LAST LAUGH

When I was young and thoughtless
And came home late at night,
And tried to slip in quietly,
Without a sound or light,
Then always from her room
My mother softly asked:
"Is that you, son?" and now I know
The deep relief she masked.
We scolded and we chided,
But still she would not sleep
Till we were in—just one of those Long vigils mothers keep.
But now my graying youngsters
Make me repay the score:
And I sometimes must lie awake
Till they come in the door.
And, mother, are you smiling?
Then I know why all right;
The final joke will be on them
Some far-off sleepless night.
—Evan S. Tonlan.

THE GOOD SHEPHERD

How oftentimes he must have watched, with patient eyes and still,
The shepherds guarding close their sheep upon some lonely hill,
The while he yearned to gather men
—this shepherd long ago—
Into his Father's pastures green, where peaceful waters flow!
How oft at eventide when flocks came bleating to the fold
Where they were safe from savage beasts, and wind, and storm,
and cold,
He must have thought of manions bright with rooms enough for all Would they but hear his tender voice, and follow at his call!

THE ROAD TO GALILEE

Remember thou the way?
In saddle shoon he came,
Upon that day, that wonderful day
They spoke His holy name:
Kneaded were the land, and sea
As with an Angel's breath,
It was the road to Galilee
That leads from Nazareth.
Remember thou the way
Of immemorial pain,
Upon that day, that wonderful day
He came to weeping Nain?
His pitying touch set free
The widow's Son from death,
It was the road to Galilee
That lead from Nazareth.
As on His way he went
The fold's lost sheep to seek,
He healed the arm in palsy bent
And kissed the leper's cheek;
And, from the city's din
Out from the shadows crept
The nameless one, he cleansed from sin
As at his feet she wept.
With corn was Canaan green,
Yet, waited there no bed
For Him, the outcast Nazarene
On which to lay his head;
The road to Galilee
Must lead him wandering still,
By to the cross of calvary
That beckoned on the hill.

Remember thou the hill
—To which at last he came?
That wonderful day the world stood still
No more to be the same;
No more to victor be—
The grave, nor sting of death,
He triumphed there in victory
The Christ of Nazareth.
—George D. Lee.

OVERHEARD IN THE ORCHARD

Said the Robin to the Sparrow:
"I would really like to know why these restless human beings must sweat and worry so."
Said the Sparrow to the Robin:
"Friend, I think it must be that they fret the Heavenly Father such an ocean for you and me."
Said the Sparrow to those who love us,
to those who know us true,
to the cause that needs assistance,
to the wrong that needs resistance,
to the future in the distance,
to the good that we can do."

A PRAYER FOR OLD AGE

O most merciful Father, cast me not off in time of old age,
Forsake me not when my strength
falleth;
May my hoary head be found in righteous.
Preserve my mind from dotage and imbecility, and my body from protracted disease and excruciating pain.
Deliver me from despondency in my declining years,
And enable me to bear with patience
Whatever may be Thy Holy Will.
I humbly ask that my reason, and my vision
Be continued to the last, and that I may be comforted and supported,
so that I may leave my testimony in favor of the reality of religion and the faithfulness of fulfilling Thy gracious promises;
And when my spirit leaves this clay
tenament,
Lord Jesus receive it.
Send some of Thy Holy Angels to convey my inexperienced soul to the mansion which Thy love hath prepared; and may I have an abundant entrance ministered unto me in the Kingdom of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.
—Amen.

This prayer was used by the Rev. Archibald Alexander of Princeton, N. J., daily during the last year of his life.
—A Friend.

BIG FAIRS TO PROMOTE GOOD YEAR OF TRAVEL

"When the Hotel Vancouver is completed and opened on May 25 it will be considered by many hotel officials as one of the finest buildings of its kind on the continent," stated C. K. Howard, Manager of the Tourist and Convention Bureau, Canadian National Railways, on his return from a trip to the Pacific Coast. Mr. Howard had been to Southern California and while there met several officials connected with the hotel associations in California and the other Pacific Coast States. Some of these officials had seen the hotel Vancouver during its construction stage and admired the layout and furnishings, many of them planning to attend the official opening this spring, according to Mr. Howard.

While in the south Mr. Howard spent a day at the San Francisco World's Fair, which expects to draw a total attendance of about 20,000,000 visitors during its operation. It had $250,000 visitors the first day and nearly as many on the second day. "British Columbia has a very fine exhibit at this fair, which attracted 50,000 visitors during the first two days," stated Mr. Howard, "and this exhibit is expected to direct a considerable volume of travel northward into British Columbia and from Vancouver by Canadian National Steamships up to Alaska."
The San Francisco Fair officials are looking forward to a good year of travel from the western states, said Mr. Howard, and it is not considered that the 50,000,000 people who are expected to attend the New York World's Fair will detract from the attendance on the Pacific Coast as they are each the width of the continent apart. In fact the one may be complementary to the other, Mr. Howard believes.

