors and scientists Are striving for ways To benefit mankind In forth-coming days.

It would be a real blessing, And the whole world could rest If they could but discover A cure for this pest. —G.T.N. in Smith Falls Record-Review.

HAD TO BE CONVINCED!
 The talkative young man was always collecting interesting facts. "I read today," he said to an acquaintance, "of the wonderful progress made in aviation. Men can now do anything — absolutely anything — a bird can do." "Is that so?" answered his friend, thoroughly bored. "Well, when you see an almanac that shows, hanging on to a branch of a tree with one foot, 'I'll come and have a look!'"
