The Queen, spraking of the scope of Canadian Red Cross work. said: "We in Britain will always, far into the days of peace, remember with gratitude what the people of Canada, through their Red Orosa Society, have done and are doing for the people of this country and for Canada's fighting sons who are protecting the Motherland." The film is the gift of Colonel R. B. McLaughlin, Oshaws, to the Canadian Red Cross and will be released to major theatres throughout Canada in

Remours Refuted

German propaganda is trying to tell Canadians and Americans that most of the things (sent over by the Red Cross) are sunk, and that 'even if we get them' we don't appreciate them. Well, all I can say is, if MOST are sunk then just millions and millions of garments must have been shipped, for we have thousands of all sorts in Oxfordahire alone." Bo writes Miss Kathleen Body, from Cumpor Hill, Oxford, Eng. to Mrs. Leighton McCarthy, Toronto. Miss Body further testifies to the immense amount of good the clothing parcels do for the evacuees, and gives one case where an unfortunate bombed-out victim, deprived of home and family, regained his own self-respect and a will to carry on, when he had been decently outfitted with clothing from the Red Oross stores.

It may not be generally known that our editor, Mr. Biehn, sends a copy of the Georgetown Heraid to all our boys overseas and in Cenade for whom this request has been made, which we know is deeply appreciated by them and their friends.

ESSENTIAL TO DEFENCE

Loans needed to further Canada's war efforts naturally have priority at the Bank at this time. However, commercial credits for customary peace-time, constructive purposes are being supplied as usual.

The maintenance of a sound, smoothly functioning, normaltimes economy is fundamental to national defence-and banking service has an important part in such maintenance.
