

IN MEMORIAM
WESTON — In loving memory of our precious wee son, Keith, who fell asleep in Jesus, March 12th, aged 8 months.
 No stain was on his little heart,
 Sin had not entered there,
 And innocence slept sweetly on
 That pale white brow so fair.
 He was too beautiful to stay
 And so God's holy angel bore
 Our darling Keith away.
 —Always remembered and sadly missed by Mother, Dad and Brother Royce.

WESTON — In loving memory of our little grandson, Edward Keith, aged 8 months, who passed away March 12th, 1938.
 Could we ever forget the sweet little smile
 We had for just a little while?
 —Lovingly remembered by Grandma and Granddad Weston, also Auntie Gladys and Uncle Steve, Auntie Doris and Uncle Roy.

KORDA'S "THE LION HAS WINGS" DRAMATIZES THE SECRET STORY OF ENGLAND'S GREAT DEFENSES

Alexander Korda's "The Lion Has Wings," a full-length feature which dramatizes the story behind England's defense measures, will have its first showing at the Regency Theatre here on Saturday, Mar. 16th.
 The central theme of "The Lion Has Wings" revolves around the thrilling and exciting exploits of the Royal Air Force, modern winged Mercuries of the present World War. It unravels a vivid and suspenseful drama of the thousands of men who have been trained to man England's mighty air force and to use these powerful machines for death-dealing blows to the enemy. The film starts with a review of Europe's "war of nerves," which led up to Britain's declaration of war against Germany.
 Going behind the scenes, "The Lion Has Wings" reveals how Britain's air army operates. It shows the Royal Air Force in action over the Kiel Canal, when its swift and mighty bombers recently destroyed a German battleship; the munitions factories and other plants making planes, etc.
 This picture stars Ralph Richardson and Merle Oberon. See it at the Gregory on Saturday next.

W.C.T.U.

Friday afternoon March 8th, the regular meeting of the W.C.T.U. was held at the home of Mrs. Wm. Frank, Mrs. A. R. Vannatter presiding.
 The devotional period was conducted by Mrs. Arthur Reeve, who read the Scripture 1 Cor. 1: 18-27 and exposition from the book "Spring in The Valley," which was followed by prayer by Miss Ellen McKay. A beautiful poem "Trust" was read by Mrs. Arthur Spight.
 Mrs. Frank Wilson, Ashgrove, gave a very fine address on Citizenship and a vocal duet by James and Claire Burns was a pleasing contribution to the program.
 Tea served by the hostess brought a very helpful meeting to a close.

—Be on hand to cheer our boys to victory and a trip to Copper Cliff when they play Hanover at the Arena Friday night.

GEORGE C. ATKINS
 Candidate in Halton for the National Government Party.

To the People of Halton:

You have two governments at Ottawa: (1) the Political government which is elected and which is responsible to the people; (2) the Operating Civil Service, which is appointed and is responsible to the Political government.
 The duty of the Political Government is to turn your wishes into policies. The duty of the Operating Government is to turn the policies of the Political government into practical plans and to put them into action.
 When the Political government (at present Mr. King's government) fails to carry out your wishes, and refuses to account to your elected representatives in parliament, it ceases to be a representative or responsible government.
 Democracy cannot exist without a responsible political government, alive to your needs, competent to express your wishes in policies, and always ready to account to you through parliament.

What will happen after March 26, when you replace the government that destroyed the rights of parliament with one that will restore those rights and make your ballot good again?
 First, and most important, that all else you will have restored democracy to Canada.
 You will have a government instructed by your ballot to give effect to the will of Canada for a positive program of production and a maximum war effort.

You will have a government that will rely upon parliament for victorious co-operation.
 You are told by those who cling to power that there are no men in Canada who can replace the cabinet that did not dare meet parliament with its record. (Have you received any other satisfactory explanation of the government's action in calling and dismissing parliament in the same day?)
 It was the desire for power, even at the price of democracy, that destroyed the rights of a parliament that would have revealed the true record. Mr. King did not bring that record to this election. Nor did he bring the record of Beauharnois (Canada's worst revelation of corruption and graft) to you in the 1930 election. It was after the 1930 election that parliament discovered the truth; truth that you could never have discovered except through your elected representatives in parliament. It will be after (not before) this election that the truth will be revealed to you again through your representatives in parliament. You cannot learn the whole truth about any government unless the government faces your representatives and makes an accounting.

Who, you are asked, will carry on when the King government is defeated?
 Who carried on while Premier King was preparing to shut the doors of parliament in the faces of the members? Who has carried on while the government has been devoting all its effort to a political campaign to regain power?
 The operating government (the Civil Service and the War Boards) have carried on. It has carried on even more efficiently than when hampered by a government whose leader goes so slowly that Canada has become impatient with him and lost confidence in his ability to take adequate action.
 The Operating Government (Civil Service and War Boards) will continue to carry on, with doubled efficiency, when the people of Canada elect a Political government that will tell the Operating government to go full steam ahead, as it has so earnestly desired to do.

