

Lots Of Action In Girls' Hockey

MARINES BEAT PUNCH PRESS, THE WHITE POTTERY, IN TWO GAMES

With the Intermediates 14s, and the Juniors out of competition, it was up to the girls to furnish us with hockey news last week, and they came across in fine style, with two exciting games. The Herald reporter arrived at the arena last Friday night, just in time to see the teams leaving the ice, and as the "first run" of this paper was not off the press till last evening, we were unable to attend that encounter, so once again we thank one of the team for giving us the information. On Friday night, John St. Marins and Smith & Blone Punch Pressers, played a return match. The two teams had battled to a one-all tie in the first game, and this time John St. pulled a win out of the bag, with a goal by Ethel Krenshand. The John St. players had the advantage with two substitutes, while Punch Press used their six stars for the whole length of the match. John St. Marins—Goal, Kay Boyle; defence, Ruth Goldham and Alice Curtis; centre, Jean Harley; wings, Ethel Krenshand and Marjorie Schena; alternates, Milly Davidson, Mary Cummins. Punch Press—Goal, Joie Curtis; defence, Helen Shephard and Joie Murphy; centre, Marie Wilcox; wings, Betty Honey and Eva Harding. Referee—"Oob" Collier. Last night, the first casualty of the

Friends Will Honor Bob Goldham In Toronto On Saturday Night

Get Tickets Immediately From Fun Shack—Bus Chartered, Many Others Will Go by Car and Regular Bus

It will be Bob Goldham night at Maple Leaf Gardens this Saturday, February 26th, when friends from town will join with Toronto Old Boys, attending the hockey game in a body. Boston Bruins are the visiting team, so fans are assured of a good game, and we know that Bob will be in top form when he knows the dozens of eyes which watched him play hockey in Georgetown not so many years ago, will be cheering him on on Saturday night. One chartered bus is already scheduled to make the trip and all seats on this have been sold. There is a possibility that another one can be chartered, but regardless of this, it is possible for those who wish to make the trip by bus to go on the regular run, and return on the bus which leaves Toronto at 11:00 p.m. Others are planning to go by car, and altogether there should be a big crowd on hand for the game. Tickets in the pews are selling at $2.50 and can be obtained from Percy Blackburn at his clothing store on Main Street. There are also tickets in those compartments with the Toronto Old Boys Association, headed by George Gulling and Charlie Kirk. A presentation will be made to Bob either before the game or between periods. Georgetown's contribution to professional hockey has had a noteworthy role to fame. Attending Northern Ontario's first hockey night at the Toronto Junior and drew the attention of local sports. This year he was playing for Herby Bears, when the call came to join the Maple Leaf roster, and since then he has been giving a good account of himself in defence position. If you haven't bought your tickets for the big night yet, you are urged to immediately get in touch with Percy Blackburn. See you at the Gardens!

