—DISCOVER NEW QUALITIES IN STAR'S VOICE
Deanna Durbin sings the most difficult lyric soprano aria, she has ever attempted in Universal's "First Love" Georgetown, on Saturday next, Feb. 17. The selection is "One Fine Day" from Puccini's opera, "Madame Butterfly." It will be the first time this difficult number has ever been attempted from the screen by a youthful singer, and one of the very few times that any professional songstress in her teens has ever performed it. According to Charles Previn, musical director at Universal studios, few singers of Deanna's age have ever possessed the vocal equipment or the stamina property to sing "One Fine Day." Deanna's voice is now "full grown." Previn states: "It is capable of any lyric soprano selection ever written."
In addition to "One Fine Day" Deanna sings three numbers of less difficult nature.
Be sure to see this show on Saturday.
