The funeral of Mrs. Robert Dent, 88, was held Friday last from her late residence in Milton to St. Stephen's Cemetery, Hornby, Mrs. Dent died on Wednesday, June 14th. Her husband predeceased her only five months ago. Born in Trafalgar township, Mrs. Dent had resided in Milton for the past 20 years. She was a staunch member of Grace Anglican church and devoted much of her time to the work of its organizations. Canon L. J. R. Nafel of Grace church conducted the funeral services. Two brothers, Hiram of Milton and Fred of Hamilton, survive.

MRS. SARAH M. H. THORNTON
Sarah M. Hall Thornton, 84, widow of George Thornton, died suddenly Wednesday last at her home on Charles St., Toronto, where she had lived for the past 37 years. She was born in Haldon county. Surviving are one daughter, Mrs. Richard Robinson, and three sons, Bert, Will and Orono, all of Toronto; also one grandson and three brothers, Robert and William Hall of Georgetown and Christopher of Guelph. The funeral service was held at her late residence Friday afternoon, followed by a service in Ashgrove United Church. The remains were interred in Ashgrove cemetery.

MRS. DAVID SWACKHAMER
An old and respected resident of Limehouse for the past 34 years, in the person of Mary Maria Dukes, widow of the late David Swackhamer, passed away on Sunday, June 18th, at her home in her 88th year. Mrs. Swackhamer was one of the district's fine old ladies, enjoying life to the fullest almost up until the time of her death. She had been active until just a few days prior to her death, when she fell, suffering from a stroke, from which she did not recover. Being of a kindly disposition she was a good neighbor, making many friends in the community by whom she will be greatly missed. Mrs. Swackhamer was born in the Churchill district, and married David Swackhamer, a member of the Churchill United Church centennial two years ago, she was the oldest living member. Her husband predeceased her some ten years ago, also her sister, the late Mrs. Robt. Thurston. A family of six children survive, four daughters and two sons, all of whom were able to come home for their mother's funeral. They are: Mrs. W. J. McKechnie, of Toledo, Ohio; Miss Margaret Swackhamer, at home; Fred Swackhamer, New Westminster, B.C.; Vernon Swackhamer, Albany, N.Y.; Miss Stella Swackhamer, Detroit, Mich.; Mrs. Cecil Diephenthal, New York City. The funeral was held on Tuesday afternoon with a brief service at the home, followed by a service in Churchill United Church conducted by Rev. Chas. Jolliffe, pastor of the church. The services were assisted by Harvey McDowell, Wm. Gódy, E. Follett, Angus Lawson, William Thurston and J. Nickell. Interment was made in Churchill Cemetery. The many beautiful floral tributes bespoke of the high esteem in which she was held by friends and neighbors. The sympathy of the Limehouse community and other friends go out to the bereaved family at this time.

THE TOWNSHIP SCHOOL BOARD SCHEME

CORRESPONDENCE

To the Editor of the Georgetown Herald.

Dear Sir:
At the present time the new school inspector of Haldon County is very busy trying to induce the Township Councils to abolish the present school trustees and have five men elected to take on the duties of the eighteen or twenty sections.

The strangest thing about Mr. Skuce's scheme is his talk of economy. The saving to the sections, according to him, is a few cents reduction of the chalk needed for the schools and perhaps a few dollars on the coal. The local taxpayers would likely be done out of the business. Against this piling amount what do we step into? An equalized rate on the whole township for one thing. If any of us have been good managers and kept the finances of our section in good condition it avails us nothing. We take on the debts, past and future of all other sections and help to pay for any folly or extravagance they may be guilty of. Peter will be robbed to pay shiftless Paul, as is so often done these days. The cost of administration in the ordinary section is $25.00 for the secretary and for men like Mr. Skuce and the others who are advocating this drastic change to talk of economy in abolishing sectional boards and setting up the new scheme is like telling us to save by cutting off the baby's orange juice, but buy a yacht or a place in Florida.

Mr. Skuce says the new board will not be paid. That means that all the work that is now done by rural trustees will have to be delegated to hired help and that will soon run into money. Does anyone imagine that five men can handle the work entailed by school fairs, Christmas concerts, getting children to places where they are to sing and countless other duties? It taxes the time and patience of the present school boards. Also anyone knows that with the present number of rural schools, say eighteen or twenty, a township there could be no supervision and help such as the present boards give.

That brings us to another strange phase of this scheme. Mr. Skuce has given his solemn promise that there will be no closing of schools. No transportation and no consolidation. Is he a clairvoyant that he can foretell what a board, not yet elected, will do? Or does he mean that these boards will be mere puppets to do his bidding and that of the Department at that? The fact is that when all inspectors and the Department are hounding the rural people to close their schools and consolidate, it is strange that he can promise that these things will not happen in Haldon County. He did not mention any time limit so perhaps that is the point. We all know what terrific pressure was brought to bear on the Huttonville section and an adjoining one when the Huttonville school was burned.

There is a very powerful clique of so-called "whites" who are waging war on the rural schools, and they are determined to abolish them even though many of them know nothing of conditions and the great improvements we have made. This opposition to our schools is for purely selfish reasons. They prefer large buildings with steam heat and many teachers and to get this they are willing to sink farmers with taxes and expose our little children to the hardships of waiting at lonely corners in snow, or rain, or bitter cold, for a bus. They, the children, will have to risk the icy roads of our winters and the perils of long drives in severe weather, but the teachers will have what they want.

When the Department came out openly advocating consolidated schools they could never have over come the resistance in the country and they dropped it. The township school board plan will be a very large entering wedge. The bribe of $100 per section is disgusting. Let us keep what little liberty we still have and not walk blindly into a scheme that may ruin us.

Thanking you for your space, I am
Yours sincerely,
Mrs. E. B. Snow, Norval.

We call him Corydon for short. That isn't his real name. It stands for any good son of Canada's soil. Corydon has lived on the soil all his life, has faith in God and in Canada and fears neither devil nor man in a fight for right.

Corydon has worked long and hard and has taken his knocks without losing a kindly quiet smile that says more than words. He has long thoughts like sailormen have. He is slow to tell what he knows—as all wise men are.

In the club the other night (it doesn't matter where) he said: "I was told the other day that there are nineteen thousand seven hundred and eleven organizations on this continent whose job is to uplift men and women and tell them what's what in everything from chicken feed to religion."

"Another one's just been started in Chicago. That's the nineteen thousand and seven hundred and twelfth organization. These been others 'quints may be!' born these last two days that I've missed count of."

"This new one is a World Citizens Association. Its job is to widen horizons and inspire people of all nations to look at their problems from a world standpoint." It seems we haven't enough to do minding our own business in our own way. We've got to look at it from a world standpoint.

"Jim Hawkshine over there has got to find out just why Hotientot plocanines don't like flap-jacks done like another used to make 'em, and Tom Wallying's got to explain why Canadians don't stew swallows' nests for Sunday morning's breakfast like Canton folk do. That's world standpoint for a start."

There's going to be more fun than ever in this tired old world, but nations are going to leave their own backyards and peek over the fence into their neighbors'. It's a great game this mass-production business. Lord Baldwin warned us to shun the mass-made man. This new organization is going to manufacture them in thousands and lots. Look out!
