STEWARTTOWN

The W.I. held another quilting to the council chamber last week.

Several people from here went to Coyne last Tuesday evening to the Christmas concert at the school there where Miss Jenkinson is the teacher. Every one had great praise for the program and reported a good time.

There are quite a number of people in this vicinity who listen in to St. Stephen's Church service Sunday evenings. During the broadcast Sunday evening, Dec. 14th, they were pleased to hear Canon Ward announce that Christina Dickenson, of R.R. 2 Georgetown, had won first prize for an essay entitled "What Christmas Means to our World." The essay will appear in our Stewarttown news next week. Congratulations Christina!

A carol service was held in St. John's Church Sunday afternoon. The church had been very tastefully decorated by the A.Y.P.A. and associated young people. During the afternoon Mr. Colebrook read Christmas's essay which he said fitted in with the spirit of the service. He also told a Christmas story to the children.

Rev. S. R. Colebrook came to the council chamber Monday afternoon and showed to the children gathered there, two sets of pictures. The first was of the Christmas story, and the second was Christmas celebrations in different lands and in different eras. Miss Jenkinson played for the carol singing. At the close of the afternoon each boy and girl was given candy and an orange.

Mr. P. R. Bally and Mr. Bob Scott, of Toronto, were visitors with Mrs. Bally Monday evening.
