Popular CBC Show Returns

On Saturday, April 20, at 9:30 p.m., "Let's All Go to the Music Hall" returns to the air, after an absence of nearly two years. When its originator, George Young, was appointed Regional Representative of the CBC for the Maritimes, the programme was signed-off to the tune of hundreds of protesting letters. Fans from Canada and the States have been joggng CBC memories ever since. Now, "Let's All Go to the Music Hall," in the same jovial spirit and with many of the original stars, and most of all, with the good wishes of George Young, is to take the air, under new leadership.

The programme will be traditional, with all the old songs which gave so many young Canadian soldiers in the last war their first taste of the rollicking fun of the "Alto." Now a new generation of lads in khaki will snap fingers and tap heels to the lulling tunes which brought fame to the ladies of the variety boards in England twenty, thirty, fifty years ago.

Comedians Re-model Current Film "Northwest Passage," Hollywood's technicolor masterpiece of colonial Indian - lighting days in North America, when the British pioneers of this continent battled their way across its wildernesses in search of the western ocean, is the theme of the Woodhouse and Hawkins drama for Friday, April 19th, 10:00 p.m. But you will hardly know the film when the boys get through with it. Deflating Hollywood's Their deadly comedy technique is guaranteed to make the most supreme of super-colossal screen triumphs look like a last summer's picture postcard.

One Thoughtless Moment Activities all over the Dominion on behalf of safer highway travel will be accentuated by a special broadcast which will be produced by J. Frank Willis from the CBC's Toronto studios, Friday, April 19, 9:00 to 9:30 p.m. "One Thoughtless Moment" tells in dramatic form just what misery may result from a selfish or careless move on the highways of Canada. At present, simultaneous campaigns are being conducted in every part of the Dominion, and the co-operation of the R.C.M.P. as well as of the various provincial and municipal police departments across Canada.

Interior Decoration Talk The "art of re-shaping rooms" is not a game advertised by the "putty" manufacturers. It's a practice of clever interior decorators. When a room grows monotonous, the dweller therein cannot throw the room out its own window, but there are other things he can do. "Re-shaped Rooms" will tell CBC National Network listeners how it's done, with or without mirrors, on Thursday, April 18, at 4:15 p.m.

Labour Discussions on CBC Drummond Wren, a pioneer in the field of adult education for working men and women, who has seen the Workers' Educational Association, of which he is secretary, grow from a small group in Toronto to a coast-to-coast organization of thousands of members, will be chairman of a group of three discussions on labour problems - to be presented by the CBC. The first, on Wednesday, April 17, 9:00 to 9:30 p.m., will deal with the important question of unemployment insurance. Jim Rogers, a representative member of the W.E.A., will present the workers' point of view.

Here and There in the Studios At the conclusion of the Spring programme conference of the CBC in Toronto last week, C. A. Taggart, assistant to the programme chief, E. L. Bushnell who is now in England, conducted the visiting representatives on a tour of the Corporation's Toronto studios. J. R. Bortol station manager, played host to the party which included Ira D'Worth, Regional Representative of British Columbia and Richard Claringbull, Regional Representative of the Prairies. E. L. Bushnell, who has been in England conferring with BBC officials and CBC's overseas representative, Bob Bowman, will return to Canada shortly. A young archduke in a dark sack suit is pretty much like any other young man, according to the democratic manner of Felix of Austria who dropped in on the Toronto studios last week. The Hapsburg scion was Monica Murgan's guest during her 11:30 a.m. broadcast of Thursday, April 4, over CBL. Larry Cross is in New York at the invitation of Richard Himber, cafe society's favorite band leader. Larry, who is a popular singing star from the Toronto studios, and who already commutes for one U.S. program, has had several tempting offers for the summer - hasn't said yes and hasn't said no. Frances James, handsome brunette soprano, familiar to network listeners east and west, is to give a concert at the Heliconian Club, Toronto, last week in April. Discriminating audience includes women of all the arts and professions. Bert Pearl, popular chief gangster of international-known "Happy Gang" programme, escaped serious injury in the studio recently when his left hand was slightly crushed. Anti-tetanus injections ordered, but Bert wouldn't be hospitalized until his noon-day programme was safely signed off. Don't look now, but someone took a peek into that top right hand drawer where special events T. O. Wiklund keeps his treasures. Repeating among the souvenirs of a good many exciting broadcasting assignments was a supply of shoe laces, the old fashioned licorice variety. Covered, Wik admitted that he has chewed on licorice sticks for years when casting around for some new idea for a programme. CBC engineers Marcel Henry (Montreal) and E. C. Stewart (Toronto) will not soon forget their own particular Easter Parade. They were in charge of CBC's Mobile Unit No. 2 with instructions to drive to Toronto just when the Easter blizzards descended on Quebec. After a hold-up of four days they set out on a highway that looked like the side of a Swiss ski-jump. During the early part of the trip out of Montreal they travelled on a road cut through ten feet of snow - twice had to dig out the trailer, once had to wait for a tow.

NATURE'S ICE BOX Ken Ferguson, editor of the Port Elgin "Times," reports the first fish story of the year, and it's a dandy. Seems that two boys in neighbouring Southampton were playing on the lake ice, watching the waves break over the banks. An extra large wave caught them unawares, drenching them to the skin. One of the lads felt a snap in the face, and looking down, discovered to his amazement that the waves had tossed up a nice yellow perch.

Investigating further, they found that many fish left stranded by previous waves, had been frozen in the banks. Procuring axes and a makeshift pick, the boys dug out over one hundred pounds of perch which they sold around town, making a tidy profit out of "Nature's Ice Box."

THE telephone is as important a "farm implement" as a plow. No farmer can get along without a plow - and no farmer can make the best of his farm without a telephone. It is the only way in which he can look after his farm and keep in touch with the markets. Enquire about telephone service now - it costs so little.

HEALTH

The annual diphtheria prevention campaign of the Health League of Canada will be launched throughout Ontario during the week of April 7th to 13th, it was announced by Dr. Gordon Bates, director. "Toxoid Week" the name given to the campaign, has been confined to Toronto since 1929, but during the past few years efforts have been made to spread the educational campaign throughout Ontario. In many parts of Ontario, Medical Officers of Health are urging parents to have their children immunized against diphtheria.

Toxoid has been in use in a large number of Ontario cities and towns for several years, and amazing results have been achieved. In several large centres medical authorities have claimed "No deaths from diphtheria" as a result of the widespread use of toxoid. Some cities with progressive public health departments boast of "No deaths from diphtheria for 10 years." In Toronto, through active co-operation with the Board of Health, the Public Schools and the Separate School Board, the number of diphtheria cases has dropped from 1,022 in 1929, to 26 in 1938, and seven in 1939. Two deaths from diphtheria occurred in Toronto in 1938 and one in 1939. In all these cases death could have been prevented through the use of toxoid. Death toll in Ontario from diphtheria 10 years ago was 263. In 1937 the number of deaths throughout the whole of Canada was 369. In 1937, 38 deaths from diphtheria occurred in Ontario. In 1938 the number dropped to 12. Last year there were 7. As diphtheria is especially fatal to children between six months and six years of age, emphasis is placed by the Health League of Canada on watching the pre-school children. One method used in the Toronto campaign is to reach a large percentage of the parents of younger children through sending a message home through the pupils at school. "Death through diphtheria can be prevented," Dr. Gordon Bates, General Director of the Health League of Canada, said. "Life is important enough in peacetime, but in war-time it is doubly important. Canada can make a great contribution toward winning the war by keeping its people healthy."
