Bishop Reopens Church

Rt. Rev. I. W. B. Broughall, D. D., Bishop of Niagara, officiated at reopening ceremonies in St. Luke's Anglican church, Burlington on Sunday. New pews and floor coverings, a centre aisle and other changes have been installed in an extensive program of alterations. Bishop Broughall dedicated a tablet to the memory of the late Capt. Adam Sharpe, who designed the church interior and carried out alterations many years ago. A beautiful stained glass window in memory of Mrs. M. J. Ireland, benefactress of the church, also was dedicated.

—Dr. F. R. Watson will be in his office Monday evening, July 31st and Tuesday, Aug. 1st.
—Baseball game in the park here to-morrow night at 7 p.m. Milton vs. Georgetown Intermediates.
—Indications are that the soya bean plant at Milton, which has been closed for several years, would reopen shortly.
—Don't forget Knox Church garden party on Friday evening at the home of Mrs. W. A. McClure, 9th Line, Georgetown.
—A man's enemies never kick him when he is down; they stand aside, and let his friends do it.
—Practically 70 per cent of all deaths from diphtheria in Canada in 1938 occurred in the Province of Quebec.
—Jack Miner says: I am far more interested in any man's Christianity than I am in his religion; his personality than his nationality.
—Having been organist of St. Paul's United Church, Milton, for nearly a year, Raymond Pitzer, resigned to accept high school.
—Muril Ricketts of Guelph, has been named to succeed Teresa F. Hunt as primary and musical teacher at Acton public school. Miss Hunt has accepted a position in Windsor.
—We read that 150 grain elevators in the West which have been idle for years are being put in shape for 1939 business. And that is actually a better bit of news than the kindly act of sending relief cars from the East.
—Smith & Stone Ltd. are now taking their annual holidays. Although most of the employees of the plant are on vacation, a number of the office staff and shippers are on hand to fill any orders coming in.
—Are you in need of commercial printing of any kind — Letterheads, envelopes, statements, ruled forms. This work promptly and neatly executed at this office at reasonable prices. Phone your next order to us.
—Richard Maxwell, 58, of Inglewood died at his home there on Monday. He is survived by his wife, the former Lucilla Bagshaw, and two children, Mary and Myrtle. Funeral services are being held today with interment in Boston Mills cemetery.
—Russ Creighton and his Canadian Mountaineers, assisted by other outstanding artists will provide the entertainment on the program of Knox Presbyterian Church garden party on Friday night next, July 28th.
—Across the border a harvesting machine has been invented that in one operation cuts, threshes, separates, cleans and bins more than 100 varieties of grains. There is only one thing wrong with this machine. It should plant the new crop at the same time.
—Political oratory is to have an outlet over the radio in the next campaign after all. Free coast to coast networks for broadcasting political arguments will be allotted the established national parties on a proportionate basis. There will be no free-for-all in former campaigns, as time will not be purchasable for broadcasting.
—Georgetown juvenile baseball team defeated Acton 7 - 6 in a game here last night. Milton still lead the Halton group with Acton and Georgetown in second and third places, respectively. Milton and Acton still have a game, and should Acton win, the league will be tied up in August.
—Despite the machine age Dobbin is holding his own in the province — in fact there is a better market for good farm horses at present than there has been for some time. Horse Shows report increased entries while Canada's Premier Horse Show held in the Ontario Exhibition is so flourishing that several classifications have been added this year.
—To write a letter a week to that relative or friend from this district who is now far away, would cost you $1.56 in stamps alone, to say nothing of paper and envelopes and the trouble of writing. Why not send them The Herald, at a total cost of but $1.50 per year, and no worry. Each issue of the Herald contains more news of this district than a dozen letters.
—A couple of weeks ago we stated that Mr. Jack Bachelor of Toronto was the only living member of the old Halton Regiment. Our attention has now been drawn to the fact that Mr. Albert Neale, also of Toronto, has never been given his discharge either, and therefore is still a member of that old regiment. Mr. Neale was sergeant of the band the last time he went to camp from Georgetown about 1897.
—With the growing public sentiment in favor of some form of insurance against loss of time through illness as well as the cost of illness, it may be that the solution will be in a co-operative scheme between municipal, provincial and federal authorities, as Hon. C. O. Power has suggested. At all events, most health-minded citizens wish to be entitled to protection from disease as he is to police protection for his property and person.

Fishers Corner School Enlarged
Children playing on the grounds of Fishers' Corner school, Nelson township, Saturday, discovered the cellar door of the school open and reported it to a trustee. Police later found the door had been forced but nothing was missing. A 12-year-old boy found in the school when the officer entered, claimed the building had been entered before he came. Fishermen corroborated the boy's story.

Mrs. McClure was the recipient of many hearty congratulations and The Herald joins with her friends in extending best wishes for "many happy returns of the day."

BEWARE OF "POLIO"

Several cases of poliomyelitis or infantile paralysis have been reported in various parts of the province. Many will remember the alarming conditions which developed in Ontario two years ago, and it is hoped the present outbreak will be limited in scope and easily controlled.
There is not much that can be done by way of prevention, owing to the fact that medical science has not yet developed a definite preventive treatment, nor a cure. The best advice that can be offered is to make sure that children lead normal lives, taking healthy food, keeping regular hours and securing sufficient rest.
While Georgetown only had a couple of cases during the epidemic of two years ago, it might be well to publish the symptoms for the information of parents and the public generally.
The first day the child has a stomach ache, and a temperature of 100. He doesn't look sick, but he is willing to go to bed. The second day in bed he may develop a sore throat — feels all right on the third and fourth day — maybe wants to get up — probably does. On the fifth day he has a stomach ache again, a cold, and a headache and a temperature of 102 or thereabouts. Wants to go to bed and looks sick. He becomes anxious and apprehensive — doesn't want to be touched. Has a stiff neck — a sure symptom of the disease. On the sixth day the temperature remains. On the seventh day tremor appear and the muscles are affected. There is a weakness in the muscles. Patient cannot place his head between his knees. In fact, couldn't do it on the fifth day. The shoulder muscles are affected chiefly. There is a danger that these muscles may gradually waste away. Then you may gradually contract the disease. If possible, the only way of these symptoms in young children, it would be well to call in your doctor immediately. We do not wish to create unnecessary worry and alarm, but infantile paralysis is a most contagious disease of a dangerous and even terrifying type, and no chances should be taken with it.

Let us try and keep "polio" out of Georgetown.