CANADIAN PARLIAMENT AMENDS UNITED CHURCH ACT

At the request of the United Church of Canada, legislation has been enacted by the Dominion Parliament giving effect to an agreement entered into between The United Church of Canada and the Presbyterian Church to enable the latter body to use the name "The Presbyterian Church in Canada," it was announced by Rev. Dr. Gordon A. Sisco, Secretary of The General Council of The United Church of Canada.
Dr. Sisco explained that under the United Church of Canada Act, passed in 1924 by the Dominion Parliament, the Church formed by the congregations that did not enter union could not legally use the name "The Presbyterian Church in Canada." The right to use this name has now been granted to the Presbyterian Church by an amendment to the Act at the request of the United Church.
An important provision of the amendment is that the use of the name agreed upon shall be without prejudice to the rights and claims of either church.

WOULD YOU BE MISSED?

"How good a citizen are you?" Did you ever sit down by your self and ask yourself this question? Because it will be worth your while to do so. And not kid yourself about the answer.
You may think you are a model citizen. You made bridle up and think the above question absurd. But let's get down to cases—do you pay your taxes and your bills when they should be paid? Or do you impose on everybody by putting these things off as long as you can?
Do you spend money on things you could do without—money that really belongs to those who have trusted you? Are you really fair to these people?
Are you one of those who thinks "the world owes you a living" you don't earn? Do you carry your own load like a man?
Do you break the speed laws, and thus put others in danger?
Do you accept an office and then fail to discharge its duties? Are you a drag on efforts to make your town a better place to live-in? Do you support bodies which try to help the general good as far as you can afford? Or do you lie back and let George do it?
Nobody can object if you don't contribute when you can't afford to do so. But the men and women who carry on are probably as busy as you are, and in fairness you should give at least your time and your suggestions.
Just how good a citizen are you? How much would you be missed if you passed out tonight?—Ex.

PLANS FOR SCHOOL FAIR BEING REVISED

The school fairs spilly in Ontario for 1939, after much thought by the Department of Agriculture and Department of Education, has been revamped and revised to fit more closely the new school curriculum, which went into effect more than a year ago.
The programme this year involves a considerable change from that of former years, the object being to bring the school fair programme more in line with the new course of study in the schools and to eliminate extra or outside work as far as possible for teachers and pupils.
Competitive classes are being continued for the products of the farm and garden but for school work educational displays are to be featured. Individual and team contests at the fair will be stressed.

"And at her request you gave up drinking?"
"Yes."
"And you stopped smoking for the same reason?"
"I did."
"And it was for her that you gave up dancing, card parties and billiards?"
"Absolutely."
"Then why didn't you marry her?"
"Well, after all this reforming I realized I could do better."

WHY I BOUGHT TITE-LAP ROOFING AHEAD OF ALL OTHERS!

"I needed a new barn roof and I went into the matter very carefully. The annual report of my mutual insurance company showed that last year out of 15 fire losses 7 were caused by flying embers, and 3 by lightning. I talked to my insurance agent and he advised a fire-proof roof above all else so I decided on metal. Metal protects against fire and lightning and also against wind, weather, rot and upkeep."
I chose Metal and I bought TITE-LAP
"Tite-Lap, to my way of thinking, has all the best features in metal roofing. It is rigid, has maximum provision for nailing, is absolutely weather-tight. I got the Council Standard quality, and the 25 year guarantee that goes with it. And I was glad to learn about the new reduction in cost because there's no sales tax any more."
Send ridge and rafter measurements for FREE roofing estimate. Address Dept. 908.

BRITISH WORLD TRADE

British official figures for 1938 show that South Africa was the largest purchaser of British exports during the year, with a percentage of 8.39 of the total British exports. Australia ranked second, with 8.11 per cent and India third with 7.18 per cent. Canada moved up from fifth to fourth place with 4.78 per cent; Germany fifth with 4.38 per cent and the United States, sixth, with 4.36 per cent, a decrease from 5.02 per cent in 1937.
The United States in 1938 continued to be the most important supplier of merchandise to the British market, being credited with 12.81 per cent of the total British imports, an increase from 11.19 per cent in 1937. Canada also continued in second position with 8.53 per cent; Australia third, with 7.84 per cent; India fourth, with 5.42 per cent; New Zealand, fifth, with 5.09 per cent; Argentina, sixth, with 4.18 per cent; Germany, seventh, with 3.58 per cent, and Holland, eighth, with 3.39 per cent.
