WHEN WINTER COMES TO CANADA

sports in Canada. Many Americans, of course, spend their winter in their own country, but others, taking advantage of the present rate of exchange which makes every American dollar worth about ten cents more, prefer to come to Canada where they will find a new and stimulating world.
In anticipation of the increased tourist traffic from south of the border, Canadian ski colonies have been springing up like magic from the Atlantic to the Pacific. The snow-clad hills are beckoning to ski enthusiasts who wish to demonstrate their skill on slopes and curves and quick descents, or to those who merely ski for fun and never wish to be too far away from the dinner bell. Canadians have become definitely snow-minded; their infectious enthusiasm for winter sports has spread, and the spirit of comradeship toward those who risk their winter sports, have come much to bring visitors from other lands year after year. Kipling's "Lady of the Snows" is a hospitable hostess and she is sure to be a success for her guests.

HOLY CROSS CHURCH ANSWERS POPE'S APPEAL FOR DAY OF Penance and Prayer

Sunday at Holy Cross Church, a large congregation attended mass and nearly all received Holy Communion in response to the Holy Father's appeal for a day of penance and prayer. The church was visited by many during the day to make the Stations of the Cross and to meditate on the sufferings of Our Divine Lord, to ask for Eternal peace for those who have died in the war, to comfort all those who have suffered through it and to ask God's protection for the Empire and the world. At 9:00 o'clock mass the pastor appealed to the congregation on the significance of the day saying in part:—
"Another call, and one more insistent than any before, has gone forth from Vatican City for a world-wide prayerful effort in behalf of peace. To-day, November 24th, our beloved Pontiff, Pope Pius XII, asks all to petition the throne of Divine Mercy, by prayer and penitential works for the return of peace, justice and Christian charity throughout the world. Among Catholics the tendency has been to recognize the need of prayer and sacrifice to effect peace on earth, and to-day they are making a concerted effort to move God to shower His needed mercy upon best mankind. Some few may pray consistently for peace, but the majority are content with an occasional supplication to their Heavenly Father, unless, as in European lands, they have been made to feel the weight of war's horrors. Too many, also, have vested their faith in men, while they either excluded God from their minds or forgot His omnipotent power. To-day the Holy Father urges all to look above man to the Creator of man and of the world, and to call vehemently upon the only One Who has power to 'bend the wills of men and by His divine direction order the course of events.' Thus, we must intensify and increase our prayers. But prayer, to be most effective must be unrelentingly constant, unbrokenly universal and insistently beseeching. To-day's religious surge will possess these qualities only if every one is instantly obedient to the urging of His spiritual Father to further the cause of peace and protection by prayer, by sacrifice, and by penitential works: 'so as to form an immense chorus of supplication, which rising aloft and penetrating the heavens will win for us favours and the mercy of God.'

DEATH SEPARATES ACTON'S OLDEST MARRIED COUPLE

The passing of James McIntosh at his home in Acton on Sunday, November 17th, separated that town's oldest married couple. Mr. and Mrs. McIntosh would have observed their 64th wedding anniversary on December 6th. Mr. McIntosh was in his 87th year, and though in failing health for some time, his unflinching spirit kept him up and about.
Born at Guelph, a son of the late Thomas and Eliza McIntosh, James McIntosh had been a resident of Acton since 1888. The early years of his married life were spent in Stewarttown and Milton. Up until the time of his retirement a few years ago, he was connected with the leather business, and he was a valued employee of the Beardsmore Company.
For over forty years, he was treasurer of the Acton Baptist Church. He was a staunch Liberal in politics. Besides his widow, who was before her marriage, Mary Jane Graham, he leaves two sons, Frank in Acton and Roy in Oshawa. He was the last member of a family of six.
The funeral service was held on Tuesday, November 19th, with services at the Johnstone & Runley funeral home conducted by Rev. E. G. Baxter, assisted by Rev. H. I. Beattie. Interment was made in Fairview Cemetery. The pallbearers were J. H. Boyd, J. C. Matthews, Charles Franklin, William Worden, E. Cripps and M. McDonald.
