

"As We See It"

By J. A. Strong

IF YOU WERE asked, how many War Savings Certificates each person is allowed to purchase in his or her own name each year could you answer that question correctly? You may recall that the limit was placed at $500.00 when the drive for the sale of these certificates commenced, however, the amount was later on changed to a limit of $800.00 per person, per year. The original folders which stated that the limit was $500.00 are still being distributed. Of course there is nothing to hinder a person purchasing more than the $800.00 a year but anything over that amount would have to be purchased for some other name, such as any other member of the family. Apparently the need of purchasing as many of these certificates as possible is as great, if not greater than ever, and they are a good investment. During the last great war quite a number of people formed the habit of buying bonds, in fact the war gave them their first opportunity to put their surplus money into Government Bonds and no doubt many today are doing the same thing, buying their first Government Bonds. It looks like a good habit to form.

BEING REMINDED of the fact that we are expected to save more, in order to lend more to the Dog-on these days, makes one think of the coming Christmas season with its many demands on the pocketbook. It seems to be the fashion these times to spend and spend to the limit at Christmas time. We buy gifts for some one that we really don't know very well, and all because of the fact that they sent us something last year. We get Christmas cards from perhaps Alberta, signed from Bill and Molly. Sure we like to hear from Bill and Molly but instead of that Christmas card with only their names signed to it we would have liked to have had a real letter from them telling us how they are getting along and of how the children are doing at school. It is nice to get cards alright but after we look at them a couple of times what can one do with them. It might be a good idea to confine our Christmas spending this year to those more useful gifts and to check over the list of those that we had intended sending something to, a little more carefully. At present money seems to be more plentiful than it has been, all the more reason for us to save as much as possible for the leaner days that may lie ahead.

TO THE OTHER necessities that we are unable to get as readily as we once did, on account of the war, is added another item, that of nail polish. If doing without it will help to win this war we are almost sure that it is possible for most of us to get along without it. No doubt you have seen totem poles. There are several in the Museum on Bloor Street West, Toronto, also in the National Museum at Ottawa, and if you have been to the Pacific coast you will have seen plenty of them. The totem poles in the museums that we have mentioned are old poles of course and the dye that was used to color them has become weathered or faded and it seems to blend nicely with the old wood of the pole itself. But totem poles wear out, as do so many other things, and new ones have to take their place and as this is the 20th century instead of dyes for coloring modern paint is used, and now a new house out on the coast may have a brand new totem pole planted in the garden instead of a tree and it is almost sure to be painted bright yellow with scarlet for trimming. We've seen several of this description and they do look striking. Curiously enough when the use of nail polish was introduced it made us think of those new totem poles. Of course we get used to almost anything and today we seldom notice whether nail polish is used or not.

THE HOCKEY season has arrived once more and the chances of this or that team winning the Stanley Cup will be debated over and over again. Right now all the teams in the N.H.L. are going "great guns" whatever that means, that is according to the reporter's idea, but along about January we may discover that some of the teams at least may have been lagging slightly. Hockey provides good entertainment for the fans many of them never having witnessed an N.H.L. game, but they know all the answers in regard to hockey, thanks to the radio. To Foster Hewitt belongs the honor of painting these hockey pictures every Saturday night so vividly that we could easily imagine that we had a seat in the Blue Section at the Gardens instead of sitting in our own room at home. At times we hear the statement made that sport is overdone. We would rather take a chance on a hockey player than on a youth brought up in those countries that only study war games. Hockey players can do their bit when circumstances make it necessary for them to do so, but the youth that has spent his time studying war games, can never play hockey.

Community Hallowe'en Party Enjoyed by Kiddies and Grown-Ups

BAND LEADS PARADE TO TOWN HALL—WAR SAVINGS STAMPS AS PRIZES

Organized by the Lorne Scots Band, a community hallowe'en party was held last Friday night in the town hall. About 9 p.m., a parade formed at the Library, and proceeded along Main Street to the town hall. The Band was in costume, and following came a strange collection of ghosts and goblins, witches, tramps—all the traditional costumes which have marked Hallowe'en down through the years.

Many parents came along to the town hall to join in the fun, and soon the hall was filled with happy shouts, while the Band played on and on for the party. Lieut.-Col. Gordon Cousens and W. C. Biehn acted as judges for costume prizes—no easy job, when one looked around at the hundreds of children. Prizes were War Savings Stamps, and were presented to the following:

