Bad Accident Near Town

Six persons were injured in a crash on the 7th Line, Esquering, five miles north of Georgetown, last Friday night. A carload of young people, which included four Georgetown girls, was bound for a dance at Erin. Approaching a narrow bridge, the car driven by Merle Reid of Brampton met a truck directly on the bridge. The two vehicles adjoined. Reid's car smashed off a section of the guard-rail, but fortunately did not plunge over the bridge into the creek eight feet below.

Three of the girls, however, were thrown from the rear seat right over the bridge. The car, a 1931 model "A" Ford was almost a complete wreck. It was removed to A. E. Cripps garage in town, and next day was taken to Brampton.

Damages to the truck were of a minor nature. It was loaded with potatoes, and was driven by Hugh Scott, of Toronto.

Donald Cox, of Brampton, was most seriously injured of the group. He was taken to Peel Memorial Hospital with possible severe spinal injuries.

Miss Doris Herrington of Georgetown, was also removed to the hospital.

The other Georgetown girls, Charlotte Davidson, Elizabeth Wylie and Evelyn Roney were attended by Dr. J. H. Bateman of Georgetown and Dr. W. W. Bardlett of Brampton. Miss Davidson suffered cuts, bruises and shock; Miss Wylie, facial injuries, and Miss Roney cuts and bruises. Driver Merle Reid received facial cuts and lacerations.

The accident was investigated by Constables Oliver and Cookman of Milton and Chief W. G. Marshall of Georgetown.

Barbers Held Conference

A conference of all persons engaged in the barbering trade in the district, including Acton, Milton and Georgetown, was convened in Georgetown last Wednesday by an officer representing the Industrial and Labour Board, under the authority of the Department of Labour.

In the near future, all barbers in the zone designated by this Board, will be operating under the Industrial Standards Act, an act framed for the purpose of better working conditions for both employer and employee. Standard prices and wages will be enforced by the Department of Labour.

The speaker of the evening was Lion Ed. McWhirter, who gave an account of the early history of the paper mill in Georgetown. He told of the four Barber brothers coming over from Ireland in 1822, landing near Dundas, Ontario. Two of the brothers came to Georgetown, and the other two settled in Streetsville. They took over an old sawmill and modernized it into a paper mill. The first business office was in the brick-outwash which adjoins the home of Dr. R. T. Paul.

In those days the payroll was 50 pounds, shillings and pence, and later on the employees were paid in American money. When William Barber died, the business was left to John Joseph and Jim. Eventually John bought the others out and became sole owners of the concern.

By this time the original paper business was broadening. Soda pulp, hewn by hand, was a new product added, and soon sulphite was being produced. In 1888 the business was faced with the problems of lack of water for

Mr. George Leslie Retires as Treasurer of Esquering Township

A Faithful Public Servant of the Township for Forty-Two Years, He has Resigned his Post Recently on Account of Ill Health.

In 1898, Mr. Leslie succeeded Richard Graham as treasurer of Esquering Township. Previous to this time the office of treasurer had been combined with that of clerk, and Mr. Leslie's predecessor was the first man to hold the separate office of treasurer. Former clerk-treasurers included John Murray and Richard Tracy.

George Leslie was born in Chinguacousy Township in 1856, the son of John S. Leslie and Ann McPherson. His grandfather, whose name he bears, came to Canada from County Tyrone, Ireland, and settled near the then village of Georgetown near the site of the present paper mills.

His mother died when George was still a youngster, leaving four other children. Father John S. served on several municipal councils in Chinguacousy Township, and it was from him that young George first gathered his interest in municipal affairs.

In 1881, George married Martha Ann Cook, of Glen Williams. The young couple settled on the site of the present Leslie home on the lot 16, concession 5, Esquering. At that time there was but a rough wooden building, and the land was for the most part uncleared.

Three or four years of hard work and saving money, and the Leslies felt that they could afford a brick building. Enough hardwood was sold to buy brick for the house, and the Bovil brothers from Glen Williams were engaged as builders.

All the woodwork for doors, floors and interior was supplied from nine pine trees which were felled by Mr. Leslie. He recalls that it was a good morning's work to cut down one of these enormous trees, and one log was enough to fill a large sleigh.

In 1888 Mr. Leslie was approached by friends with the suggestion that he apply for the position of Treasurer, which Richard Graham was vacating. At that time Mr. Leslie was acting as a school trustee for Waterloo School Section.

He decided to apply for the position, and was chosen as Treasurer at a salary of $125. Since that time he has filled this position, serving under 24 Reeves. In politics he has been a Liberal.

Mr. Leslie has kept a daily diary ever since he was a young man. It is a real revelation into the life of this man to see these daily entries which he has made—drew orders, went to Georgetown, bought groceries, attended funeral—the simple every-day life of a good man and a good citizen.

Mrs. Leslie passed away in 1927, and a son Roy was a victim of the "flu" epidemic a few days later. A son, Frank, was killed in a motor accident. His daughter, Mrs. G. Laidlaw lives with her father at the family home. There are three other daughters, Mrs. W. Bowman, Mrs. W. Torrance, and Mrs. Jamieson at Queen's University Kingston. Mr. Leslie's only living brother, Jack, lives in Abbotsford, B.C.

