LORNE MILLS

Married on Tuesday, February 24th, at Paisley Memorial Manse, by the Rev. G. Wishart, George Ross Wrigglesworth, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wrigglesworth of Lorne Mills to Miss Ida Gilroy, third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Gilroy of Puelnich. They were attended by the bride's sister, Miss Beatrice Gilroy of Guelph and Mr. Wm. Auldridge of Speedside. Prior to the marriage a miscellaneous shower was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wrigglesworth. The evening was spent in progressive euchre, after which little Bonnie and LeVerne Strome presented them with a pretty decorated basket, full of useful presents. Ross thanked their friends in the usual manner. Mr. Crawford Clay of Guelph rendered a number of solos, accompanied on the piano by Miss Moore. Lunch was then served by the hostess and Mrs. Strome of Guelph.

GLEN WILLIAMS

The regular meeting of the Ladies' Bible Class of the United Church was held on Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Bert Hill. The president, Mrs. Jack Addy was in charge of the meeting and there were fourteen members present. Arrangements were made to hold jointly with the Ladies' Aid a St. Patrick's tea and sale of home-made baking.

During the month of February the local branch of the Red Cross handed into the Georgetown Branch: 15 pr. socks, 6 pr. pyjamas, 7 T handkerchiefs, 9 sling bandages, 2 ice bag covers, 12 bed socks (hospital). From the Junior Red Cross, 10 prs. wristlets, 7 scarves. Donated to Polish relief during the month of February $5.00 to buy material to be made up here, 3 quilt tops, 2 quilt batts, 2 quilt backs.

Canada War at War

(Released by Censor)

Overseas Men Go to School
Every opportunity will be given officers and soldiers of the C.A.F. to avail themselves of educational facilities provided by the Canadian Legion War Services, Inc., and the Canadian Association for Adult Education with the stipulation, however, that their military duties must not be interfered with.

Courses are divided into two main groups: those continuing normal education and leading to entry into university and those of vocational nature for civil life. Courses are divided into periods of four weeks. At the end of each period credits are given for permission to complete the course. Certificates of matriculation or proficiency will be given successful candidates and will be kept in the Records Office of the Defence Department in Ottawa. They will be available on discharge.

Government Receives More Contributions

In the course of a day last week voluntary contributions amounting to $1,378 were received by the Canadian Government in Ottawa. Eight of these were from Japanese firms in Vancouver and British Columbia. Other contributions came from the Province of Manitoba. All contributors said they wanted to help the Government carry on the War Effort successfully.

Pay and Allowance in Army and Navy Compare Favorably

According to figures issued by the Department of National Defence, rates in the Canadian Navy compare favorably with those in the Army. A full-fledged seaman, who is married, receives the usual $1.85 per day plus a marriage allowance for his wife of 75c a day, or a total of $2.60 per month. For a six months period of apprenticeship his daily pay may be only $1.50 per day or a total of $45.00 with marriage allowance. Few married seamen belong to the lower rating. Those who are will be advanced to $1.85 within six months. Rates for a private soldier are $1.30 per day, or $39.00 for a 30-day month. If he has a wife she is given an allowance of $35.00, the combined total being $74.00 a month.

Comparative marriage allowance rates for wives and children in the Army and Navy combined with regular pay are listed below:

Wife and one child, Army, $86.00; Navy, $85.50. Wife and two children, Army, $98.00; Navy, $93.00. Wife and three children, Army, $98.00; Navy, $100.50. Wife and four children, Army, $98.00; Navy, $106.00.
No allowance is made in the Army for more than two children. In the Navy allowance is made for children up to four in number.

Six Tons Newspaper Are Examined in Two Months by Censors

Twenty-three thousand publications, an average of 1,200 a week, were examined by the Office of the Examiner of Publications from the end of October to December 31, according to figures released by J. S. Roe, Examiner of Publications. This total represents nearly six ton of newspaper. The work is done in co-operation with the Censorship Committee.

Publications examined, besides those in English and French, represent twenty distinct foreign languages. They are: German, Ukrainian, Russian, Slovakian, Croatian, Polish, Serbian, Czech, Italian, Jewish, Yiddish, Finnish, Swedish, Norwegian, Danish, Icelandic, Hungarian, Greek, Chinese and Japanese. A staff of eleven linguists and editors is required for this huge task.

HUGHES CLEAVER, Liberal Candidate for Halton County.

TO THE ELECTORS OF HALTON:

Since early Sunday morning, September third, when Great Britain and France declared war I have found it impossible to think, politically, Canada's job now is to help win the war.

The stakes, measured in higher terms, are much too high to permit even politics to interfere. In my opinion the great mass of Canadians will vote for the party which will best serve Canada in this crisis. I believe that the voters are becoming quite indifferent to charges, counter charges or dishonesty, of incompetence and the like which are being bandied back and forth. These are to be expected in the heat of an election: most of them have little foundation, in fact and are advanced solely for the purpose of attracting votes. No serious minded person will be led away from the real issues of the election by any such camouflage.

