Not for many years has there been such a complete shake-up-in the personnel of the Halton county council as was evident when the members took their places at the 1940 inaugural meeting held in the court house, Milton on Tuesday afternoon of last week. Interest ran high as to who would be given the honour of being elected as warden of the county. When the council took their seats the following gentlemen were nominated for the office: Mr. George Finney, Nassagaweya, moved by Mr. Wilson, seconded by Mr. Hall; Mr. Rex Hume, moved by Mr. Gilbert, seconded by Dr. Heslop; Mr. W. Mr. Finney, therefore, was unaminously elected as warden Halton county for the year 1940, and was sworn into office by his Honour Judge Munro, who complimented the warden on receiving the highest honor within the gift of the county, and so early in his political career. Finney thanked the council for eleceting him to office, and promised to ful-

Correspondence was read by the clerk, after which Mr. Roy Smith, county engineer, addressed the council with reference to the personnel of the road committee. Mr. Smith explained that members of the road committee need not necessarily be members of the council, but this year the road committee as it now stood established a precedent in county history, in that not one member of the committee was now a member of the council, and it was up to council to give some thought to the new committee to be appointed. The former members had each been appointed for five-year terms with terms of office running out as follows: Mr. Victor Hall, 1941, who had already handed in his resignation; Mr. Hewson, 1940; Mr. Robinson, term expired 1939; Mr. Gordon, 1942; Mr. Mc- ton.

A TIME TO ADVERTISE

"Whenever business faces a crisis." remarks Canadian Business, published by the Canadian Chamber of Comm merce, "the first thing to suffer is the advertising appropriation" Canada is facing a crisis right now, but it not the ordinary kind, as the writer points out. Business is going to be infinitely better."

Industry, commerce, finance and agriculture will be pressed to capacity, we are told to fill the needs of those at home and at war. "In a few months there will be no such a thing as unemployment. Average purchasing power will have increased and so will the average spending."

Canadian Business, therefore, advises that 1940 is not the time to stop advertising. "On the contrary, the opportunity is wide open to invest in realize this from experience and it is H. Lindsay, Georgetown; Mr. W. Tuck, future sales while the going is good. Remember too, that some percentage of excess profits can be devoted to constructive development of business via advertising."

The logic of which is self-evident. With the greatly increased purchasing power of the people; due to the war industries and the demand for war supplies, the appropriations made for advertising should bring particularly good returns.—Winnipeg Free Press.
