Mrs. Paul Barber Honoured at Showers

Several delightful showers were held last week for Mrs. Paul Barber, the former Ruth McNally, whose wedding took place this month.

On Wednesday evening. Miss Isabel Thompson entertained at her home on Main Street South at a linen shower. Cards were played, with Miss Glenna Leslie taking the prize. The gifts were arranged in a pink umbrella, and when the moment for presen-tation arrived, they were released in a shower over the head of the guest of honour. Afterwards delicious refreshments were served by the hostess. Mrs. Hugh Lindsay and Miss Ethel Marshall were joint hostesses at Mrs. Lindsay's home on Saturday evening. when some twenty-five friends enjoyed an evening of briage. Miss Alice Treanor was prize-winner. Decorations were in patriotic red, white and blue. Gifts of miscellaneous linen were presented to Mrs. Barber, after which a tasty lunch was served. On Monday evening, the Daughters of the Church of St. George's, held a social evening at the nome of Mrs. Fred Armstrong, Mrs. Barber was presented with a Colonial bed set, and a presentation was made also to Mrs. "Buster" Marshall who left yesterday morning to take up residence in Hamilton, where her husband has obtained a position with a construction comparty. She received a pitcher and tumbler set. Refreshments were enjoyed afterwards by the group.

HALTON CALF AND GRAIN CLUBS HOLD ORGANIZATION MEETING

The organization meeting of the Nelson Boy Grain Club, the Milton Holstein Calf Club and the Halton Jersey, Guernsey and Shorthorn Chib was held in the Farmers' Building, Milton recently when upwards of seventy Olub members and their parents were in attendance. Following the organization of the three Clubs by Agricultural Representative J. E. Whitelock the meeting was addressed by W. E. Breckon, prominent dairyman of Freeman. Mr. Breckon in congratulating the young men on their initiative in taking advantage of these Club projects, pointed out that a worthwhile herd can, with perserverance, be built up from a small investment. This point was substantiated by referring to an individual in Halton who in a period of five years from an investment of $175.00 which covered the cost of one pure bred cow, three pure bred helfer calves and 1 pure bred bull calf, has built up a herd of ten pure bred females and a herd sire which today at a conservative valuation was worth at least $1000. While admitting that farm prices were out of line with present day conditions, Mr. Breckon pointed out that as a result of the increase in the price of whole milk the revenue this year from a three can quota would be $262.80 higher than the amount received in 1940. "GOD'S BANK AIN'T BUSTED YET" Mr. E. J. Goodier handed us this poem last week with the words "I thought it very good. You need not use it unless you care to." Mr. Goodier, while travelling on the railway one day recently, was handed this poem, neatly printed on a white card. by a rough-looking old trainman, who must have had a good heart underneath that rough surface. The poem, which we reprint here, is credited to a retired C.P.R engineer who signs only his initials "J.W.F." Yes, we thought it very good, too.

"God's Bank Ain't Busted Yet" The bank had closed; my earthly store had vanished from my hand, I felt there was no sadder one than I in all the land. My washerwoman, too, had lost her little mite with mine. And she was singing as she hung the clothes upon the line; 'How can you be so gay." I asked: "Your loss, don't you regret. 'Yes, ma'am, but what's the use to God's bank ain't busted yet." felt my burden lighter grow, her faith I seemed to share; In prayer I went to God's great throne and laid my troubles there. The sun burst from behind the clouds, in golden splendor set; thanked God for her simple words:

'God's bank ain't busted yet." And now I draw fich dividends, more than my hand can hold, Of faith and love and hope and trust and peace of mind untold, thanked the Giver of it all, but still

I can't forget, My washerwoman's simple words: "God's bank ain't busted yet." Oh, weary one up life's road, when everything seems drear, And losses loom on every hand, and Throw back your shoulders, kift your head, and cease to chafe and fret. Your dividends will be declared: 'God's bank ain't busted yet."
