GUEST COLUMN

This week we have decided to turn our column over to a certain well-known gentleman, from up Alaska way, who has a message for all the Georgetown children, — and a special post-scrip for the dads and mothers too — so we advise you all to read this—

LETTER FROM SANTA CLAUS

Hey, kids! Remember me? Remember the fun we had last year. Well, it won't be long now, because the Georgetown Lions Club has given me a very special invitation to drop in and say hello. On Saturday afternoon at 3 p.m., just four days before Christmas, I'm going to drive into town with bells tinkling, pulled by my sturdy steed Nero, and you can't imagine all the good things I have tucked away in my pack for you children... Candy and nuts and oranges and that's only a beginning! No kiddie will be missed. All you have to do is come and ask old Santa for your present. I'll have plenty to go around. And what's more, maybe if you tell me what you want for Christmas, I'll think it over and see if it can be arranged... And say, kids,— don't forget to tell your mum and dad to buy some tickets on the fowl raffle. The drawing will be made in front of the tree, after the presents are distributed—and a lot of lucky people are going to have a free Christmas dinner. Tell them the more tickets the Lions Club sells, the better equipped it will be to help some of you kids next year. Maybe you need a pair of glasses, and dad just can't manage to scrape the money together! That's only one way that the Lions Club uses the money it takes in from these raffles... Don't forget—Saturday, December 21st at 3 p.m. I've got a date with all the kids in town.

S. CLAUS.

P.S.—Tell your mother and dad, too, to do their Christmas shopping in Georgetown. I've been mighty busy this past month in my toy shop up north, but I managed to slip into Georgetown and make a tour of your stores, and I was really amazed at all the nice things you can buy there. If they don't believe me, just tell them to take an hour off like I did and go and see for themselves.

"LET US REMEMBER"

The Prime Minister of Canada: "We shall completely err if, for a moment, we fail to recognize how appalling is the danger which threatens not only Great Britain but civilization, and be smothered thereby to relax any and every effort to put forth the utmost of our strength.

"Above all else, let us remember how formidable is Germany's present military strength. There has never been anything hitherto comparable to it. Let us remember, too, that her great armies are undefeated, that they are equipped with all the machines of modern warfare; that, excepting Switzerland, all of Europe west of the Vistula, and extending from Sweden to Portugal and Spain, lies under her control. Her own resources of factory and mine, of men and materials, have been reinforced by the material power which she has conquered; to her millions of soldiers and workmen has been added the man-power of the lands she occupies, however reluctant the men of Norway, of Holland, of Belgium and of France may be to turn their spears against the breast of freedom.

"Upon the forces of Britain has been placed the greatest task in the history of the world. She has to watch and fight in the sea that surrounds them. She has to fight in the Mediterranean, in the Middle East, in Africa. She has to watch the Far East, in Hongkong, in Singapore. She has to keep India constantly in subjection. Here, at any time, she may find it necessary to send ships and men to meet a new threat to her lines of communication and supply or to face fresh horrors in some distant part of the globe.

"The situation is bound to become increasingly serious as warfare spreads to new theatres and as mutual distribution ceases, as it most certainly will with ever-increasing fury. It is highly probable that we shall witness much of such a nature as well as of war ere the death-grapple with totalitarianism has told its tale.

"No one can say that the world even now, may not be heading for Armageddon. The one thing that under the providence of God may save the world this supreme tragedy is the might of Britain, strengthened, supported and sustained by the power of the British Dominions and India, the help of the United States and such power as it may yet be within the power of other liberty-loving peoples to give." House of Commons, Dec. 2, 1940.

Dorothy Colquhoun is frequently heard over the CBC network presenting talks of particular interest to women. Her next talk is entitled "Turkey Tips" and will be broadcast on Thursday, December 13, at 8:45 p.m. EDT. The talk will give advice to housewives on buying and cooking Christmas dinner.

"IN OUR MAIL BAG"

Toronto, Ont., November 22, 1940.
 The Georgetown Herald,
 Georgetown, Ont.

Dear Sir,
 I am writing to you to thank you for sending me the Georgetown Herald, which is very good. I seldom get home and in the Herald I get all the news here. We have lots to do here with keeping the motorcycles clean, and lots of drilling every day.

I was up at Camp Borden for the summer and it was good to get your paper up there.

Yours sincerely,
 Trooper T. E. DICKENSON,
 2nd Canadian Motorcycle Reg't., Governor General's Horse Guards, "C" Squadron, Toronto Barracks.

November 7, 1940.
 Aldershot.

Mr. Editor:
 I received your most welcome Herald today, Nov. 7. I was glad to see the paper once again as it has been a long time since I saw the last paper from Georgetown. All news from home is just like getting a gold mine given to you, and I appreciate all letters and papers from home.

The novelty of air raid alarms has worn off now as we get on the average of three alarms a day as Jerry flies over here on his way to London which is being bombed regularly as you probably know. So far we have been fortunate enough not to have been the object of any bombing although there have been a few dropped perilously close to here, which have caused the windows to rattle with concussion.

The English people are very fine people and contrary to some reports we have had from Canada the morale of the English people has definitely not been broken. They know without a doubt this war can only end one way and that is victory for us. That England will remain undisturbed and continue to be the by-word of freedom for the world.

I also wish to send my congratulations to Bobby Goldham. He is a swell kid and I wish him all the luck in the world and sincerely hope he continues the good work as it looks as though he is headed to go places in the sport world "Good Luck Bobby."

I also wish to thank Mrs. Roger Guyot and her committee for the very fine gifts they sent me of Canadian cigarettes.

Closing with my best regards to my family and numerous friends in Georgetown, the garden spot of America.

Until we meet again,
 Pte. GEORGE RIDDALL,
 A 27169.

Willie: "What is the difference between capital and labor, Dad?"
 Dad: "Well, son, the money you lend represents capital, and getting it back represents labor."

Three days passed. The merchant saw her come and go each day, and finally, wondering what she was doing all that time down in the cellar, he went to find out. She was working

The saddest thing about Christmas is that the good things are the things that are not given. The good things are the things that are not given. The good things are the things that are not given.
