The unit will proceed overseas shortly, in charge of A. W. Holmes, of the CBC Engineering Division, and is awaited by the personnel of CBC's unit now abroad, which includes R. T. Bowman, of the Special Events Department, communications men Wilnot and Gercom, as well as A. E. Altherr, who will assist Mr. Holmes in the technical operation of the unit. Winter Sports in June
T. O. Wiklund, in charge of Special Events for the CBC in Canada, will lead a party of skiers to the Chalek, atop the Columbia Ice Fields on the edge of the Athabaska glacier, to see just how much the minerals in the rocks up there sizzle up radio waves. This rather out-of-the-ordinary expedition is a preliminary to the broadcast from the Chalek, with the inauguration of the Banff-Jasper highway, July 1. It seems that experiments must be made before a satisfactory short wave pick-up can be made and relayed to the National Network, and the National Engineer Roy Gibson of CBC's Watrous transmitter, CBC, to make tests for the Dominion Day broadcast.

Duplicate Announcements
"One of the most serious causes of sympathy misapprehending in Canada," says John Adakim, Proms producer, "is that every time an English announcer is speaking from the booth in the Toronto arena, a duplicate announcement is being given to the French-speaking listeners by verbal cues on a special telephone circuit to Montreal so that the announcements can be synchronized."

It is something to see the producer tearing out handfuls of hair in a moment of interruption, such as a fourth encore by the artist, delays procedure, and threatens to meet the perfect timing between Toronto and Montreal.

with the war. He stated that he was opposed to any time now being taken to consider unemployment insurance or any other post-war problem. He also expressed grave doubts as to whether the consent of the provinces could be obtained in regard to the amendment of the constitution to permit the federal Government to enact unemployment insurance.

On Monday evening Mr. King gave a summary of Canada's war effort and war plans to date. I regret that I am unable to give verbatim reports of these speeches of our leaders but as my copy must go to the County Press-to-night if it is to be published this week, this is impossible. Mr. King stated that the most accurate means of arriving at a correct impression of the magnitude of our effort was to give comparative costs. In the first eight months of the war Canada has spent over twice the same period of the Great War. Our estimated war expenditures for the coming fiscal year are seven hundred millions as compared with one hundred and sixty-six millions spent during the corresponding period of the last war, an increase of 329%. Since the return of an increase of the Minister from England it has been decided to further increase this amount.

As to the Canadian Navy we are spending thirty times more than we spent in the same period of the last war. In addition to the following ships now in active service:

- 7 Destroyers
- 15 Mine Sweepers
- 16 Anti Submarine ships
- 51 Auxiliary ships

we have ninety new ships now under construction. We now have an active naval personnel of 6814 officers and ratings which will be increased to 11,450 by March 31st, 1941.

On the Air Force we are spending 100 millions as compared to 3 millions during the same period in the last war. On May 12th we had 13,215 of all ranks in the Air Force. In addition to these figures we are spending 350 millions over a period of three years as our share of the British Commonwealth Air Training Scheme. We have built and are building 110 separate