THIS AND THAT IN SPORT

By O. "Mac" McElroy

PART of this column was scheduled for last week, but was side-tracked in making room for Hughes Observer's special to parliament, which according to press reports elsewhere was considered one of the bright lights of the present session. WITH THE "B" boys sending "Red" back further than the side line, it seems up to us to take up the cudgels for local sportmen, and to finish out the hockey season. Last week it was easy to step into the breach, with plenty of news on tap, but this week is a different story—no game to report and not much chatter. WE HAVEN'T talked much about our immediate prospects this year, but seeing as it's common knowledge, with everything up and above board, we might give you a few lines in this regard. Playing two nights a week in the Toronto mercantile league, with seven of Georgetown's fifteen players signed this year. Ken Foster, that string line right winger, is our estimation is not only the best stickhandler on the team but the best in the league. He and his partner, centre, Bill McCormack, will no doubt, when the tempo picks up, be the most important players on the team. They play for the Campbell Soup team. Last October (last year) both because he seems so much smaller than his teammates is a product of the Hockey League team. He is an excellent stickhandler and his speed makes him a formidable and very important player on the team. We can't understand how he is at the bottom of the most important team. Rick Bowman, the captain of the Toronto team, is a part-time defence man and plays with people when not in Georgetown uniform. Jimmy Davidson who has been all the last couple of years at Elmira and Melroy. Three players who were on the Georgetown team at different points in the past. They have been playing for Boston Bruins. THE LOCAL boys' club, the team, is now in the first round of the playoffs. Bill Wallace and Frank (who is now in the playoffs) and who play for the local team. The second line is Gordon McMurphy of Halden, who has been in the playoffs, and later played intermediate with Hampton, both helping out. And later reports are that Joe Hall has signed a card, and played his first game in Elmira last week. Joe stayed out of hockey last season, but we believe was in top form for the playoffs. And last, but not least, we have Georgetown's regular net-minder, Reg Hoare, who with the exception of one game, has been holding his end up well, and our sub-goalie, whom we have not been called upon to use this season—Wheldon Emmerson. FERGIE'S hockey team pulled the "prize boner" of the season, when they failed to show up at Elmira on Saturday night for a play-off fixture. Elmira had their arena filled to capacity, and no doubt it was a disappointment to the fans when the Fergie team failed to appear. It's hard to get a complete story on the affair, but it seems Fergie made the trip at 7:30 p.m. The Elmira club said they needed the proceeds of the gate, and would be willing to send cars over for the team; which they did. However, on arrival, it was found that some discussion had taken place in the Fergie ranks, and that three players were out of town and one other refused to play, so the executive could not round up a team. So it looks like another committee member tangle with the O.H.A. and this was supposed to have been ironed out last night in Toronto, but we have not heard how the O.H.A. ruled. In the meantime Georgetown has to just sit back and wait for a play-off date. MILTON Junior "C" team are now in the group finals, and in their first game Monday night with Markham were defeated. Three Georgetown boys are with Milton this season and are giving a good account of themselves—Joe Schertel, Orm, Carter and Jimmy Cofell. We told you in our last column that Schertel was a coming star; now read what "Bunny" Morrison has to say in his column in the Telegram: "Milton came up with a strong club, with Schertel, Gillespie, Schiavazzi and Coats as their big threats. Fans and proofreaders had better get acquainted with Schertel, he is a comer and looks to be a good future prospect for professional company." We stand in awe of the "B" boys, but we believe both he and Bob Goldham played in the N.I.L. Midget hockey finals a few years back. With a little support maybe Joe Schertel will end up in the same category as Bob Goldham. AND SPEAKING of Bob Goldham, have you your tickets for the "Bob Goldham Night" at Maple Leaf Gardens Saturday next? Curiers Entertain Erin Also Britannia Bowlers In Past Week

