LIONS CLUB MEET

The Georgetown Lions Club met on Monday evening at the McGibbon Hotel, Chief Kelly in the chair.

The minutes were read by H. J. Heldmann, who acted as secretary.

Lion McWhirter reported on the midweek hockey, sponsored by the club, saying the Georgetown-Hanover game would likely be played on Friday evening at Hanover. If Georgetown is successful in defeating Hanover, a trip to Copper Cliff will probably be the result. Lion McWhirter was asked to continue with the team in that event.

Lion W. V. Grant reported for the drawing to take place on May 1st, to defray the hockey expenses. A silver fox fur is being procured as first prize, and a mixmaster as second prize. Tickets are now on sale.

The club has made donation to the Legion campaign and also to the Salvation Army, and it was decided to contribute also to the collection recently made for the Knights of Columbus Army Huts.

The meeting then adjourned with the singing of the National Anthem.

U. S. FURK IMPORTS WILL BE CURBED

The farmers of this county will be pleased to learn that on Thursday last the Department of National Revenue ruled that the drawback with reference to imported bacon from the United States will not be granted. The result is that the large packers will not make the profit they anticipated from importing bacon from the United States, where hogs are selling from 20 to 40 per pound below Canadian prices. Mr. Teggart, the farmer Minister of Agriculture for Saskatchewan, who heads the Bacon Board has shown he is a man of action.

G.H.S. Production Wins Success in Secondary School Drama Festival

A group of High School actors brought credit to Georgetown at the Secondary Schools' Drama Festival which took place last on Thursday and Friday of last week in Toronto.

The adjudicator, W. S. Milne, teacher of Dramatics at Northern Vocational School, Toronto, gave second place to Georgetown. The finest performance of the "Second Visit" by John Bourne.

Mr. Milne acclaimed the work of Jim Emmerson as the outstanding individual performance of the Festival. He did a tremendously difficult character role in a distinguished and brilliant manner," said Mr. Milne. The contrast between the living and dead was cleverly maintained by Betty Speight and Jim Kelly, both of whom gave a capable and finished performance.

The supporting roles were competently handled by Agnes Reid, Mary Smith, George Perry and Roy Peck. Agnes also received special mention for her convincing portrayal of terror.

"The Second Visit" was the only play of the seven entered which called for complicated lighting effects and the effectiveness of the play was considerably enhanced by the work of the electricians, Ralph Hansen and Fritz DeVries. The stage crew of Herbert Arnold, Bill Clark and George Long also did an efficient job. Mrs. J. L. Lambert directed the play.

The adjudicator said he did not like the play although it had been officially rated as one of the best ten plays of 1934. He remarked that he had seen a similar play by the same author performed in the Dominion Drama Festival but that the G. H. S. presentation was considerably better.

It only remains to say that the play was well received by the audience at Burnynode Collegiate last Friday night.

First place and the cup last held by Georgetown went to Port Credit H. S. who acted "Elmer" a farce which had plenty of movement and hilarity.

Burnynode C. I. and St. Mary's were tied for third place. Other entries in the Festival were staged by East York C. I., Mimico High School and York Memorial Collegiate Institute.

Young People Play Before Large Audience

"HERE COMES THE PRINCE" SUCCESSFUL COMEDY

On Thursday evening last the young people of the United Church Tennis Club presented their play "Here Comes the Prince," in the Gregory Theatre, before a full house. The play was well received and provoked much laughter and enjoyment. The three acts depicted a day in the life of the Halliday family, when they were expecting a visit from a prince.

Taking part in the play were: Kathleen Lyons, Mary Feller, Madeleine Erwin, Noreen Palmer, Marjorie Evans, Ruth Davis, Bruce Kennedy, Stuart Young, Wier Reid, Stewart MacLaren, Robert McMenemy.

Mrs. Annie B. Overend directed the play, and was presented with a lovely bouquet at the close in appreciation of her services.

Between the acts Misses Alva Cripps and Nora Cleave rendered piano solos and duets which were much appreciated by the audience.

HANCOCK-POOLE WEDDING

A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized at the United Church Parsonage, Glen Williams, on Saturday, March 2nd at 1:30 p.m. by Rev. W. H. Bartlett, when Catharine Elizabeth Poole, eldest daughter of Mrs. Laura Poole, Glen Williams, became the bride of Herbert James Hancock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Hancock, Jr., Norval Station.

The bride looked lovely in a street length dress of royal blue crepe, trimmed with royal blue velvet and pink embroidery. Her pink shoulder length veil was held in place by a pink halo. She wore a corsage of pink orchids and lily of the valley. The groom's gift to the bride was a gold locket. The bride was attended by Miss Ethel Smith of Georgetown, who wore a dress of printed wool sheer, with accessories to match. Charles Hancock, brother of the groom, was best man.

A reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Emmerson, Georgetown. After a short honeymoon the happy couple will reside in Georgetown.

NORVAL RIFLE CLUB

The scores made by members of the Norval Rifle Club on Monday night were: M. Atkinson 100, C. Meredith 99, H. Nurse 98, E. McKinney 96, R. W. Hall 95, A. W. Wilson 97, W. Lisk 97, H. Hustler 97, R. Reeve 96, Noreen Hall 95, G. Downes 95.

