—In his report for the three months ending March 31st, the Ontario Fire Marshal notes that for the first quarter of 1939 the fire loss in Ontario was reduced by $625,000 in the total fire loss and by $595,000 in the insurance loss. This is a reduction of almost one-third when compared with the same period in 1938. The reason for this gratifying reduction is the smaller number of large fires. In this respect Ontario has been more fortunate than other provinces of Canada. Press reports show that the fire loss over Canada generally, increased during the three months period, due mainly to the large institutional fires in Quebec, the Halifax holocaust and other serious fires in the Maritimes.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

Small, pleasing bits of landscape usually make better pictures than open, distant views. Include a nearby object when possible.

LANDSCAPES are a source of excellent snapshots which will add appeal to any album, and they can be made easily with the simplest camera.

Many beginners try to include too much in their landscape pictures. A better method is to seek out small, pleasing bits—a single tree overhanging a brook, a quiet country road winding over a hilltop. The broad, open views which first attract our eyes are not as desirable for picture purposes, as simple bits which can easily be "composed" into attractively arranged pictures.

A good practice, in seeking landscape pictures, is to "frame" a scene with your hands while you study its picture possibilities. The camera lens has a narrower "angle of view" than our eyes—it does not take in as much territory—so this trick of "framing" helps us judge better what the camera will include.

In arranging a landscape picture, avoid lines that divide the picture into equal parts, either vertically or horizontally. Large areas, such as open sky, should usually be broken up by detail—clouds, or a graceful tree branch. A color filter on the camera lens helps record clouds. "Balance" should also be sought. For example, if a large mass of trees is shown in the right-hand foreground, they may be balanced by a smaller mass on the left—a figure or two, or a distant house and trees.

Seeking landscape pictures is a pleasant pastime, and a phase of your camera hobby well worth cultivating. Good pictures of this type can be made at any season—and the better ones can be enlarged and framed for use as decorations in the home. Begin your landscape album now.

—Thirteen inmates of the Ontario Reformatory at Guelph were granted their freedom from the institution in the usual Easter amnesty, over the week end. The group who have had their sentences remitted or secured parole, are all men whose terms were almost completed. This leaves the population of the reformatory at 670.

For Eczema -- Skin Troubles

Makes up your mind today that you are going to give your skin a real chance to get well. Go to any good drug store and buy an original bottle of Moore's Emerald Oil. It lasts many days because it is highly concentrated.

The very first application will give you relief—the itching of Eczema is instantly relieved—scratches dry up and scale of it stops—eczema drops off and the skin is free from Eczema. The same is true of Itchy Feet and Feet, Itchy Neck, Salt Rheum, and other skin troubles.

Remember that Moore's Emerald Oil is a clean, powerful, penetrating Antiseptic. It does not stain or leave a greasy residue. Complete satisfaction or money back.

After nearly half a century of active newspaper work in which he gained countless friends, Frederick Baxter Elliott, editor and publisher of the Alliston Herald, died suddenly at his home on Sunday, aged 64 years. He had been ill for two weeks. Born at Fenwick, Ont., Mr. Elliott had entered the newspaper business as a youngster and at the age of 21 established the Burlington Gazette. He later took over the Cobden Sun and after selling it purchased the Alliston Herald in 1911.

LOCOMOTIVES ARE CALLED "BEAR"

Many people, even in this village, wonder why railway locomotives are called "bears." Well, here's one local railway chap's answer: "It's because they wear jackets with yokes, pendants and stays. They have aprons and laps. Not only do they have short pumps and even hose, while they drag trains behind them, they also attract attention with puff and mutter, and some times they refuse to work. At such times they need to be switched. They need guiding and setting a man to feed them. They all have ears and are much steadier when they're hooked up."

Now you know—Shovelok Standard.