Georgetown Curling Club were hosts to Britannia Bowlers of Toronto, on Tuesday, February 17th, when eight members of the Toronto club were invited to enjoy an evening of curling. Georgetown friends who had previously been in Toronto for a bowling match at the Boulevard Club. After the curling refreshments were served, with chief O. W. McCallum in charge of the kitchen. On Monday night, two risks from Erin came over for a game, and for the first time in history, the great Billy Bash was beaten in Georgetown. He was defeated by a rich blizzard by Jim Richardson, a rich comrade of Percy Cleave, W. O. Bell and Fred Thompson were responsible for the defeat. The other risk, with O. W. McCallum as skip, included Ernie Thompson, O. W. McCallum and Jack Williamson. The evening ended in a draw, with each risk winning one and losing one. There has not been much action in the curling rink for the MacCormack Cup, led at present by Ernie Thompson, Jim Richardson, W. O. Bell and J. J. Gibbons. The quartette took the cup from Percy Cleave, Harold Cleave, Bill McDaniel and Harvey King early in the season and since then they have successfully defended it twice. They are in line to defend it any time and await some challenge. The Masquers (Continued from Page 1) Theatre amateur group which on the outbreak of war in September, 1939, organized themselves into the first amateur party for troops in training. Since that time, as explained by director Frank Reardon, the troupe has travelled over 15,000 miles, entertained an estimated 100,000 troops and presented their present show 124 times, as well as many others. Cecile Vernon stars. Star of the show was Cecile Vernon, billed as a Canadian Grace. She could not help making a comparison with Toronto's famous show girl, who is doing her share of responsible work in Britain. Miss Vernon's party at her Camp Fire Girls number brought back memories of Miss Vernon's show in Toronto. Her show was a success and pleasant surprise, the show was by Miss Vernon, who was billed as the "Queen of the Camp Fire Girls." Miss Beka Gordinas in an amusing opera burlesque, as the bride in the skit. Here we met with Bill Steele as the girl who was knitting a blanket for Cecil, of the off-stage radio voice for Bill Anderson's amazing cooking skit. Comic acts the show from start to finish and the audience will be long in forgetting her comic talents. Magician John Gormaine made two appearances in his role as a magician, aided in one act by Billy MacCormack and Claude Reid. His clever tricks were enjoyed by everyone, and his infectious personality made him a big hit with the crowd. Grace McCutcheon, a young dancer who has appeared in England, made a solo appearance in a Spanish dance, and presented her "Top Hatters" in a couple of tap dance routines. The aforementioned Bill Anderson was riotous in his cooking act, when he attempted to make a cake, following instructions of a radio cooking school, and again in an army skit titled "A Week-End Pass." Vocalists The show featured two vocalists—contralto Alison Wallace, who sang a Negro spiritual "De Walls Came Tumbling Down" and Irving Berlin's "God Bless America," and Ann McKinney, soprano, who sang "The White Cliffs of Dover" and "Home O' Day." Aiding and abetting the show were Dot Elford, accompanist, and director Rastance, who acted as master of ceremonies, introducing the various numbers. Mayor Gibbons' Spraks During the intermission, Fred McNally, chairman of the Speakers' Committee of the local Loan organization, introduced Mayor Joseph Gibbons, who addressed the audience on the need for buying Victory Loans. In his introduction, Mr. McNally recalled the last time he had addressed such a crowd for this purpose—on Main Street last June during the first Victory Loan campaign, when "C" Company of the Lorne Scots Regiment marched in the parade and were drawn up in review near the speakers' stand. "Now those boys are overseas," said Mr. McNally, "and we are asked to lend our money to see that they are properly clothed, fed and equipped." Mayor Gibbons stated that he considered it not only a privilege, but a duty, to address the gathering on behalf of the Victory Loan committee. He recalled the splendid war effort of the Georgetown district during the past two years. "We are proud of our young men who have offered their services to their country," he said, "and proud of the many organizations and individuals who are doing sterling work on the home front." With the efforts of these men, and such organizations as the Red Cross, the Legion and the Legion W.A., the Lorne Scots Auxiliary and the Soldiers' Comforts, the least we can do is lend. By lending our dollars now, we can help to bring about the peace which we all most earnestly desire. On behalf of the citizens, he urged everyone to do all that is financially possible to make the campaign a success. admirers of Bob Goldham are planning the trip, when a presentation will be made. It should be a grand night for Bob, to play before such a large group of his friends from town, and old boys in Toronto.

