Home Lake Military Hospital St. John, N. B. February 27th, 1941.

The Georgetown Herald, Georgetown, Ontario. Dear Mr Editor:

.It gives me great pleasure to write a note to you, and also to my many friends. I have not forgotten pleasure of meeting you for the time in your office when I was home on my furlough. Quite often two people have correspondence fore they have met one another, otfen try to picture what we look like. and I had expected to see you weigh-ing about 250 lbs. and about six foot tail. But instead I got quite a surprise to meet a small gentleman; but one who was to the point and willing to listen to those who come to your office from day to day. And I speak for the other boys who enjoy your weekly paper and look forward to seeing it come every week, as it keeps us in touch with the people in general, and the progress of the town. And we do appreclate your paper, as know the extra work it means and each one of us have a different address; and then the Herald comes free to us, so I feel that each one of us bours. On Thursday, March 6th, this should drop a line to say thank you, and wish you every success in your and a half hour programme, "Salute business, as it is not all play to be an to Canada" and the OBC Features editor of a town paper.

As I have had the misfortune of being in the hospital for the last five weeks on account of ill health, I would Canada as a playground for potential like to say a word regarding the great American visitors. Some interesting work that the Red Cross is doing all sidelights on the history which links over the world. For instance, the Red Cross comes once or twice a week to see us and ated in the script and the programme brings us oranges, apples, gum, canincluded a message from Ernest L. dies and magazines, and they have a Bushnell, General Supervisor of Pro- little chat with us. How glad we are grammes for the CBC, who has just to see the Red Cross ladies when many returned from Britain after serving as of us are away from home. In the hossupervisor of North American broad- pital where I am, there are about 150 casts for the BBC during the past poys, and the Red Cross ladies told me they had 500 more boys to see that day who are laid up with colds. I feel the Red Cross are doing a The Northern Messenger offers the marvellous piece of work in this war for Canada, and also for overseas. For myself. I have received socks, etc from the Glen and St. John, and it seems very hard to wear any holes in the toes and heels, and what a blessing, as there are a very few boys who like to mend their socks. Quite often there are notes in the toe of the socks with the maker's name and with pleasure we are glad to acknowledge our thanks to the good ladies. So at this time I am thinking of the Red Cross work you are doing in Georgetown and my home town, the Glen, and district. I feel the Glen deserves great praise for the money and clothing they have to the other, had gone to the home fully. There are many camps in N.B. and one camp has 15,000 soldiers. The winter has been quite mild, with s very little snow, so the boys could carry on with their training. Many of them have been taking courses, and most of the lade are in good condition and anxiously waiting for word to get ready and take a little trip across the sea. When that will be,

I would like to mention when I we home and driving over the Olen road or what they call the 9th line, I was so proud to see it was paved, as I was a chauffeur since 1923 and many a time we had to fill the holes in before we could cross over.