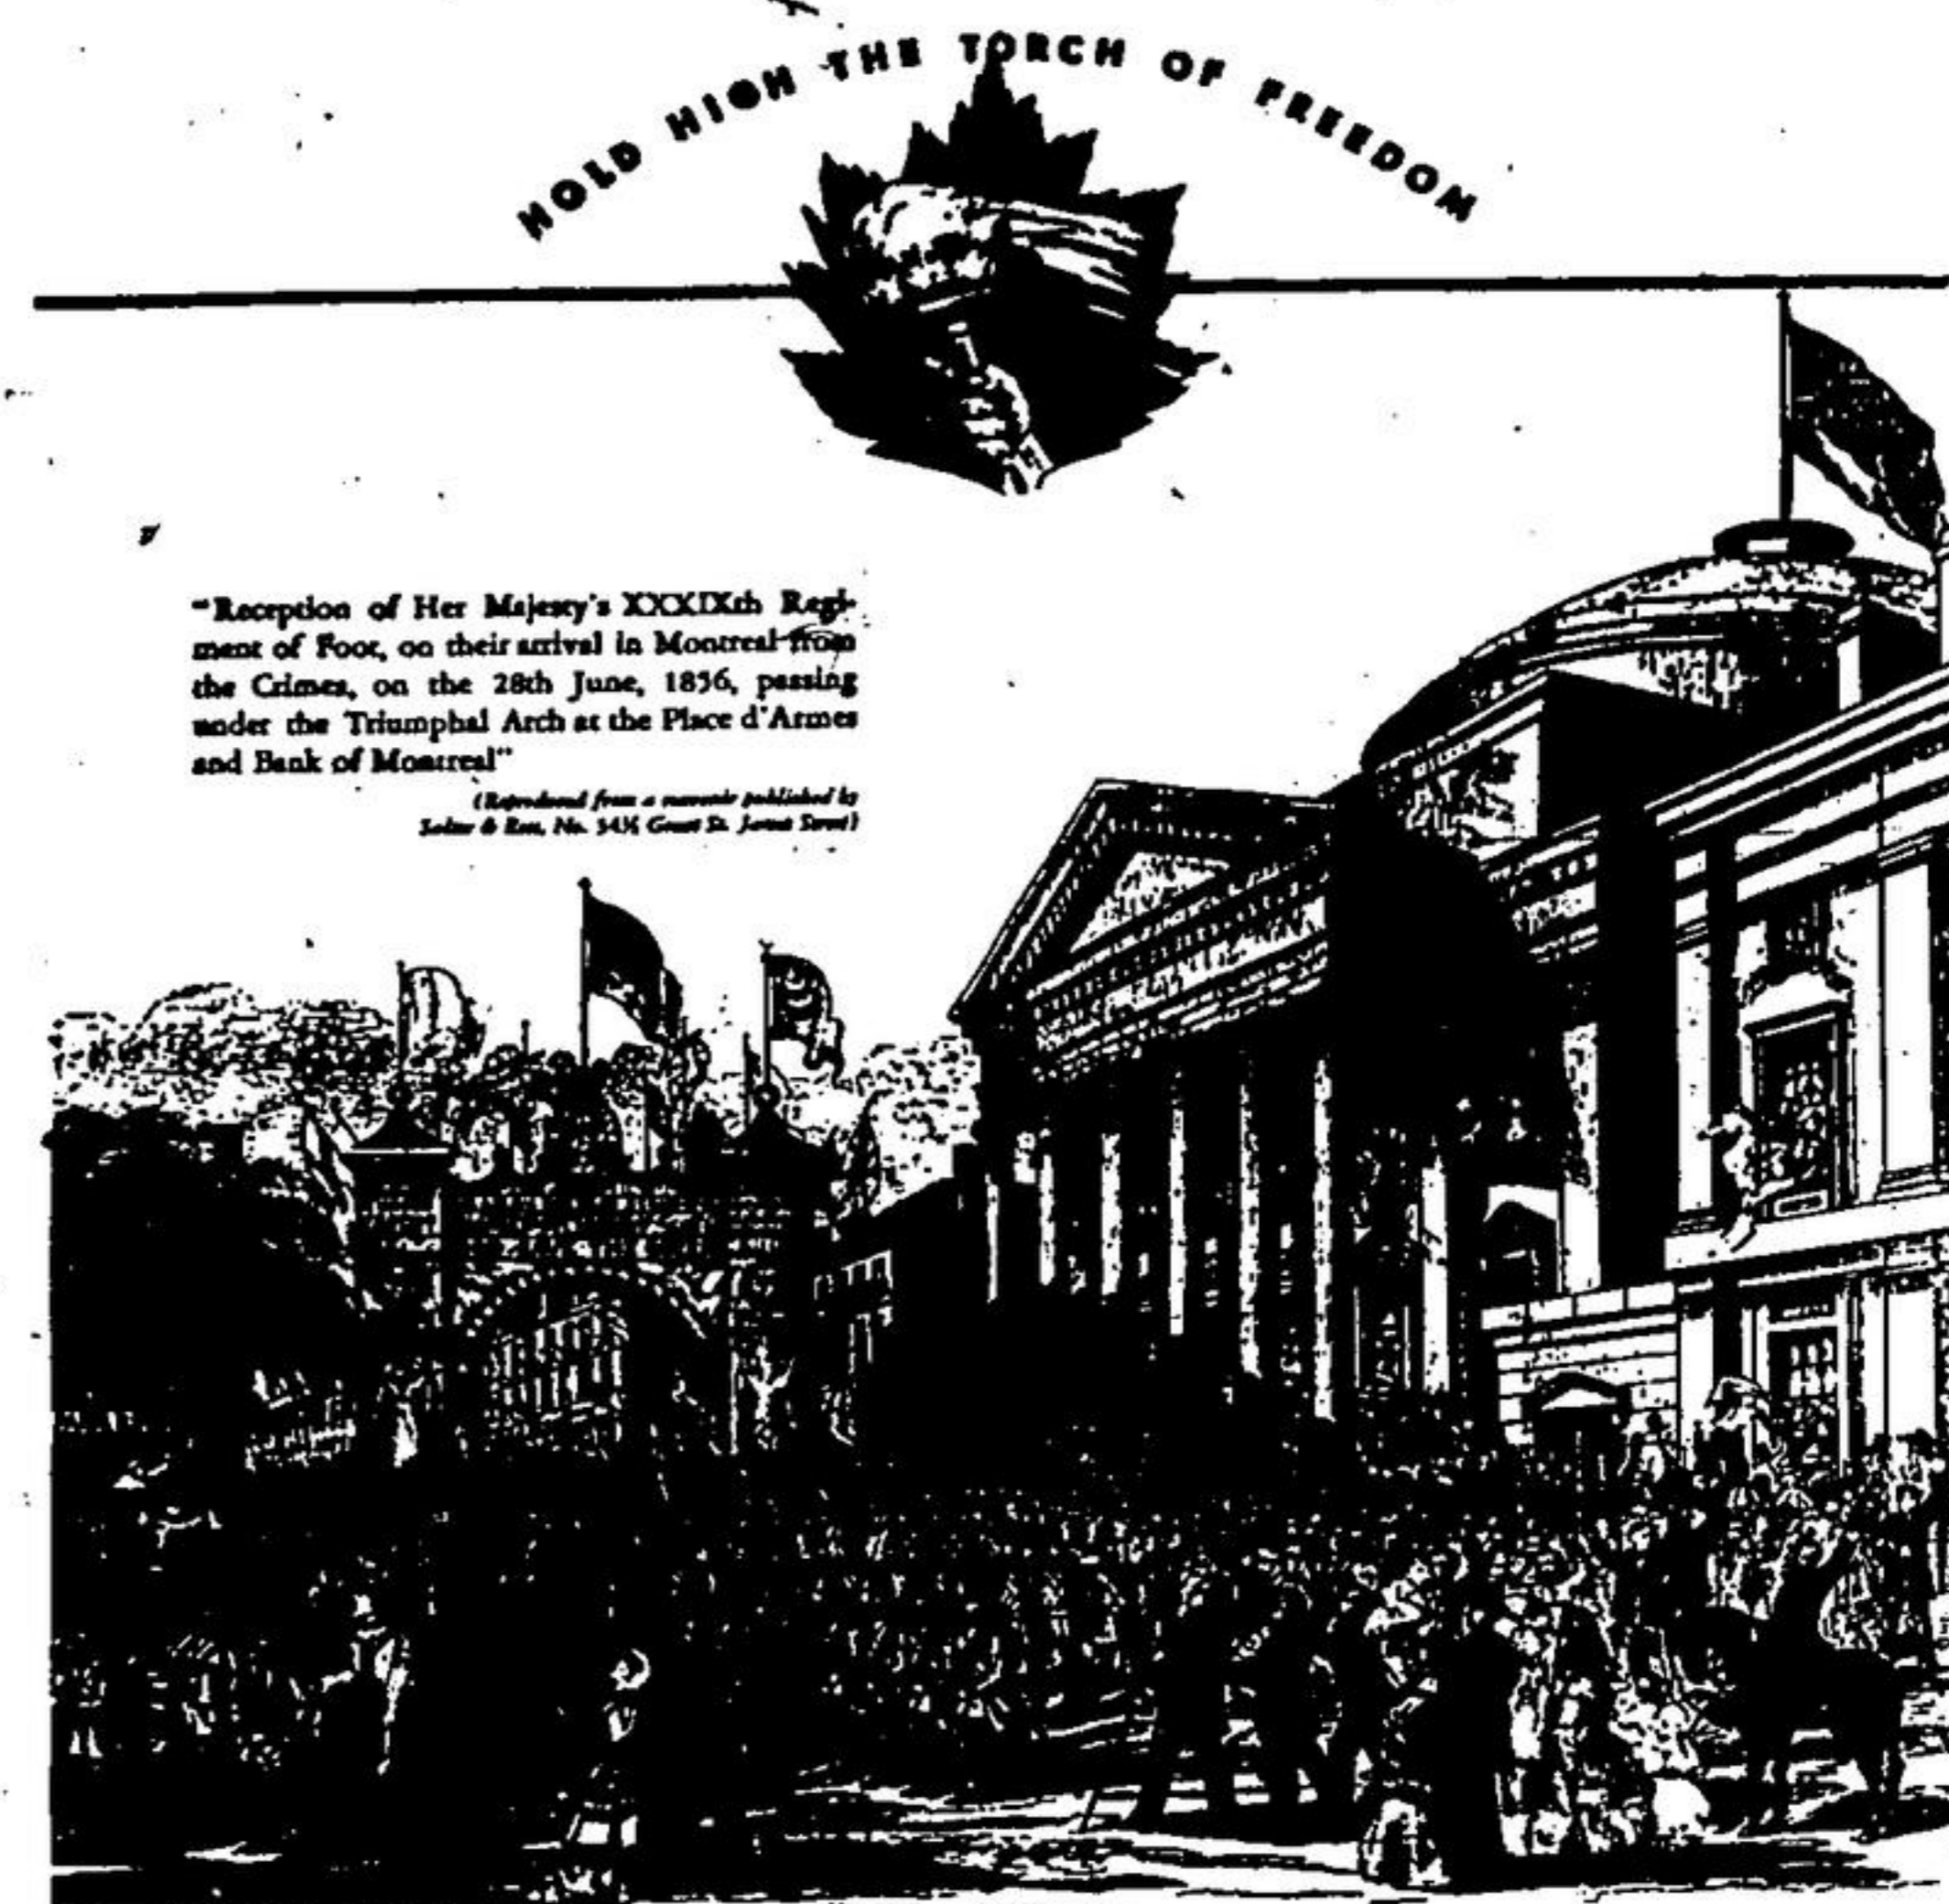

Leonard Tennant, Keith Huffman, Sydney Shaw, Sandra Shaw, Billy Hewitt, Mary Wood, Brock Dillon, Linda Ginsberg, Toots Murphy, Margaret Connely, Jacqueline Beaumont, Pauline Tyers, Junior Haggins, Billy MacCormack, Audrey Dillon, Mrs. T. Harrison, Marjorie Harlow, June Eason, Betty Clarke, Ann Crabtree, June Clarke, Harold Gilmer, Billy Emmerson, Nan Brown, Kathleen Thompson, Melbourne Spence, Mrs. J. Young, Keith Thompson, Donald Brill, Doreen Mulholland, Geraldine Tyers, Joan Lyon, Phyllis Haggins, Buddy Hardman, Romy Ritchie, Bruce Norton, Allan Bailey, Marlene Bludd, Peggy Muir and David Tost.

After this came the balloon scramble, which provided a lot of fun for the young folks, and then the line-up formed for apples, candy and peanuts. Prizes in War Savings Stamps were given to Ivan Huffman, Donald Brill and John Tyers for pumpkin faces. G. W. McIntock was in charge of arrangements for the evening, assisted