The Canadian Legion went "over the top" locally in their drive for funds for war service work. The Georgetown objective was $600.00 and proceeds were well in advance of that amount.

The Georgetown Herald Changes Hands

Walter Charles Biehn — New Editor and Publisher

This is the last issue of the Herald under the management of the J. M. Moore Estate. The executors wish to take this last opportunity of thanking the subscribers, the advertisers and public in general for the loyal support they have given this paper and office during the many years of Mr. Moore's proprietorship and subsequently since his death.

The new editor, Walter Charles Biehn, B.A., is a young man, a graduate of the University of Western Ontario and recently a citizen of the City of Toronto. Mr. Biehn is a son of Dr. Charles Biehn and Mrs. Biehn of Chelsey and Windsor. Mr. Walter Biehn was born in Chelsey and considers it his home town. From childhood he has been keenly interested in the newspaper business and whenever opportunity availed itself during his educational career he has sought to acquaint himself with the business by working in newspaper offices. His background in Chelsey has made him familiar with the interests and problems of a town community.

Mr. Biehn is to take over the management at the close of the days business on Saturday, March 9th. The next issue of this paper will, therefore, be under his direction.

Mr. Walter Biehn comes here as a young man to live and to grow with Georgetown. It is his earnest determination to devote his energies, untiringly, to the promotion of the best interests of this community. Through the medium of the newspaper which he edits his opportunities are almost unlimited.

We, the retiring management, earnestly desire that you will give Mr. Biehn into your heart and confidence and that you will give him the same kind of loyal support and encouragement that you have given us in years gone by. In selling the Herald, we have given careful consideration to the type of man that should follow in Mr. Moore's footsteps. We are confident that Mr. Biehn is the man who will, with your co-operation, carry on the fine traditions established and maintained by the late Joseph Moore.

The staff of the Herald will be retained by the incoming editor. We would be remiss in our duty if we did not express our heart-felt appreciation of the work of our manager, Mr. Garfield McGilvray, and his associates—Mr. Leslie Clark and Mr. Reginald Broomhead. It has been as a result of their industry, loyalty and integrity that we have been able to carry on during the trying period of Mr. Moore's illness and since his death. Mr. Biehn's efforts will be enhanced because of the splendid staff he has at his back.

Esqueuing Auditors Report Shows Surplus on Year's Business

The man who never worries, observes the Kitchener Record, has patches on his pants and nothing in his pockets.

Local Council Held Successful Bridge

The Local Council of Women held a very successful bridge and tea on Saturday afternoon. The bridge was held at the home of Mrs. R. Paul, Mrs. Nodwell and Miss Hettie Lawson looked after the guests. The bridge prizes were won by Miss June Frank, Mrs. J. Squires, consolation Mrs. W. McDowell and the lucky chair prize was won by Mrs. S. P. Chapman.

The ladies then proceeded to the home of Mrs. J. B. Mackenzie. Mrs. Hayes received with Mrs. Mackenzie. Mrs. R. Ross invited the guests to tea. The table was beautiful with mauve and yellow predominating. Mrs. Varnatter and Mrs. Francis served the tea for which Miss M. Lawson was convener.

The Local Council are very grateful to the ladies for their support, the proceeds of which to be used in a worthy cause.

ANNUAL REUNION HELD BY CAMP NORVAL GROUP

Some 300 campers, leaders, parents and friends attended the annual reunion at West End "Y" Monday night. The group sat down to supper in the auditorium which was decorated for the occasion. A. J. Franklin, chairman of the Camp Norval Committee welcomed the audience and told of plans for new cabins this coming summer. A Moment's Silence was observed in memory of Magistrate J. E. Jones and Robert McPherson, who passed away during the year.

The programme consisted of readings, moving pictures of camp activities, songs and entertainment features. The closing number represented a closing ritual fire at camp.—Copied from the Globe and Mail March 4th.

EASIER TO PREDICT

The difference between a movie plot and a garden plot is that in the former, one can usually tell what is going to come up.

Re Payment of Accounts Owing the J. M. Moore Estate

Since the Herald changes hands on Saturday, March 9th, the payment of all accounts due the Herald should be made at the office of the Herald up to 10 p.m. Saturday, March 9th, and after that time directly to Mrs. J. M. Moore at her home, Factory and Charles Streets, Georgetown.

Prompt payment will be greatly appreciated.

Intermediates Eliminate Lucknow In Exciting Hockey Play-off

Georgetown Team Too Good for Opponents and Win Handily Here After Tie Game in Lucknow.

In the NEWS of the Week

Manpower for war effort is rapidly becoming a major problem in Canada. With all divisions of its wartime program nicely under way, the country must already face the question, how it is going to get enough men and women to do the job we have undertaken.

Canada's population is not a great deal more than it was in 1914. Yet she is attempting to put just as many men in uniform as during the last war and is embarking on a course of agricultural and industrial production so much greater in extent and volume than last time, it will call for almost superhuman effort to carry it on.