Social and Personal

Mrs. Sam Walker was a recent visitor in Trenton with Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Young. J. Duerkop of Naval Headquarters, Toronto, and Mrs. Duerkop, visited with Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Scott on Sunday. Mrs. Ed MacKenzie visited last week end in Belleville, with Mr. and Mrs. Bruce MacKenzie. Mrs. Chas. Vint was taken recently to Guelph General Hospital, where she is undergoing treatment. We hope she may have a speedy recovery. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence McEachern and son Harold, of Orillia, were week end visitors with Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McKee. The many friends of Mrs. Thomas Allen will be pleased to know that she has returned from Peel Memorial Hospital, Hampton, after an illness of a month, and is now recuperating at her home in town. Miss Alva Cripps was successful in passing her vocal test in the recent examinations of the Toronto Conservatory of Music, receiving honours in grade six. She is a pupil of Miss Thomas Capps of Hampton. Mr. A. H. Piller left yesterday for Owen Sound, where he will be employed with the John Kennedy Foundation. Mr. T. Imbraud, of St. Catharines and Mr. Jack Black, both former Georgetown residents are employed by the same firm, which is engaged on war contracts. The St. John Ambulance Brigade held a successful bingo in the Legion Rooms last Friday evening. Mrs. D. Hill, Mrs. O. Gillett, Miss Betty McGowan and Miss Dolores McHenry were in charge of arrangements. All the prizes were donated by merchants and individuals, and a substantial sum of money was raised, which will be used to buy equipment for the work of the Brigade. There were 17 games, including two specials which were won by Mrs. Jack Pyle, Glen W. Wams, and Mrs. William Spencer. Members of the Brigade attended the bingo in uniform. A display of some of the supplies used was on exhibit, and Mrs. T. Graves, Lady Divisional Superintendent, helped with arrangements for this.

Guelph Forfeits Game Last Friday

Georgetown in Top Spot in Group 2—Will Probably Meet Elmira in Finals. It was a disappointing crowd of hockey fans who travelled to Guelph last Friday night for the last leg of a game of the season in the Intermediate B Group 2. Only to find that the O.H.A. was not prepared to play the game. Whatever the reason, no game was played and Georgetown finished the season in first place, with a fine record—seven wins and a tie in ten games. Fans are eagerly awaiting word of the decision of the O.H.A. regarding the Elmira-Fergie game on Saturday, when Fergie failed to show up for the second play-off game. The first semifinal game ended in a 5-2 score for Elmira. It is probable that Fergie will hang up their skates for the season, and that it will be Elmira that Georgetown will meet in a two-out-of-three game play-off for group honours. There's a chance that they may be game here on Friday night, or early next week, so watch for posters and don't say we didn't warn you.

Four Team Church League Kept Busy

On Saturday, Feb. 21st, Holy Cross hockey team journeyed to Guelph where they took on the Sacred Heart team and gave them a trimming of 4-1. The game was clean throughout and good sportsmanship was evident by all players. No penalties were necessary. The Georgetown lads are showing a marked improvement and are greatly encouraged by their first win. The return game will be played at the local arena Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. M. Lorusso and Bob Connolly scored the counters for Holy Cross. Sacred Heart, Guelph—Goal, Don Veroni; defence, R. Daley and Albert Grams; centre, Augustine Zucca; wings, Charles Sheffer and John Chelli; alternates, Bill Hefferman, Charles Sorbole and John McGarry. Holy Cross, Georgetown—Goal, Joseph Gillevet and James Golden; defence, M. Lorusso and Bob Connolly; centre, Billy Muir; wings, Gerard Wilcox and Phillip Carney; alternates, Ken Hulme, James Carney, Ross Boyle and John Tyers.

On Saturday, Feb. 14, St. Joseph's Acton and Sacred Heart, Guelph, also of the same group, played their return game in Guelph, where the Guelph boys nosed out a victory of 3-2.

On Friday evening, Feb. 20, Mr. Coulter, of Guelph, brought his Irish champions of the Church of Our Lady, also of the same group, to Acton to engage St. Joseph's boys, but Arlie White kept his boys so well organized with close checking and back checking that he held the boys with the Harp on their sweaters to a 7-3 win.

The Church of Our Lady team had won the cup and championship of the school groups the same week and much credit must be given them for they are a clean, fast organization, and for the Acton boys to do so well, that fact must not be overlooked. Here's hoping the Georgetown lads will turn the tables on them. The Holy Cross team, Georgetown, and the St. Joseph's team, Acton, expect to have their new uniforms of sweaters and stockings next week, and engage in a home and home royal and victory battle before the season closes. The Holy Cross colors will be emerald with the words "Holy Cross" and large letter 'C' on the breast, while St. Joseph's colors will be the loyal
