Sunset Farms Wins Many Prizes At Owen Sound Poultry Show

W. J. Alexander Also Wins Honors As Northern Event

Sunset Farms, C. E. Harrington's high class poultry breeding establishment, made almost a clean sweep of the major prizes at the diamond jubilee annual show of the Owen Sound Poultry, Pigeon and Pet Stock Association, held last week in that city. A new record was set for the show, with 316 entries in all classes, with entries coming from as far away as Georgetown, Kitchener and Chatham. William Carter, of London, Ontario, veteran Western Ontario poultry judge stated that he had never seen a better lot of birds anywhere, and the public paid tribute to this by turning out in large numbers for the event.

Sunset Farms carried off the trophy offered by the Association for the best bird in the show. This is a challenge trophy and must be returned a month before next year's show. It was a white Plymouth Rock hen that carried off the honor. The same exhibitor had the champion male bird of the show, a Buff Orpington cock, also the best four birds with Buff Orpington, Red, cock, cockerel and hen; another best collection in the light breeds.

"As We See It"

By J. A. Strang

NO DOUBT most of us listen to, and read, more war news than is good for us. We are apt to forget that there are other happenings going on that should interest us. Again we could very easily become gloomy and discouraged, especially when the going is tough for the A. B. C. 's as it has been so often, if we listen too much, and get even if the other side doesn't seem to have the edge on us, to date there has been nothing decisive in their favor. With Russia it has been slightly different as recently they seem to have the edge on the run with not a writer's whim that has ahead. It is a blessing that there are sport pages to turn to, or hockey broadcasts to listen to, even if they do seem trivial as compared to the war situation, with its bombings and blackouts. It has been often and truly said that this is a strange war.

ANOTHER restriction due to the war is the elimination of weather probabilities from the newspapers. We miss them and get even if we did know what the weather was to be like tomorrow, what could we do about it? Mark Twain has been credited with the statement that "Everybody complains about the weather but nobody does anything about it." It seems though that his nephew has gone to the trouble of tracing back this quotation and he has found that it was first used by Charles Dudley Warner in an editorial in the Hartford, Conn. Press and Courier in the year 1890. To date though we have not heard of any restrictions as to the use of the weather to commence a conversation and the old-fashioned habit still is being used of saying "It's a fine day" or something similar to start off with when meeting another person. Anyway that is an improvement over "It's a awful war."

THE BRAND of weather that the weather man dealt out to us last week must have been something that the Western weather that they talk about. Cold, yes, but it is dry and we can't feel it. Maybe if our noses and mouths are not so parched and our throats are not so sore, that many of us would have to admit that the weather man was right. Again the one that has to look out for himself is the busy get-to-work crowd that he doesn't mind his workers at all. Last week's blizzard would just about end the lumberman to perfection. Cold, frosty days with very little snow makes it just about perfect for such operations. Of course the bushy branch is just about perfect for such operations. Of course the bushy branch is just about perfect for such operations. Of course the bushy branch is just about perfect for such operations.

lumbering country there is very little wind anyway. Turning out in the morning during cold weather seems to go against the grain, however, come to think of it, it really doesn't take any longer to get up in cold weather than it does at any other time of the year. Compared to many other countries that we read about these days perhaps we, here in Canada, haven't very much to complain about. We seem to be having more sunshine than usual this winter and there will be no lack about that.

WHEN DRIVING on slippery roads, it isn't difficult at all to pick out the timid driver. You catch up to them and they are driving in the center of the highway and going along slowly, usually. If you signal them, with the horn, that you want to get past they likely as not step on the brakes and we are usually thankful to get past them safely. It is a good idea when driving in the severe weather to forget that we have any brakes at all. When one has to slow up do it gradually if possible letting compression do the trick. A sudden full application of the brakes when the roads are slippery often means a ticket for the ditch. Checking up we usually find that the timid driver on slippery roads isn't used to them and the best cure that we know of is to get out and drive them every day. This is one way to obtain confidence and when we obtain that we are well on the way to safe and sane driving.

WASTE METALS WILL MAKE MORE MORE MORE

MORE steel is needed for more ships, more tanks, more planes, more guns, more munitions.

Canada right now is faced with a shortage of iron and steel. During the first nine months of 1940, Canada produced about 1,600,000 tons of steel ingots; during the first nine months of 1941, she produced more than 1,750,000 tons of steel ingots; during the first nine months of 1942, she MUST produce over 2,000,000 tons of steel ingots.

Steel is not made out of thin air. It is made out of iron ore, and pig iron, and scrap iron and steel. A mill that can turn out 200 tons in a given time using iron ore and pig iron can turn out 500 tons using pig iron and scrap metal.

THIS IS WHERE YOU CAN HELP!
Dig out every piece of scrap iron and steel you can lay your hands on! Get it to Canada's war industries through your Salvage Committee. DO IT NOW! No piece of scrap iron or steel is too small! EVERY POUND COUNTS!