Every Canadian wishes to see our soldiers equipped and properly cared for. No political party has a corner on our "patriotism" in this regard. In every human endeavour, no matter how serious, the mistakes and overights will inevitably occur. Mistakes have occurred and have been remedied as quickly as possible, but there are still many cheap politicians who are repeating unfounded charges as to lack of thinking, as to lack of care for soldiers dependents and as to the health of the troops; charges which have long since been disproven. I suggest to these gentlemen, whom I will not mention by name, but whose names are well known to you that when the contest is over they will find they have underestimated the intelligence of the Canadian public. Certainly they are not contributing to our war effort.

Every thinking person agrees that if Canada is to make her maximum contribution toward winning the war national unity is the first requisite.

We must have the wholehearted support of everyone, irrespective of his color, creed, politics or race. In choosing the party which will best assure us this unity let us examine the facts. Are Canadians unitedly today in support of the war effort, and if so which party has contributed most of this unity?

Over the past few years we have heard leaders in French Canada state that French Canadians would not participate in any foreign European war. French Canadians represent one-third of our population. They are just as patriotic as we are. They stated they were willing to fight in defence of Canada but they positively declined to become involved in a European war.

Then also we have the other extreme group in Canadian life, the British born. This group has so much confidence in the "motherland" that many during the past year have urged that Canada should be committed in advance to support any war which Great Britain should declare, irrespective of the issues involved.

Then in between these two extreme groups of Canadian opinion we have the great mass of Canadians who take the middle of the road view. Careful, clear thinking people who say that war is a grim business and that the cost in human lives is too serious to make premature decisions. They insist upon knowing all the facts. They insist upon weighing the issues and the sacrifice involved before declaring war. Now in the light of these divergent opinions let us see what did happen in the week war was declared. Great Britain and France declared war on September 3rd. The Canadian Parliament was called to meet on Thursday of the same week, having been summoned before war was actually declared. Late Saturday night of the same week, after discussing the war issues, the House of Commons voted for war, with only three dissenters. This remarkable unity, in the light of the divergent opinions which had previously been expressed, did not come about by mere chance or accident. I believe it was brought about by the way in which the King Government met and dealt with the different events leading up to the actual declaration of war. If we had gone too fast we would have alienated French Canadian support and if we had gone too slowly we would have lost the confidence of the masses. Neither of these mistakes were made, and as a result Canada entered the war with the greatest unity ever shown in our history.

Then six weeks after war was declared on behalf of a united Canada, Premier Duplessis in Quebec called a provincial election on the issue of French Canada's participation in the war. He tried to split French Canada from our war effort. In the face of this grave attack on Canada's unity where did each of the two leaders stand. You all know that Rt. Hon. Ernest Lapointe and all of the Liberal Ministers from Quebec took their political lives in their hands and said they would resign if Duplessis won. What did Dr. Manion, the leader of the Conservative party, do in Canada's hour of need. What did he do when Canada's unity was attacked. Canada has the right to judge him on his record on that occasion. He did absolutely nothing. Instead of putting on his armour and entering the fight to maintain Canadian unity he sulked in his tent. No press release, no radio broadcast, and he addressed no public meeting. You all know the results. French Canada came through in no uncertain terms.

Since then we have had two strong evidences of our united war support. The Red Cross drive overshot its objective in November, followed by War Loan which was oversubscribed in three days, and today I state without fear of contradiction that Canada is united in its war effort and the only real criticism we have is from politicians who are out of office and who wish to get into office.

I ask you is there any evidence to support Dr. Manion's claim that he can rally greater support to our war effort than we now have.

Yours Sincerely,
HUGHES CLEAVER.

BALLINAFAD

The regular meeting of the Young People's Society was held in the Church Thursday evening. Ernest McEnery had charge of the "Christians Culture" part of the programme. The subject for the evening was "We Read, Why? What?" Mrs. Stanley Sinclair, Christian Fellowship Sec., took up the subject for her department "Our Quest For Truth." Edith Werne gave an interesting account of the Y. P. winter school held in Milton which she attended, and at which she secured two certificates. Two Indian friends from Southampton favored us with vocal and instrumental music.

The W.M.S. held their February meeting at the home of Mrs. J. P. Kirkwood on Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. A. Foreman presided at the meeting in the absence of the president and also took charge of the Worship Service. Mrs. A. McKay, the supply secretary, read our allocation for the sale for this year. Plans were discussed for the Easter Thank Offering Meeting. The topic from the Study Book entitled "Rural Life in India" was given by Mrs. F. W. Shortill. Mrs. Foreman gave a short talk on Stewardship of Time. "Whatever our work is - in office, factory or home we can worship God by doing it cheerfully and in the right spirit. "Whether we eat or drink do it to the glory of God."

Out of each passing hour I must share. The moments that are there With God, for they belong to Him whose might Give me the day and night; Whose mercy and whose strange miraculous power Gives me this shining hour. Preys me with infinite possibilities, To serve as he served - God upon my knees. I pray Thy help me that I may be true In using Thy gifts as Thou wouldst have me do.

-Grace Noel-Crowell.