In staking up our actual enlistment of men for military service, many of us have been drawing wrong conclusions. One division of men in England and another in Canada, with apparently no move in sight to put any more in the field, looked small in comparison with the five divisions under arms in 1918.

Mr. Mackenzie spoke last week, that the real situation became clarified. Mr. Mackenzie, speaking in Vancouver, drew attention to the fact that Canada's naval and air force units would be the equivalent of one division, and the personnel needed for the big Empire air training scheme, exclusive of actual fliers, would be the equivalent of two divisions. Thus Canada will have after all about the same number of men in uniform as in the last war.

Such being the case, how are the really able-bodied men to keep up the prodigious amount of work to be required on the land and in the factory?

At Hamilton last week, C. M. Canfield, prominent Canadian business executive, declared that in his opinion every able-bodied man would have to work by the end of 1940 to the seeking. He predicted that in building construction alone, there would be a very heavy increase during the year.

A day or two later, in Toronto, Horace T. Hunter, publishing house president, drew attention to the fact that during 1940 Great Britain was spending $500,000,000 in Canada. Moreover, the Canadian government would be spending one million dollars a day throughout the year for services and supplies, another $395,000,000.

Break this down into actual jobs in every municipality throughout the country and you have an eye-opening picture of the tremendous industrial task facing Canadian citizens.

True to earlier prediction, the general election campaign is going on in a very interesting and competitive way. Apart from the customary personal attacks which are part of most pre-election periods, there has been little indication thus far of violent reactions one way or another among the electors themselves.

One of the more intriguing high-spots in the campaign is the week-end from Premier Mitchell Hepburn at St. Thomas and from Dr. Manion at Winnipeg. Said Dr. Manion: "But let me tell the Prime Minister that most of the best Liberals are outside the King Government and a number of them are ready to join with me in forming a National Government."

Said Premier Hepburn: "I have nothing to say on the matter," when questioned about an Ottawa newspaper report that he was getting ready to help Dr. Manion during the remainder of the campaign.

There is a growing feeling in Ontario that the authorities are treating militant communists with kid gloves. When Douglas Stewart, business manager of the Clarion newspaper which was taken down, was sentenced to a penitentiary term, he remained defiant, said he would use his influence for the Soviet to the limit anywhere. Later an Appeal Court reduced Stewart's sentence to a shorter term in the Reformatory. Last week when Chief Constable Draper urged the Toronto Police Board to close two Ukrainian halls because he felt they were hot beds of subversive activities, a Toronto alderman came forward to plead for the Association. Detective Nurey told the board that some members of the Association had been convicted for sedition, had served penitentiary terms and were still attached to the organization.

Hockey Flash!

A flash hot off the wire says Georgetown Intermediates will meet Simcoe in another round of the O.H.A. play downs. The first game will be played in Simcoe on Friday night of this week, and the return game here next Monday night, March 11th. Watch for posters.

Lucknow was the setting for the first game in the O.H.A. Intermediate hockey play-offs between Lucknow, the winners of the western group, and Georgetown, the winners of group No. 5. The distance prevented a large number of fans attending this game, but there were, however a number who accompanied the team. Reports are that Lucknow has an arena that does credit to the village, and that the home team gave their supporters hope of advancing farther into the play-downs, when they held our team to a 4-4 draw. We understand, Lucknow lead the scoring up until the last period when Georgetown were successful in tying the count.

The return game was played at the Arena here on Friday night and as the score was 4-4 in the first game, and goals counted on the round, both teams took the ice on even terms and both hoping for victory. However, when the battle clouds had cleared, Georgetown were easy victors and tucked a 7-3 score away, and began the hunt of another victim.

The Georgetown team played their best hockey of the season and before a crowd of over 1,000 fans. They literally burned up the ice with their speed and the stickhandling and goal tending came in for extra applause. Baker-George was given the call for the best and most improved player in the game, with "Bunny" Ward running a close second. Playing manager, Orlinton, also comes in for some well-deserved credit, and for the prettiest goal of the game. For Lucknow, Greer was the most effective player and scored their three goals while G. Book on defence worked hard for his team and his fast skating and never say die spirit drew for himself much applause from the fans.

While Lucknow suffered defeat they were a good team, playing clean and creditable hockey. But the better team won and we wish the local boys continued success in their endeavours to annex a championship this year.

Greer for Lucknow gave the home town fans a shiden jolt when he tallied the first goal of the game after but five minutes of play, to put the team out in front, the only time they held that position during the game. It was not long, however, until K. Richardson grabbed a pass from Ward to even the score. Four minutes later Orlinton scored on a two-way pass from Palmer and Hall.

The Georgetown team went on the rampage in the second period and added five goals. Baker-George took Orlinton's pass for the first; Ward soled for the second and scored again on a pass from K. Richardson; K. Richardson and W. Richardson scored the other two on passes from Gander. Lucknow counted another in this period while Georgetown were playing a man short.

In the last stanza play was more even, as Lucknow put their best efforts forth to bring their scoring up to par. However they failed badly, and the team ended the game with a goal apiece. Ward and Greer being the snipers.

And so Georgetown marches on in their quest for further honors. May they continue to add to their laurels.
