Canada goes ALL OUT!

There's a patriotic fervour in Canada. Men are drilling and marching off to war. Factories roar night and day. Trains and ships and planes speed men and materials to their destinations. And the 1941 war-time Canadian National Exhibition will show you much of this excitement. The Navy, Army and Air Force are building giant displays. The Department of Munitions and Supply will show you the "tools of war" being manufactured, before your very eyes—for use by Empire armies. The Red Cross has a magnificent building to itself. Women's organizations will show the work they do for troops and bombed-out cities of England.

These are but some of the war highlights of the most important exhibition ever held in Canada.