Son John C. Leslie lives in Calgary, and during his father's recent illness in Guelph General Hospital, he flew east to see him. John is married to an Acton girl, who was Miss Bell before her marriage, and they have three sons, two of whom are now serving with the C.A.S.F., and two daughters.

An incident which Mr. Leslie will not soon forget is the time about ten years ago when he was trapped in a neighbour's field by a bull. He had gone to bring home some sheep which had strayed there. Suddenly he heard a noise behind him, and turning saw an angry bull pawing the ground. The next fifteen minutes was a nightmare of dodging behind some small thorn trees, warding off the snarled creature. Gradually he worked towards the fence and finally made a dash for spot where the fence passed over a hollow in the ground. He succeeded in rolling under the fence, and escaped unhurt.

Though Mr. Leslie has been ailing for the past few months, we are pleased to report that he is recently much improved in health, and is able to be up and around his farm for a part of each day.

On May 3rd, he celebrated his 84th birthday. Although we no longer have Mr. George Leslie to serve us in an official public position, it is the hope of this community that he will be with us for many more years as a private citizen. It is such men as these who make for a better community.

Lions Play Hosts to Midgets

The regular meeting of the Lions Club on Monday was featured by the presence of most of the members of Georgetown's victorious Midget Hockey Team. Each Lion "adopted" one of the boys for the evening, and this boy sat with his "father" at dinner.

Lion Bill Grant gave a report on the proceeds of the recent draw for the silver fox fur and the mixmaster. Proceeds amounted to $168.35 and expenses of $78.80 left the sum of $79.55 to be used in child welfare work.

The sum of $5 was granted to four local singers who are competing in a Music Festival in Warren, Ohio, this week.

It was reported that Lion Bill King is progressing favourably in Guelph General Hospital, and is now able to sit up in a wheel chair each day.

The speaker of the evening was Lion Ed. McWhirter, who gave an account of the early history of the paper mill in Georgetown. He told of the four Barber brothers coming over from Ireland in 1822, landing near Dundas, Ontario. Two of the brothers came to Georgetown, and the other two settled in Streetsville. They took over an old sawmill and modernized it into a paper mill. The first business office was in the brick-outwash which adjoins the home of Dr. R. T. Paul.

In those days the payroll was 50 pounds, shillings and pence, and later on the employees were paid in American money. When William Barber died, the business was left to John Joseph and Jim. Eventually John bought the others out and became sole owners of the concern.

By this time the original paper business was broadening. Soda pulp, hewn by hand, was a new product added, and soon sulphite was being produced. In 1888 the business was faced with the problems of lack of water for power. A power house was built, and it has been established that the first electricity transmitted in Canada was used in this mill.

In 1911, Provincial Paper took over the plant from the Barbers, and today it is one of Georgetown's most important businesses.

Ed. McWhirter has "gone through the mill" starting in the humblest job until he achieved his present position as superintendent of the lower mill.

Mr. McWhirter was thanked, not only for his remarks on the history of Georgetown, but also for accompanying the hockey team on their successful jaunt to Copper Cliff.

Lion Harold McClure announced that gold and purple crests for the members of the Hockey Team had been ordered, and the team would receive them sometime in the next week or two.

The meeting closed with short remarks by Jim Sargent, Bill Ritchie, Frank Petch and Walter Biehn.

I.O.O.F. Entertains Ladies

I.O.O.F. Ladies' Night on Monday attracted a sizeable crowd of members and friends. The Lady Rebekah's were the special guests of the evening, and Chairman Savings spoke highly of the co-operation which the Oddfellows always receive from the sister organization.

The early part of the evening was given over to an entertainment. Chairman Savings introduced Mr. Ralph Gordon, who delighted his audience with crayon sketches, impersonations, magic, recitation, in the approved style of the old-time Chataqua entertainers. Mr. Gordon has spent a lifetime on the professional stage, and though he is by no means a young man, he still has the art of holding the attention of an audience.

Little Miss Shirley Harrison, dressed all in green, presented a novelty tap-dance. Mr. Joe Young was well-received with a piano solo.

A highlight of the evening was the presentation of a smoker's stand and Brother Hall "for being a good Odd-fellow and a good citizen." Mr. William Long, who made the presentation, recalled that Mr. Hall had joined Or-lion Lodge twenty years ago, and since that time he had been a conscientious worker for the Lodge. "We are sorry to lose him," said Mr. Long, "and we hope that he will come over often from his new home in Alton."

Mr. Hall replied with a few remarks on the privilege of being an Odd-fellow. I have done no more than any Odd-fellow should. I have tried to follow our principle of friendship, love and truth. If every individual and every nation followed these three principles, the world would not be in the terrible condition it is in at present.

Mr. E. V. MacCormack made a presentation of Ronson lighters to Bros. Savings, Walker and Bullivant for their attendance at the Saturday night dances during the winter, thus strengthening the finances of the Lodge.

Lunch was served at 11 p.m., and the latter part of the evening was spent in dancing.
