"As We See It"

By J. A. Strang

Romance is not unlike measles, it is apt to break out at any time and in any place. However, we never thought to look for it in a girl's softball team. We always were a little slow that way, never on the watch for interesting happenings like romance. The team hadn't been doing so well that year and new players were needed. But where to get them, that was the question. We also had a girl's basketball team that same year, and one of the girls that played basketball looked like a good prospect for softball. We asked her how she would like to try softball and she admitted that she rather liked the game but knew very little about it. However, she agreed to turn out to practice, which she did. By the way this particular girl had been christened Bridget. What a name to give a girl like her, we always thought. We all called her the latter part of that name, Jet, her very presence had a snap to it that soon had its effect on the team, but Jet herself wasn't satisfied with her progress. On this particular day that we have in mind she stepped up to bat, and it's likely that you know that lull that comes in a ball game after the pitcher has stepped into the box and just before the first throw. It was during this lull that one of the boys that was watching the game, spoke up and told Jet that wasn't the correct way to hold the bat. He was one of those chaps that never has much to say, and even yet we can recall the little that he did say much better than we can recall the remarks of others that were more liberal with them. Perhaps it wasn't so much what he said this day but it was the gentlemanly way that he said it that made it stick. Jet took it all in good part and her reply was, "Come on and show me the proper way then." This chap's name was Murray and he immediately stepped up to show Jet the correct way to hold that bat. He tried to place those hands of hers on the bat correctly, and he told us afterwards that it was like trying to tie a necktie on another boy. Easy enough to do it on oneself but a different story when being it on another. Not to be outdone Murray stepped in back of Jet and putting his arms around her had those hands properly placed at once. It all looked quite correct to us, however, the other girls all say that was the moment that the romance started. We don't think so though. Anyway it wasn't long until Jet could grab that bat the correct way like a veteran. The team commenced then to go places and Jet proved to be the real leader that she always was. It was she that had the correct advice in the pinches, and although she wasn't captain of the team, she was the real leader. You didn't have to be too wide awake to notice that.

The end of the season found our team and the team from Bayton tied for first place and as the season was getting on it was decided to play a sudden death game. We thought the group title was in the bag for sure, however you can't always tell. The score at the end of the first half of the ninth was Bayton 12 and our team 11. The first girl up hit a fly out to center field for the first out. The next batter sent a grounder down the first base line and that made it 2 down. Jet was the next batter up and she knocked a drive out to right field and pulled up at third base. What a hand she got that day. The next batter hit a grounder down the third base line and landed safely on first base, the next batter bunted and the bases were loaded. The picture looked different now. Just before the first pitch to the next batter, we noticed that same lull that we spoke of before. Jet must have been thinking of that other day lull as well. She stepped off the base momentarily and over went the ball and the game was over. We often admired Jet when we were winning but we never admired her as much as we did that day. Immediately she was her old self again and gathering the rest of the team together she led in the three cheers for the winners, beating them to it. It was then that we always thought that the romance started. Murray appeared from some place or other and away the two of them went arm in arm. We always were curious to know just what it was that Murray said to Jet that day. No doubt Jet remembers it anyway.

We should have a proper ending for a story of this kind so we are borrowing a verse of Burns, lifting it bodily from "The Cotter's Saturday Night."

O happy love, where love like this is found,
O heartfelt raptures, bliss beyond compare,
I've paced much this weary mortal round,
And sage experience bids me this declare.

"If Heaven a draught of heavenly pleasure spare,
One cordial in this melancholy vale,
'Tis when a youthful, loving, modest pair,
In others arms breathe out the tender tale,
Beneath the milk white thorn, that scents the evening gale."

NOTICE TO CREDITORS

In the matter of the estate of MARY JANE SLOAN, late of the Village of Glen Williams, in the County of Halton, Widow, Deceased.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that all persons having any claims or demands against the late Mary Jane Sloan, who died on or about the first day of May, 1941, at the Village of Glen Williams, in the County of Halton and the Province of Ontario, are required to send by post prepaid or to deliver to the undersigned Solicitors for Harold P. MacGillivray and Georgina Brown, the Executors of the estate of Mary Jane Sloan, Widow, deceased, their names and addresses and full particulars in writing of their claims and statements of their accounts and the nature of the securities, if any held by them.

AND TAKE NOTICE that after the 14th day of June, 1941, the said Harold P. MacGillivray and Georgina Brown will proceed to distribute the assets of the said deceased among the persons entitled thereto, having regard only to the claims of which they shall then have had notice, and that the said Harold P. MacGillivray and Georgina Brown will not be liable for the said assets or any part thereof to any person of whose claim they shall not then have received notice.

DATED at Georgetown, Ontario, this thirteenth day of May, A.D. 1941.

DALE and BENNETT
Solicitors for the said Harold P. MacGillivray and Georgina Brown.

Noted in town over the week-end were Major John R. Barber, Lt. Paul Barber, Opl. Jim Sargent, of the Lorne Scots Regiment.

When Pte. Orval Rayner and Pte. William Emmerson joined up with the Lorne Scots recently, it made two more father-sons combinations from Georgetown who are now wearing the King's uniform.

Previously we had the Gillevets, father and three sons, who are all serving with the Canadian Army Overseas. Spr. Gilbert Gillevet is with the 1st Holding Unit, R.C.E. while his sons, Ptes. James and Gerald, are with the R.H.L.I. A younger brother, Johnny, is now a private with the Lorne Scots in Hamilton.

Pte. Orval Rayner also has two sons overseas—Ger. Thomas O. Rayner, with the R.C.A. and Tyr. Robert R. Rayner with the 4th Canadian Recce Bn. 4th P.L.D.G. Another son, Pte. Leonard J. Rayner has been with the 48th Highlanders at Camp Borden, and was transferred over the week-end to Hamilton with the Lorne Scots.

Pte. T. S. Warren and Pte. Bruce Harley were among the local men who were transferred at the same time.

Pte. Emmerson has two sons in uniform. Pte. Joseph with the Lorne Scots and John J. E.A. 4th, with the Royal Canadian Navy. In addition to this, Ptes. Steve and Weldon Emmerson, nephews of Pte. Emmerson and sons of his brother, John, are in Hamilton with the Lorne Scots.

Four men in officers uniforms is the record of the Barber family. Major John R. Barber and Lt. Paul Barber, Lt. Paul Barber, Keith and Paul Barber, are all serving with the Lorne Scots.

Four obstons, Lance-Opl. H. F. ("Sheepy"), son of Mrs. William Tost, Cmr. Duncan, son of Mrs. Fred Tost, Pte. Fred, son of Mrs. Emory Tost, and Pte. Pete, son of Mrs. Albert Tost—are also in uniform. The first is overseas with the R.H.L.I. the second at Camp Sussex, N.B. and the two latter with the Lorne Scots.