The Operating government cannot be permitted to decide upon policies, that would be dictatorship. But the Operating government is the means of giving effect to policies laid down by the People's Political Government.

Produce — all we can Give — all we can. Serve — all we can.

GEORGE C. ATKINS

What Canada needs is better policies — whole-hearted, courageous policies to which all Canadians will gladly give their capable and enthusiastic support. Canada must have policies that will truly express our common devotion to a cause that stands for all we know to be worth while — policies that match our might and energies with our life and death problems.
 Canada has the men who can carry out such policies if our Operating Government is given a chance to do its full best.
 In the Department of Finance and the Bank of Canada, you have at your continuing service such men as Dr. W. C. Clark, Deputy-Minister of Finance, and Graham Ford, Towers, Governor of the Bank of Canada surrounded by able associates, who meet the best financial and banking brains of the world with credit to Canada. They will be there when the able Hon. J. L. Ralston is gone. They will carry on with greater efficiency when a Minister of Finance supported by a new government whole-heartedly devoted to our best war effort is elected. Mr. Ralston is an able lawyer and a good Minister of Finance. It is no reflection upon his ability to say that Dr. W. C. Clark, Deputy-Minister of Finance and Mr. Graham F. Towers, both specialists of long training, and wide experience know more than Mr. Ralston. Their advice, assistance and efficient service will be available to Mr. Ralston's successor as they have been to him. Another Minister of Finance, surrounded by associates with better policies, working with a Prime Minister of greater vision and more positive character, could see even better results.
 Mr. H. B. McKinnon, Tariff Commissioner, whose capabilities and industry have made him invaluable in war service, has been a member of the Civil Service under five Ministers of Finance (Robt. Bennett, Rhodes, Dunning, Ralston). All of his experience will continue at the service of a Political government elected to restore democracy to Canada and to preserve it in the world. He, too, is supported by an able staff.
 In the Department of National Revenue, Mr. Hugh Scully, Commissioner of Customs, Mr. David Sim, Commissioner of Excise, and Mr. C. P. Elliott, Commissioner of Income Tax, are all able men in their fields than the Hon. J. L. Ikey, who is able in law. Mr. Ikey can be replaced by a Minister of high moral position.
 These capable Commissioners will continue to carry on for Canada with Mr. Ikey's successor.
 Dr. G. S. H. Barton, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, knows much more about Canadian farm problems, and how to solve them, than does the Hon. J. G. Gardiner, Minister of Agriculture.

Canada would not have imported 30,000,000 lbs of pork from the United States in the past four months if a Minister of greater vision than Mr. Gardiner had told Dr. Barton and his competent associates for production of this pork in Canada. Dr. Barton and his associates will be there to put on a positive production program for Mr. Gardiner's successor. Canadian farmers will do their share. They are eager and ready to produce but they cannot continue to produce unless they can recover their costs. Canada has many men who could serve agriculture much better than the present Minister has served it. A National Government would appoint a better man to office.
 These names of members of Canada's Operating government are a few of the many which might be selected from among the various departments and War Boards at Ottawa. The records of these men, and many like them, prove that the Operating Government is capable of great achievements in carrying out the policies of a National Government with a positive program of production and maximum war effort.
 All that I can do will be done to ensure that Canada will:

ASHGROVE

On Wednesday night, March 6, a large number of neighbours and friends of Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Wilson gathered at their home to say goodbye to them prior to their removal from the community to their new home at Glen Christie. The early part of the evening was spent in progressive euchre, eighteen tables playing. Later Mr. George Currie, acting as chairman, called the meeting to order and after a few remarks in which he voiced the general regret of the community at losing the Wilson family he called on Mr. Walter Brownridge to read the following address:
 Mr. and Mrs. Wilson and Harold:
 It is with feelings of regret that we learn of your departure from this community to make for yourselves a new home and new friends.
 You, George, have lived in this community since early childhood and have always been ready and willing to lend a helping hand whenever called upon and you, Mrs. Wilson, in the short time of your sojourn with us, have earned the love and esteem of this community. We, your neighbours and friends, have met here tonight to spend a social evening in your home and to show you some tangible expression of our good wishes as we ask you Mr. and Mrs. Wilson, to accept these lamps and Harold this flashlight. We hope as you use them your thoughts will go back to your friends and neighbours in Ashgrove community.
 (Signed) Frank Ruddell and Walter Brownridge.
 At the appropriate moment, Mrs. Walter Brownridge and Mr. Frank Ruddell presented Mr. and Mrs. Wilson with the two electric lamps and Harold with the flashlight. Mr. Wilson made a brief response, thanking the assembled friends for their kindness. Messrs. Ward Ruddell, T. Bird, T. Brownridge and F. Wigglesworth were called on to say a few words.

OLD COMPANY'S LEHIGH ANTHRACITE COAL

WHAT IF IT DOES COME FROM PANTHER VALLEY—

ASK FOR IT BY NAME ... What does that mean?
 It means that Old Company's Anthracite is a harder coal. It means that it is packed more fully with heat units. It means that it burns more steadily and more economically.