by a group of interested citizens, which included R. Licata, H. J. Heldmann, Hedley Shaw, H. C. McClure, D. Brill, Councillor Norman Brown, H. C. Wrigglesworth, W. H. Long, Fred McCartney, Donald Latimer and members of the Band.

"Reception of Her Majesty's XXXIXth Regiment of Foot, on their arrival in Montreal from the Crimea, on the 28th June, 1856, passing under the Triumphal Arch at the Place d'Armes and Bank of Montreal"

Living Historic Times With Canada

For just one year short of a century-and-a-quarter—124 dramatic, dynamic, historic years—the Bank of Montreal has lived, worked and watched with Canada.

The Bank has seen war come and peace go, peace come and war depart; shared Canada's struggle through every night of economic depression since 1817; rejoiced to see Canada always triumph over all adversity.

Founded two years after the Battle of Waterloo, the Bank witnessed the Crimean War, the Indian Mutiny, and, with other loyal Canadians, enlisted for the duration in the South African War and World War I, and now marches with the Dominion and the Empire in World War II.

Always, Canada has come through stroger, better, triumphant. May she so come through the present fiery trial. To this end we work and dedicate the institution's service, just as our 6000 loyal employees are working and dedicating their personal services.

OUR WAR WEAPONS DRIVE CALLS FOR ALL-OUT PERSONAL SACRIFICE

● We still have a big job ahead of us. Our objective is coming to life. But, we must speed it up. We must get wholeheartedly behind this National War Weapons Drive. We must increase our regular individual purchases of War Savings Certificates, to the limit. Remember, our soldiers, our sailors, our airmen are counting on us. They've offered their lives. We must give them the weapons. Our community has pledged us all to take a vital part in Canada's war effort. Can any of us turn a deaf ear to the call?
