ESQUEUING TOWNSHIP NOW GAME PRESERVE

The Township of Esqueuing has now been declared a game preserve by the Department of Game and Fisheries. Shooting of game in this restricted area will now come under various provisions and regulations, and it will be necessary to have a license to hunt hereafter. Open seasons will be announced through the press and hunters are asked to govern themselves accordingly.

RECORD CROP PEACHES IN ONTARIO AND B.C.

Bumper crops of peaches are being picked this season in Ontario and British Columbia. A preliminary estimate places the 1939 crop in Ontario at more than 650,000 bushels, a 15 per cent increase over the 1938 crop which was a good one and in British Columbia at 143,000 bushels, 10 per cent more than last year. This year's peaches, now on the market, are of the very highest quality for conditions have been particularly favourable for producing large, luscious fruit.

Of all the fruits grown, none is more delectable nor more healthful as food than peaches, whether eaten just as they are picked, sun-ripe from the trees as fresh fruit, in peach salads, or in the many other ways they can be served fresh, preserved, or even pickled. In every way they are delicious. Canadian peaches cannot be excelled for flavour and quality. They can be bought now and until the end of September and are sold in Canada by grade, the grades in the order of quality and size being—Select, No. 1, No. 2 or Domestic and No. 3. The grade mark is plainly indicated on the basket or other container.

HEALTH BEHAVIOUR IN SCHOOL

In Ontario's new program for elementary schools, health has been given a foremost place. Hon. Dr. L. J. Simpson, Minister of Education for Ontario in the last issue of "Health" pointed out that in the new program the goal of health education will be health behaviour—Not what the child knows about health but what he does about it.

In the past, health has been merely a subject for pupils to study so as to be able to answer questions. Often a pupil would pass a test with flying colours but there would be no improvement in his or her health. The new plan is to inspire pupils to do something about their own health.

There will be regular checking of health habits to see that knowledge and practice go hand in hand, along with a carefully planned course of exercises in physical training. The program also implies daily, as well as annual or semi-annual examination of pupils individually. By this means, diseases in their early stages will be detected, as well as deficiencies in height, weight, hearing and sight.

In making provision for education attention to health, Ontario's educational authorities have revised values placed on different studies. For example, arithmetic has long been given first place; now it will be in a possible fifth place of importance. "It has been all too common," says the Minister of Education "to find the fresh morning hours and at least thirty per cent of the day's working hours, as well as the bulk of home work, devoted to this study."

NO SMALL TASK

Next time you have trouble in deciding which new maid or hired man to put to work, imagine having the task of examining some 50,000 persons in more than 1,000 competitions for positions as air cadets, divers, water polo, entomologist, or test pilot and seamstress. Then you will have a keener conception of part of the annual work of the Civil Service Commission at Ottawa, the Dominion's employment agency.

CANADA: 3,475 MILES OF OPPORTUNITIES

One of the interesting facts of the controversy over refugee immigration is that for the first time in half a dozen or more years, some people really wish to come here. When jobs became scarce, we passed an Order in Council on August 14, 1930, barring all except Britishers and U. S. Nationals unless they were wives or unmarried minors joining their family heads in Canada, or agriculturists with sufficient money to begin farming. We soon noted with grim satisfaction that those of us who still had jobs might feel a bit safer because immigration dropped from 165,000 in 1929 to 27,000 in 1931. It continued to drop until it reached eleven thousand in 1935, which was the lowest in the history of the Dominion, as the previous low was 1800. But when only four hundred more came in 1936, some Canadians began to wonder whether anything different would happen if we took down the bars.

Certainly while we have debated among ourselves the pros and cons of letting Europeans make their homes here, the numbers of those seeking admission have fallen away. One of the reasons is that Canada has not appeared since 1930 to be a very promising place to make a living; and besides, employment (by whatever means) has increased in much of Europe, and social security is greater than here. In spite of the crowded conditions in Europe, and in spite of bombing planes there, the only people who have come to our gates in half a dozen years and pounded vigorously to get inside are some refugees with no other place to go.

This wallflower situation of ours will, of course, not continue indefinitely; for, in spite of our bad blunders in making a country, we have not been able to destroy the land although some of the top soil has blown away. The land still measures 3,475 miles from Halifax to Vancouver—3,475 miles of opportunities for perhaps as many thousands of years into the far and shining future. We have experienced lean periods before (there was a particularly bad one in the 1890's) and we shall experience lean periods in the future; but the promise of those 3,475 miles is not to be denied. Others will see these opportunities if we do not. And when they come knocking at our door it would be well to let some of them in, before they or others come with an army and settle our immigration problem once and for all.—The Printed Word.

IT'S HISTORY NOW

The Toronto Star carried the following interesting item on Saturday: "No. 7 Highway, Ontario, has folk-history. At Acton, not far from Georgetown, was born the late Sir Donald Mann, partner of Sir William Mackenzie in the most sensational epic of railway finance Canada ever knew. At Rockwood, next town of any size along the street first came to light the late James J. Hill, who revolutionized railway building in the United States and coined the epigram: "Not the high cost of living, but the cost of high living." At Guelph, a few miles west of Rockwood, Edward Johnson sang his first tenor solos that landed him ultimately in the seat of the mighty as director of the "Metropolitan Opera," the world's highest-spending opera house.

C. Sargent Winner in Business Men's Draw

Chris. Sargent was the winner last week in the Better Business Boom Campaign draw as sponsored by the Lions Club for the merchants of the town, with ticket No. 3912. Two other tickets were drawn—Nos. 2350 and 6831, but the holders were not present and could not be awarded the prize. Ticket holders must be present at the draw to win. Another big draw will be made tonight at 9:30 at the Mill and Main St. corner, so be on hand if you want to win.

The Lions Club will hold this Better Business Boom Campaign open for another week, after which, if the merchants so desire, they may carry it on under their own management.

-THE WOMAN WHO KNOWS ABOUT FISH

CREAMED FISH
Cover fish with water, bring to boiling point and simmer for a few minutes until fish is cooked — use top of stove or oven. Drain fish, place on hot platter with small pieces of butter on top. Return to oven to heat. Just before serving add 1/2 cup cream or whole milk heated. Do not let fish remain too long or cream may curdle. Garnish with parsley.

She has solved the daily problem... because FISH offers a welcome and wholesome change at mealtimes, something the whole family will like. There are over 60 different kinds of Canadian Fresh Fish and Shellfish from which you can choose, either fresh, frozen, smoked, dried, canned or pickled. All of them can be served in an infinite variety of recipes. And... one of the good things about FISH is that it is nourishing, and so easy to prepare! Serve Fish to your family often.
