ASHGROVE

MISS IDA HOOD

On Sunday, March 9, death removed another faithful steward in the person of Miss Ida Hood. Miss Hood was born and brought up at Ashgrove. As she grew into young womanhood she had very high ideas as to what a member of the Ashgrove Methodist Church should be. She became an ardent Sunday School and Epworth League worker. She taught both boys and girls and for a number of years previous to her departure from Ashgrove she was the Bible Class teacher. She was the first and assisted with the post office for many years and used dressmaking as a means of making her livelihood. Although of delicate health most of her life she never complained of this handicap. Her will was lost in that of her Master's and up to the last she was cheery and bright, waiting with calm and sweet assurance for her Lord's call home. It can be said of her, she was faithful to the end.

Those among many others, who are left to mourn her loss are: one brother, Mr. W. H. Hood, two nieces, Mrs. Durward Matthews and Mrs. Clarence Tew, two nephews, W. J. Hood, R. P. Hood, Duggan Hood, and one great-nephew, Fred Matthews, all of Toronto.

The service at Guelph took place on March 11th at the McIntyre Funeral parlour conducted by Rev. George Wishart pastor of Paisley Memorial Church. Owing to weather and road conditions interment did not take place until March 16th. Rev. G. Wishart, assisted by Rev. J. O. Totton of Ashgrove, conducted a service in Ashgrove church followed by interment in the Ashgrove cemetery. The pallbearers were Messrs. Ed. Gray, of Mount Forest; Arthur Ruddle, of Ashgrove; Durward Matthews, Clarence Tew, W. J. Hood and R. P. Hood, all of Toronto.
